KAISER'S SUBMARINES TO CIRCLE BRITAIN

POLICE LOAF, DRINK, GAMBLE, REPORT SHOWS

Eighty Per Cent of "Beat Travelers" Shirk Duty, Dannenberg Says.

FACTS TO COMMISSION

With the aid of four assistants, W. C. Dannenberg, former city morals inspector, has been shadowing patrolmen and patrol sergeants in nine police precincts during the last ten days. The results of the investigation were presented to the council crime commission yesterday.

Mr. Dannenberg submitted detailed reports on twenty-eight patrolmen, showing they spent much, if not all, their time loafing in such hospitable retreats as saloons, theaters, bakeries, and laundries, only emerging at intervals to make the prescribed "pulls." These men were supposed to be traveling beats, on the alert to prevent criminals from plying their trade.

Only 20 Per Cent Active.

The former morals inspector asserted these cases were typical of 80 per cent of the men on uniform duty. It is his conclusion that only 20 per cent of the patrolmen on the night shift—or about 200 men—are actually performing their duty. Mr. Dannenberg laid the blame for this condition as much on the patrol sergeants and commanding officers as on the men themselves.

Out of four patrol sergeants, only one was found doing patrol duty on a certain night. He spent three and a half hours out of eight in his district. In the case of one patrolman, it appeared a friendly operator had recorded him as pulling a box on his beat, although he had not been near the box.

Play Poker for Cash.

At the Rawson street station the investigators found fourteen policemen playing cards.

"The game being played appeared to be poker," Mr. Dannenberg said. "Money was on the table and the conversations could be heard about losing or winning so much on a certain hand." Mr. Dannenberg said he had stopped a poker game at this station two months ago.

The detailed records on the individual men indicated Gilbert and Sullivan were mistaken when they composed the ditty, "a policeman's lot is not a 'appy one." Nearly every variety of entertainment—drinking, card playing, and the movies, all without cost to the participant—is included in the "time schedule" of the patrolmen.

Loaf in Their "Hole."

The loafing places of the policeman, it was disclosed, are technically known as "holes." Certain instances were mentioned where it was necessary to dig a man out of his "hole" in order to arrest a rioter or search for holdup men. Mr. Dannenberg searched the streets in one precinct for two hours without finding a patrolman. On another occasion he tried for an hour to locate a policeman, then entered three consecutive saloons and found a patrolman in each one of them.

One of the women attending the meeting said the commission offices of her husband, A. H. Schweizer, at 656 West Sixty-third street, had been robbed four times in the last six months. This place is on the beat of one of the men who was found loafing—Pete Bulfin—according to Dannenberg.

Work Done for Commission.

The investigation was undertaken at the request of the crime commission. Mr. Dannenberg was assisted by E. W. Alts, Paul R. Classen, John P. Mortimer, and J. C. Williams. They "piperized" about sixty men selected at random. The "shadowing" was chiefly confined to men who were supposed to travel beat on busy corners or main thoroughfares. Only five of the sixty were found paying strict attention to duty.

Police of the following stations were investigated: South Clark, North avenue, Woodlawn, Englewood, Fillmore, Warren avenue, West Lake, West Chicago avenue, and Sheffield avenue.

Scouts Force Increase Idea.

At the outset of his report Mr. Dannenberg asserted that "one of the chief causes of the various crime waves, such as holdups, robberies, and burglaries of all descriptions, was largely due to neglect of duty on the part of the uniformed branch of the service."

"After finding these conditions," he said in conclusion, "I have very grave doubts as to the advisability of increasing the number of patrolmen. It occurs to me that by so doing it might only serve to increase the number of patrolmen to

300 BRAVE MEN HEAR MRS. ELLIS

1,200 Women Applaud English Lecturer and Sex and Eugenics.

Three hundred fearless representatives of the now obscure sex on which expectant, triumphant feminism pins its hopes for the evolution of superman sat at the feet of Mrs. Havelock Ellis in Orchestra hall last night and listened to her uncensored views on the subject of "Sex and Eugenics."

Sandwiched between 1,200 women, by whose consent they had been permitted to slip past the gates, the men got the full breathless benefit of the much whispered of lecture that had been written in the belief it was to carry to no masculine ears.

The little English novelist, satisfied she had done her duty when she gave the men warning they entered the hall at their own risk, let no single thought on the great soul love go unexpressed. Not one of her masculine hearers, however, was seen to leave the hall or to cover his ears.

Proudest Moment of Her Life.

"This," said Mrs. Ellis, after she had listened to a preliminary talk by Dr. W. A. Evans and had been introduced to her audience by Dr. Effie L. Lobdell, "is the proudest moment of my life. It is my first chance to say what has been in my heart ever since I was 18. I have studied woman and I have loved her. I have been afraid of man. I have tried to understand him and I have been married to a man for twenty-three years."

Thus having introduced her husband—who was present only in spirit—Mrs. Ellis proceeded to read a paper from his pen on "Feminism and Masculinism." At certain points Mr. Ellis' paper sizzled with virility, but compared with his soul wife's own lecture it lacked spontaneity of the combustive sort.

Some Gasps at Start.

"I might just as well have called this lecture 'War and Earthquake,' or 'Heaven and Hell,'" said Mrs. Ellis, launching into her own paper.

There was a significant pause as the speaker drew a deep breath. One hundred and thirty deeper breaths were drawn by the clubwomen's representatives on the platform at her back. Out in front there were 300 gasps and a thousand excited flutterings. The moment had come.

"What really is virile," Mrs. Ellis went on, "is now seen as gross."

With the ice melted Mrs. Ellis plunged into an exposition of the views and thoughts that were to have been the sacred secrets of her sex. She exhorted her sisters to get away from prudery, she excoriated man for his inhumanity to woman. The time is at hand, she said, when supermen and superwomen will see nothing but beauty in the world and when the prude will be regarded as abnormal.

IMMIGRANT BILL FINALLY KILLED

House Falls by Five Votes to Pass Literacy Test Measure Over Veto.

(By a Staff Correspondent.)

Washington, D. C., Feb. 4.—[Special.]—The house this afternoon failed by five votes to override the president's veto of the immigration bill containing the restrictive literacy test.

The vote stood 261 in favor of going over the veto, 136 against, and 2 present. Two-thirds of those present and voting were required to send the measure to the senate.

The vote came at the end of a six hour debate. Such Democratic leaders as Representatives Underwood and Burnett of Alabama, Palmer of Pennsylvania, Kitchin of North Carolina, and Rainey of Illinois voted to pass the bill over the president's veto, while Republican leaders like Representatives Mann and Madden of Chicago voted against the passage. Representative Copley of Illinois was the only Progressive voting against the passage of the bill today.

"Lame Ducks" Aid Wilson.

One of the features of the vote was the switching of a number of "lame duck" congressmen to the president's side. Seventeen members went back on their records of last year.

Congressmen Sabath and Gallagher of Chicago made speeches in support of the veto. Mr. Gallagher said he represented a district composed almost wholly of foreigners and it has as many schools, as many churches, as many banks, as large deposits relatively in those banks, and as many happy families and good citizens as any other district in the city.

CHICAGO POLES APPLAUD.

Discussion of problems affecting immigrants and immigration by representatives of various Polish-American organizations at a meeting in the college room of the Hotel La Salle late yesterday afternoon was interrupted by the receipt of the news from Washington that congress had sustained the veto of President Wilson on the immigration bill.

The news was greeted with applause and a telegram of congratulation was sent to President Wilson by the meeting.

PRIEST MULLEN IS ACQUITTED AS MURDERER

INSANITY PLEA WINS.

The Rev. J. J. Mullen, former priest of the Church of the Holy Rosary and slayer of Thomas Patterson of Hillside, was found not guilty last night by the jury before which he has been on trial for murder.

On Oct. 20 the priest and a friend, Felix Siminoni, went to Hillside to hunt mushrooms. Siminoni wanted to sell cigars along the route, the priest said, and they stopped in several bars and hotels. At Hillside the priest burst out of a saloon and ran into the station and postoffice where Patterson was in charge. He attacked Patterson and stabbed him to death.

The verdict returned last night held that the priest was insane at the time of the killing and therefore unaccountable, but that he had since recovered his sanity.

Jury Out Six Hours.

The jury spent about six hours at its deliberations.

A crowd of about fifty men and women, members of the Holy Rosary parish, remained in the courtroom waiting for the verdict.

The room was tense with suspense when the movements of the bailiff indicated the jury had been heard from.

"They've got a verdict," the whisper ran. A murmur rippled over the courtroom, and then silence settled down again as they waited.

A deputy sheriff was dispatched to bring up the prisoner. A bailiff went to the telephone to notify Judge Dever, who had gone out to a theater.

Judge Reaches Courtroom.

It was close to midnight as Judge Dever, accompanied by Mrs. Dever, stepped into the court room. The jury filed in and Father Mullen was escorted to his seat—the front chair on the defense side of the lawyers' tabl.

The priest apparently paid no heed as the preliminaries progressed.

"Gentlemen, have you reached a verdict?"

"We have," in unison from the jurors.

A woman back in the spectators' benches audibly caught her breath. Bernard P. Barasa of counsel for the defense looked questioningly at the jury box. The defendant still sat coldly immobile.

"Not Guilty."

"Mr. Clerk, read the verdict."

"We, the jury, find the defendant, John J. Mullin, otherwise called John J. Mullen, committed the acts charged in the indictment, but at the time of the commission of said act was an insane person, and that since the commission of that act he has permanently and entirely recovered from such lunacy or insanity." read Clerk Lavin.

At the "not guilty" the crowd stirred.

As the clerk laid down the signed verdict, Attorney Barasa stepped up to the priest and extended his hand.

Mullen Sits Unmoved.

Father Mullen still sat unmoved. He looked up at the lawyer blankly.

"You are cleared. You are cleared!"

The priest came to his feet slowly. Still he could hardly grasp it all. Persons in the crowd surged forward with hands extended toward Father Mullen.

With his lawyers and bailiffs the priest was hurried from the room to the county jail for the formalities of his release. A few minutes later he emerged and was greeted by the courtroom throng on the sidewalk.

Whirled Away in Auto.

There he was bundled into a waiting automobile and whirled away. Friends said that he was to stop for the night with Father Riccordelli, pastor of St. Mary's of Mount Carmel church, 6722 South Armitage avenue.

It was given out that tomorrow or in the near future the priest would go to the Precious Blood seminary—the order to which he belongs—at Carthagena, O. Later, it was said, he will enter a monastery to spend the remainder of his life.

The word of the verdict spread over the city rapidly, exciting wide interest and comment.

Czarnecki Praises Verdict.

Anthony Czarnecki of the board of election commissioners, commenting on the verdict, declared it a remarkable triumph of justice.

"This verdict shows that an American citizen on trial in the city of Chicago can

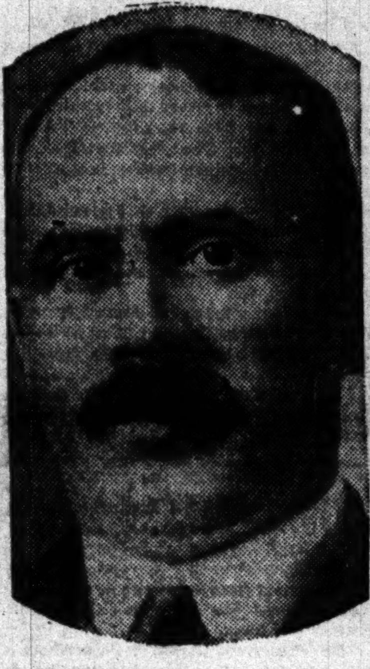
Edward Tilden, Packer and Banker, Dies Suddenly

Doctors Pronounced Condition Favorable; Death Comes After Midnight.

CANCER OF THROAT?

Edward Tilden, banker and packer, died at 1 o'clock this morning at his residence, 5020 Woodlawn avenue.

Mr. Tilden's death resulted from a highly unexpected development in the ailment from which he had been suffering for some weeks.



EDWARD TILDEN.

Infection spreading from a sore on his tongue affected glands in his throat and septicemia resulted.

For several hours early last night the attendant physician, Dr. C. P. Caldwell, was at Mr. Tilden's bedside. At 11 o'clock the physician departed for his home. Shortly after midnight he was called back. Before he could reach the Tilden residence Mr. Tilden was dead.

Mr. Tilden was surrounded by his family at the end. Among those at the deathbed were Mrs. Tilden, the two sons, Averill and Louis; Mr. Tilden's sisters, Mrs. K. M. Hollister and Mrs. F. A. Rice of Delavan, Wis., and Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Tilden, his brother and sister-in-law.

Started in Country Store.

Mr. Tilden started work in a country store. Within a quarter of a century he was one of the clique of great packers.

Mr. Tilden was born in Utica, N. Y., on June 17, 1858, and was taken as a child to Delavan, Wis. After a common school education he started work in the general store.

He moved to Chicago a little later as bookkeeper in a hardware store. Afterward he was assistant cashier in the Drovers' National bank, then treasurer of the canning firm of Libby, McNeill & Libby, and after 1897 president of the company, and also vice president and director of the bank where he once worked as assistant cashier. He was a principal stockholder in the Fort Dearborn National bank, of which his brother, William A. Tilden, is president.

In Many Corporations.

He was a director in a dozen important corporations, was a member of the south park commission, three time member of the board of education, and frequently active in politics. He was president of the school board for one term, in 1905 and 1906.

He was for a time a director of the Chicago and Alton railroad.

Mr. Tilden was a member of the Union League club, the South Shore Country club, the Bankers' club, and the Kenwood club. He maintained a country estate of a most practical sort—Tilden Farms at Delavan, Wis., where his boyhood was spent.

GERMAN ORDER FOR BLOCKADE OF BRITISH ISLES

Berlin, Feb. 4.—Following is the statement declaring a blockade of the British Isles issued by the German admiralty office:

The waters around Great Britain and Ireland, including the whole English channel, are declared a war zone on and after Feb. 18, 1915.

Every enemy ship found in this war zone will be destroyed, even if it is impossible to avert dangers which threaten the crew and passengers.

Neutral ships in the war zone are in danger, as in consequence of the misuse of neutral flags ordered by the British government on Jan. 31, and in view of the hazards of naval warfare, it cannot always be avoided that attacks meant for enemy ships endanger neutral ships.

Shipping northward around the Shetland islands, in the eastern basin of the North sea, and in a strip of at least thirty nautical miles in breadth along the Dutch coast is endangered in the same way.

"Billy" Sunday Branded Profane, Boorish, Shifty

Congregational Organ Says, However, He Is a Christian; to Help Him.

DR. BARTON IS EDITOR

"A profane, bad tempered, unjust, harsh, boorish, shifty, shrewd, ungentlemanly defective Christian."

This is a composite word picture of "Billy" Sunday, the evangelist, and some of the adjectives used in describing him in the leading editorial of the Advance, the official organ of the Congregational church. The Rev. William E. Barton, pastor of the First Congregational church of Oak Park, is editor in chief of the publication.

Despite its caustic criticism of the former baseball player, the editorial announces that should Sunday come to Chicago, the Advance will give his meetings hearty support.

Want Profanity Stopped.

The editorial in part follows:

"We wish Mr. Sunday would do some things in a very different manner than he does. We wish he would stop his profanity. For him to call a thing he dislikes a damned stinking something-or-other, or to say 'To hell with' something or somebody he happens not to like, is just as profane, and morally is much worse, than if the same words were said by a blasphemer on the street. We wish he were a gentleman, and we greatly fear he never will be.

"One of his cheapest stock methods is the abuse of the ministry. He is himself an ordained minister and ought to honor his sacred calling. He has accepted ordination. We think that was a mistake. He is ill qualified for the ministry. D. L. Moody was a great enough man to do his work as a lay evangelist, and he did not abuse the ministry. Mr. Sunday fouls his own nest shamefully.

College Called Misguided.

"Some misguided college has made him a doctor of divinity. We cannot think of any quality possessed by him which does not make that title an absurdity; but he has accepted it. He can never deserve it, but he might make it a little less absurd.

"We wish he were less mercenary. We wish he did not show the rude, abusive spirit which he shows. He is a harsh, unjust, bad tempered man.

"But we think him a sincere man, though a man of great limitations and many sincere faults. Moreover, we think he could get the ear of a large number of the unchurched in Chicago. At any rate, if he comes, the Advance will support his meetings.

Divides Good Men.

"We do not expect to enjoy him. We attended his recent meeting in Chicago determined to approve him, and we could not. We did not like his address, and we were even more grieved by his shrewd shiftiness and boorish rudeness in the conference that followed. Such a spirit as he showed inevitably divides good men.

"We are sure he will do harm if he comes; it is impossible for a man to show the temper he shows, and use the language he uses, and hurl the abuse he flings right and left, and not do serious harm. Mr. Sunday very defective Christian."

GERMANY TO GIRD ENGLAND DESPITE FLEET

Formal Notice of Blockade Announced to the Powers by Berlin.

NEUTRALS IN DANGER.

War News of Last 24 Hours.

GERMANY gives notice of intention to blockade all of British islands with threat to sink all ships carrying supplies.

GERMANS repulsed in furious assault on Warsaw defense lines. Russians gain ground in advance on Thorn.

BERLIN official statement reports important gains by German troops in the Argonne region.

BERLIN, Feb. 4.—Germany today declared a blockade on all waters around the British isles. In an official statement the admiralty warned all neutral shipping to stay out of those waters after Feb. 18.

Every merchant ship of the enemy will be sunk, regardless of whether or not the passengers and crew can be saved, it was stated.

Charging that the misusing of neutral flags was ordered by Great Britain, the admiralty asserted that neutral vessels might be sunk by mistake if they entered waters near the British isles.

RULING OF THE ADMIRALTY.

The statement issued by the German admiralty, after declaring that on and after Feb. 18 all waters around Great Britain and Ireland will be held the war zone, says that every enemy ship will be destroyed "even if it is impossible to avert danger to crew and passengers."

Neutral ships are declared to be in danger "in consequence of the misuse of neutral flags, ordered by the British admiralty."

This misuse, it is said, makes it impossible at some times to know neutral from enemy ships.

MAY RELY ON SUBMARINES.

This means that the Germans are satisfied that they can throw a ring of submarines around Great Britain that will stop all blockade running in spite of the operations of England's great fleet.

Such a move was foreshadowed in the announcement of Grand Admiral von Terpitz when on Dec. 22 he said:

"We can bottle England up and torpedo every English or allied ship which nears any harbor in Great Britain, thereby cutting off her large food supplies."

SUCCESS OF THE U-21.

The success of the submarine U-21 in the Irish sea when it sank three British merchant ships Jan. 30, and followed this exploit by sinking two more in the English channel off Havre the next day, has proved to the German admiralty that their plans can be successfully carried out.

So far the Germans have not brought their largest submarines into action. The U-21 belongs to the 1912-'13 class, of which the Germans have eight.

HAVE RADIUS OF 2,000 MILES.

These underwater craft have a steaming radius of 2,000 miles. Since 1913 they have built a longer type of submarine, carrying a fuel supply that will take them 2,500 miles without refitting. In the last six months, since the outbreak of the war, the forces at the Krupp and Danzig yards have been working day and night on submarines. The public announcement of the blockade indicates that the Germans are now ready to strike with a submarine fleet the size of which no one outside of Germany is able to estimate.

SHOWS A DESPERATE MOVE.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 4.—(Special.)—Germany's declaration that a war zone exists in the waters surrounding the British isles was received in Washington tonight as new evidence of the state of desperation to which Germany is rapidly drifting because of the cutting off of its outside supply of foodstuffs.

It is regarded as a new and far broader proclamation of a blockade than anything of record in international law, and the enunciation of a doctrine more far reaching in its purpose and possible effect than anything heretofore promulgated by one belligerent against another.

It is felt here that the announcement of such a policy as Germany has outlined will be productive of an immediate vigorous protest from the United States.

DOUBT MISUSE OF FLAG.

The threat that German naval authorities would feel compelled to disregard the flags of neutrals flying from merchant or passenger ships because of the alleged instruction by Great Britain to its merchantmen to fly neutral flags as a "blind" to the German destroyers and submarines is not acceptable to American diplomatists, who feel that Germany is advancing too far along lines of belligerency to be able later to justify its course.

At the British embassy it was said that no information received there indicated that any order or suggestion had been issued to British merchantmen that they fly neutral flags for protective purposes.

Members of the senate foreign relations committee placed the declaration of the German admiralty in the category of paper blockades, the validity of which has never been recognized and for which there is no basis in international law.

BEARS ON SHIP PURCHASE.

The bearing of Germany's warning on the ship purchase bill was pointed out by Senator Lodge.

"It illustrates," he said, "the danger that would be confronted by this country by the operation of a government owned line of steamers. A private individual or ship owner can take his chances. It becomes a different matter when the government is involved."

"I should say, without having looked into the question thoroughly," said Senator Hitchcock, a member of the foreign relations committee, "that the declaration of the German admiralty that the waters around Great Britain and Ireland are to be considered a war zone is unusual and without precedent. The warning that neutral ships found in those waters will also be in danger will probably evoke protests from the neutral governments, but I do not see that anything can be done about it unless they choose to go to war. This is a time when precedents are being made. It is evidently an effort to shut off the English food supply."

WARNED OFF FRENCH COAST.

The following announcement was made at the state department today:

"The department has received a telegram from the American ambassador at Berlin, dated Feb. 2, stating that the German admiralty has issued a proclamation urgently warning all merchant vessels not to approach the north and west coasts of France, as it is the intention of the German government to use all the means of war which it has at its disposal against British troop ships and ammunition shipments to France.

"The German government recommends that merchant vessels bound for the North sea take the north of Scotland course."

BRITAIN PLANS REPRISALS.

LONDON, Feb. 4.—"The apparent intention of the German government to sink merchant ships by submarines," says a statement from the foreign office, "without bringing them into port or providing accommodation for their crews, and regardless of the loss of civilian lives, and the attempt to effect this even against a hospital ship, has raised seriously the question whether Great Britain should adopt in retaliation more stringent measures against German trade.

"It is recognized that when any such decision to this effect is reached due care must be taken not to inflict loss upon neutral ships which have sailed before any warning has been given or decision announced."

Ask Food Price Control.

In view of the increased cost of food, which is due almost entirely to high freight rates, and the congestion of goods at the docks, members of the corporations of Glasgow, Liverpool, and other cities in the kingdom today proposed the passage of resolutions for the framing of a petition to the government in favor of government control of foodstuffs and coal and the shipping service.

While the resolution was defeated, those present at the meeting expressed strong views that immediate action by the government was necessary, as wheat, flour, and coal are daily increasing in price.

Great Britain has decided that if the American steamer Wilhelmina, now on its way with a cargo of foodstuffs for Germany, is intercepted, its cargo will be submitted to a prize court, so that the new situation arising out of the action of Germany in ordering that all grain and flour shall be placed under control of the government may be regularized. In a statement on the Wilhelmina issued tonight, the British foreign office says:

Germany to Control Imports.

"The new German decree makes it evident that all grain and flour is to pass under control of the German government and it must, therefore, when imported, be regarded as virtually consigned to the German government or to the authorities under their control.

"This creates a novel situation and it is probable that if the destination and cargo of the Wilhelmina are, as supposed, the cargo will, if the vessel is intercepted, be submitted to a prize court in order that the new situation created by the German decree may be examined and a decision reached upon it after full consideration.

"There is no question of taking any proceedings against the vessel and the owners of the vessel will be indemnified for any delay caused to it, and the shippers of the cargo compensated for any loss caused by the action of the British authorities."

Wilson Rebukes German Pastor.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 4.—[Special.]—President Wilson today advised a German-American citizen to put his German prefix after his American citizenship in his thoughts with respect to the European war.

The citizen, the Rev. Dr. Frederick Bente of St. Louis, representing a German-American society there, called on the president to ask him to place an embargo on the shipment of munitions of war and food supplies to England.

President Wilson took occasion to say to his caller that the activities of numerous pro-German and pro-English and other hyphenated societies in this country are greatly embarrassing the administration in its attempt to handle the war situation. He urged Dr. Bente to think of the United States first in all of his activities.

Dr. Bente is in Washington for the purpose of urging congressional action on the embargo propositions he advocated at the White House today.

ASKS AMERICAN SUPERVISION.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 4.—Much interest was manifested at the state department today in the proposal of Count Bernstorff, the German ambassador, that an American consular officer supervise the distribution of the cargo of foodstuffs on the American steamer Wilhelmina to make sure that they reached the civilian population and not the armed forces of Germany.

As the Wilhelmina is now on the high seas and the British government has announced its purpose of detaining it and bringing it into port to buy the cargo, diplomatic negotiations on the subject are not expected to develop until the ship actually is taken into British jurisdiction.

State department officials declined to say whether or not American consular officers would be authorized to supervise the distribution of the foodstuffs, and in British circles it was intimated that Great Britain probably would not permit the cargo of the Wilhelmina to proceed under such an arrangement, which, if applied to all cargoes of foodstuffs, might develop into a plan whereby grain and flour now in Germany could be utilized entirely for the armed forces, while the civilian population was fed by imported products.

GREY CHARGES AUSTRIA PLANNED FOR WAR IN 1913.

British Foreign Minister Asserts Murder of Archduke Was Not the Cause of Hostility.

LONDON, Feb. 4.—"Until the revelations were made in the ministerial statement before the Italian parliament the other day we had no knowledge that Austria-Hungary contemplated hostile action against Serbia in 1913," Sir Edward Grey, the British foreign secretary, told the house of commons today.

"The fact that hostile action against Serbia was contemplated in 1913 shows that the assassination of Archduke Francis Ferdinand, which occurred in 1914, was not the cause, though it was made the pretext of the war.'

Austria Issues Red Book.

BERLIN, Feb. 4.—A summary of an Austro-Hungarian Red Book which has just been published, was given out here today by the Overseas News agency.

It states that on July 25, the day on which Serbia replied to the Austro-Hungarian note, Count Leopold von Berchtold, then Austro-Hungarian foreign minister, instructed the Austro-Hungarian ambassador at Petrograd to inform Russia that his government desired no territorial aggrandizement, but sought merely to maintain its position as a great power.

On July 27 the ambassador was instructed to inform Russia, the Red Book says, that the coöperation of the Austro-Hungarian authorities in the investigation of the assassination of Archduke Francis Ferdinand was in no way intended as an encroachment upon the sovereignty of Serbia.

RUSSIAN CANNON DRIVE AUSTRIANS OUT OF TARNOW

Czar's Forces Smother Teuton Offensive and Tighten Grip on Galicia.

AMSTERDAM, Fb. 4.—The Austro-Hungarian war press bureau has issued the following:

"We evacuated Tarnow in Galicia after the Russians bombarded the place with heavy mortars. A decisive battle is being fought in the region of Dukla, where strong Russian pressure is felt in the direction of Dukla pass and neighboring passes."

An official dispatch from Vienna on Jan. 30 said that attempts of the Russian Galician army to outflank Archduke Joseph Ferdinand's army near Nowy Sandec and attack Cracow by way of Tarnow had led to a counter offensive by the archduke against Tarnow which threatened the rearward communications of the Russians in Galicia and in the Carpathians.

Tarnow, a town of some 40,000 inhabitants, lies 135 miles west of Lemberg. It is an important manufacturing center and contains a number of historic buildings.

Germans Repulsed in Poland.

PETROGRAD, Feb. 4.—Furious fighting continued today all along the battle front in Poland. North of the Vistula river the Russians made further progress in their advance against the German fortress of Thorn. In a sanguinary encounter the Russians captured Skempe, half way between Lipno and Sierpe, the Germans retiring toward Lipno, which they still hold. A German attack south of Lipno along the Vistula was repelled.

In East Prussia the Russian forces operating southeast of Insterburg forced a crossing of the Angerapp river south of Darkehmen. Northeast of Insterburg and west of Pilkallen the Russian advance on Koenigsberg was halted by the appearance of superior German forces.

Fierce Battle on Warsaw Front.

On the Warsaw front, between Goumine and Borjimow, fourteen German regiments supported by heavy artillery made a sledge hammer effort to break the Russian line, but were repulsed with heavy losses. On this front the Russians have occupied Wola Szydlowiecka, east of Bolimow.

Russian aviators on Feb. 2 successfully dropped bombs on the mobilized reserves and trains of the Germans at Rawa, Zarzecze, and Boguszyce, about fifty miles east of Warsaw.

In the Carpathians the Austro-German forces are now estimated at twenty corps. The fighting here is becoming more severe.

Emperor Nicholas again left for the front today. The czarina and other members of the imperial family came to Tsarskoe Selo to bid him farewell before he took his departure for the fighting line.

Russian Official Statement.

The Russian army general staff today issued the following statement:

"In East Prussia our troops have strengthened their positions near the village of Gross Medunischken on the left bank of the Angerapp river.

"On the right bank of the Vistula engagements of considerable importance have taken place on the front between Lipno and Bejune. Our troops took by assault the town of Skempe, to the east of Lipno, and repulsed an attack on the village of Blino, inflicting heavy losses on the Germans. We captured the commanding officer of the battalion, three other officers, and 100 soldiers.

"On the left bank of the Vistula the fighting on the front between Borjimow, Goumine, and Wola Czosnoska continued Feb. 2 with energy. The enemy brought into this engagement fourteen regiments of first line troops and quantities of artillery, including their heavy pieces.

"The artillery fire was continued day and night. An engagement of particular severity took place at the village of Goumine, where after sanguinary hand to hand fighting we repulsed the furious attacks of the enemy. The Germans here sustained immense losses, but they continued to bring fresh troops forward to the fight."

German Official Statement.

BERLIN, Feb. 4.—The German war ministry today issued the following official statement:

"In East Prussia Russian attacks against the German position south of the Memel river were driven back.

"In Poland north of the Vistula there have been skirmishes between small detachments of German and Russian cavalrymen. At a point south of Sochaczew the Russians delivered repeated night attacks, but were forced to retire with heavy losses. The German advance in the vicinity of Bolimow is progressing in spite of the violent Russian counter attacks. The number of prisoners we are aking is increasing."

GERMANS GAIN IN THE ARGONNE

Berlin Tells of Capture of Trenches with 600 Men and Guns.

FRENCH SET UP CLAIMS.

LONDON, Feb. 4.—A German gain of importance in the Argonne was reported in today's official statement from Berlin Three lines of trenches were stormed and the principal French positions, more than a mile in length, were taken, with the capture of 600 prisoners, eighteen guns, and much war material. The French statement admits losses in this attack, but asserts that the positions later were recaptured.

The first fighting on skis in the Vosges was reported in both the French and German reports today. The Germans say their patrols were successful in these engagements.

A Central News dispatch from Amsterdam tonight reports the annihilation of a German battalion which endeavored to storm a British position near Arras. The British were outnumbered and facing defeat when a French regiment reached the scene. The reinforcements saved the day and the Germans were driven back.

French Official Statement.

PARIS, Feb. 4.—The official statement from the ministry of war tonight says:

"We have captured from 200 to 300 yards of the enemy's trenches near Heburterne, north of Albert. Our fire has reached convoys and assembling points.

"By the efficient shooting of our artillery in the valley of the Aisne the German batteries were silenced, caissons were blown up, the men engaged in constructing works dispersed, and aeroplanes put to flight.

"In front of Verdun we succeeded in bringing down an aeroplane and taking the aviators prisoners.

"In Alsace a German attack near Uffholz has failed completely."

German Official Statement.

BERLIN, Feb. 4.—[By Wireless.]—The headquarters staff of the German army today gave out the following announcement:

"Yesterday saw nothing more than artillery engagements on the front from the North sea as far as Rheims. Further French attacks near Perthes were repulsed with losses to the enemy.

"German forces yesterday delivered attacks at points north and northwest of Massiges and to the northwest of St. Menehould. They stormed three lines of French trenches, one behind the other, and occupied the principal French positions for a distance of one and one-fifth miles. We took prisoner seven officers and 601 soldiers and we captured nine machine guns, nine other guns of smaller caliber, and much war material."

TURKS ATTACK SUEZ CANAL; DRIVEN OFF WITH BIG LOSS.

British Check 12,000 of Enemy Who Try to Bridge Ditch Near Toussoum—Win at El Kantara.

LONDON, Feb. 4.—The Turks at last have made a definite attack on the Suez canal, but after a sharp fight they were driven off with heavy losses.

After a fruitless attempt made on Tuesday night to bridge the canal near Toussoum, they returned to the attack early yesterday morning with a force estimated at 12,000 and six batteries of artillery, and essayed to get across the waterway on rafts.

The British force, however, was waiting, and the invaders were forced back, leaving about 300 prisoners. A considerable number of the Turks were killed and wounded. The British lost fifteen killed and fifty-eight wounded.

The attack also was renewed by the Turks at El Kantara, but this met with no greater success than the other attempt, the Turkish losses in killed, wounded, and prisoners numbering upwards of a hundred.

U. S. RUSHES AID TO JAP CRUISER ASAMA, WRECKED

Vessel with 500 Men Aboard Breaking Up Off Lower California.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 4.—The Japanese cruiser Asama, carrying 500 men, has been wrecked and is breaking up off the western coast of Lower California, according to advices today to the navy department. The dispatch did not state whether the crew had been rescued.

Rear Admiral Howard, commanding the American fleet in the Pacific, who reported the wreck in a brief message from his flagship, was ordered to send whatever aid was available.

Department officials thought tonight the cruiser Raleigh, off San Diego, Cal., yesterday, probably would be the first American naval vessel to reach the scene.

350 Miles Off San Bartolme.

Admiral Howard said the Asama was about 350 miles south of Port San Bartolme, but inquiries for further details had brought no response up to late tonight.

The gunboat Yorktown, at Ensenada, was nearer the scene of the wreck than any other American naval vessel, but navy officials said it probably would not start for the scene of the wreck.

The Asama, an armored cruiser of 9,750 tons, was built in 1898. For several months it has been patrolling the eastern Pacific. Early in the war it forced the German gunboat Geier to intern at Honolulu, where the Geier was provisioning.

Ship Sent Officer Ashore.

San Diego, Cal., Feb. 4.—When the British collier Boyne arrived here Tuesday it had on board a Japanese naval officer who refused to talk for publication. The Boyne's gangplank was not lowered while it was in the harbor, and the vessel had no dealing with the American authorities other than required by law.

It is rumored now that the Japanese officer came from the wrecked Asama and that he filed from here an official report of the wreck to his government.

It is said the Asama's wireless went out of commission instantly when the ship struck.

GERMAN BRIDGE WRECKER JAILED PENDING HEARING.

Maine Authorities Hold Horn Until Extradition Application Made by Canada Is Decided.

Vanceboro, Me., Feb. 4.—Pending a determination at Washington of his political status the state today made sure of the custody of Werner Horn, the bridge dynamiter, by causing him to be sentenced for thirty days in the county jail. It is expected that before the expiration of this period he will be surrendered to the federal authorities for a hearing on the application for his extradition to Canada filed by the British ambassador, Sir Cecil Spring-Rice.

Horn to Have Hearing.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 4.—State department officials said tonight that the next step in the case of Werner Horn, who attempted to destroy a railroad bridge at Vanceboro, Me., would have to be taken by Canadian authorities before a United States commissioner in Maine.

Until the hearing is completed and all the evidence gathered there no action will be taken on the formal application for extradition.

TO BUY IN CONCERT.

PARIS, Feb. 5., 12:30 a. m.—The following official statement has been issued here:

"The finance ministers of Great Britain, France, and Russia have met in Paris to examine into financial questions growing out of the war. It is stated that the three powers are resolved to unite their financial as well as their military resources to carry on the war to victory.

Share Equally All Loans.

"With that idea they decided to propose to their respective governments that they share equally in the advances made or to be made to the countries which are now fighting with them or which might be disposed to take the field shortly for the common cause.

"The amount of these advances will be covered both by special resources of the three powers and by the issue of a loan in the name of the three powers at the proper time. The question of the relations to be established between the issuing banks of the three countries has been the object of special agreement.

All Purchases in Concert.

"The ministers decided to make in concert all purchases for their countries from neutral nations. They have taken the necessary financial measures to facilitate the Russian export trade and to restore as far as possible parity of exchange between Russia and the allied nations."

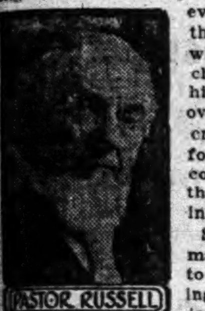
'PASTOR' FLOATS ROUND AND ROUND LIKE JELLY-FISH!

Self-Description in Divorce Suit When Mrs. Russell Told of "Other Woman."

Here is the fourth of a series of articles dealing with the transitions of "Pastor" Russell.

They have called "Pastor" Russell the Lion of the Pulpit and they have called him the Lamb of the Lord, both of which titles he accepts with equal grace.



PASTOR RUSSELL

But when the "pastor" was constructing a little allegory rather late one evening it was neither lion nor lamb with which he chose to compare himself. Running over the list of creatures of field, forest, and air, he could find none that fitted exactly into his simile.

So the venerable man's mind went to the sea, lingering for an instant in shallow water near the beach. And then like a flash it came to him.

Jelly fish!

That was it! He was like a jelly fish!

How He Floats Around.

Out of that idea sprang a paragraph in the "pastor's" best style. It has been preserved for posterity with a considerable amount of other biographical matter in the file of the prothonotary of Allegheny county, Pennsylvania. The love speech for which the jelly fish "pastor" is given credit runs:

"I am like a jelly fish. I float around here and there. I touch this one and that one, and if she responds I take her to me, and if not I float on to others."

It was to Miss Rose Ball, his girl stenographer, that the "pastor" confided his likeness to the amorous jelly fish, and, according to testimony in Mrs. "Pastor" Russell's suit for separation, he had previously demonstrated his fatherly fondness for Rose by hugging and kissing her. The scene was the vestibule of the "pastor's" Brooklyn headquarters and the hour was close to midnight.

The "Jelly Fish" Case.

The divorce suit was tried in Allegheny county in 1906, and was printed in newspapers throughout the east. In their irreverence the writers of these articles referred to the suit, which was won by Mrs. "Pastor" Russell, as the "jelly fish case."

The "jelly fish" testimony, it must be admitted, was ruled out by the trial court. The reason was that Mrs. Russell had neglected to go so far back in her bill of complaint.

A glance at the old records shows the testimony to have had some of the thrilling interest which grips readers of "The Divine Plan," the scholarly series of "student prophecies" in which the "pastor" explains just why "the present evil world" should have come to an end last September.

And Where Was the "Pastor"?

For instance, Mrs. "Pastor" Russell gave this reply when asked what she had seen of her sainted husband's dealings with Rose Ball:

"One evening I went upstairs about 10 o'clock to my room, and I supposed that he was either in the library or had retired, and when I went up there I found he was in neither place, and I stepped out in the hall, and I found he was in his night robe, sitting beside Miss Ball's bed, and she was in bed.

"On other occasions I found him going in there, and I found she called him in and said she wasn't well and wanted him in, and I objected to this and I said that it was highly improper, and I said: 'We have people about the house, and what kind of a name will be attached to this house if you do that sort of thing?' and he got angry."

Some More of the Same.

"You state that you found him doing this at other times," put in one of the lawyers. "How often after that?"

"I found him a number of times. I don't remember how often," replied the "pastor's" wife.

"In her room?"

"Yes, sir. And I found him in the servant girl's room as well, and I found him locked in the servant girl's room."

"Did he make any explanation why he was in the girl's room?"

"No, he did not. He just got angry."

Further testimony from Mrs. Russell made it apparent the "pastor" was opposed to permitting Miss Ball to walk home with young men employed in the office of the Watch Tower and Bible Tract society—so much opposed, in fact, that it was his custom to dismiss the young men and remain alone in the office with Rose. It was usually about 11 o'clock, Mrs. Russell testified, when the "pastor" and Miss Ball got home.

Fond of Fondling.

After describing a confession made to her by Miss Bell, the "pastor's" unhappy wife went on:

"I let a day elapse until I felt I had control of myself and could talk, and then I told him I had something very serious to tell him about this matter, and he said, 'What is it?' and I said, 'Rose has told me that you have been in the habit of hugging and kissing her and having her sit on your knee and fondling each other, and she tells me you bid her under no account to tell me, but she couldn't keep it any longer. She said that if I was distressed about it she would have to come and make a confession to me, and she has done that?'"

He Didn't Mean Any Harm.

"What did he say?" asked the court.

"He tried to make light of it at first, and I said, 'Husband, you can't do that. I know the whole thing. She has told me straight and I know it to be true.' Well, he said he was sorry; it was true, but he was sorry. He said he didn't mean any harm. I said, 'I don't see how you could do an act like that without meaning harm.'"

"What year was that?"

"In the fall of 1894."

These charges against the pastor must not be taken too seriously, for as all constant readers of the Watch Tower know, certain fallen angels seem to be in the habit of impersonating "Pastor" Russell, even to the last lock of his flowing white beard, and doing all manner of outrageous things.

Speaking of fallen angels, it may have been just such a one, bent on mischief, who made himself up to represent the "pastor" and went sparking little Sophie Hosan. At any rate Sophie thought she had an understanding with some one who looked like the "pastor" and answered to his sainted name—and such an understanding as the pastor himself, being not quite completely divorced, could of course not well have had.

In 1909 Sophie annoyed the "pastor's" housekeeper considerably by ringing the Russell front door bell, a habit which she apparently was unable to shake off even after she had been told repeatedly the "pastor" could not be seen.

Why She Took 'Em Off.

Then one night Sophie was found in the vestibule of the "pastor's" home at 124 Columbia Heights. She had taken off her shoes.

"I just went into the vestibule to rest and to be near my bridegroom," said Sophie the next morning. "I took off my shoes because I was afraid I would scratch the tiling."

That Sophie had met the pastor himself on at least one occasion seemed apparent from her story. They had been on the same Europe-bound steamship—the "pastor" and Sophie, her mother, and her two sisters—and the "pastor" had met the Hosan family while quietly spreading his word among the ship's company.

For one with supernatural resources and knowledge the rest was simple.

WUXTRY! MAYOR MEETS NEWSIES

Veteran Street Merchants Arrange "Their Day!" Read About It!!

The old time Chicago newsboys—more than 100 of them—romped into the mayor's office yesterday and made arrangements for "their day." Mayor Harrison renewed acquaintance with "Muggsy" and "Butts" and "Pete" and "Warts" and other personalities who now carry business cards with prefixes and surfixes to their full names.

Although fur collars, stiff hats, and diamond studs replaced on many of the old timers the sweaters, caps, and nondescript "newsie" apparel of the '70s, the hustling spirit asserted itself as much as ever.

Feb. 18 Is the Day!

The day decided upon is Feb. 18, when the downtown corners will be returned to the old timers who held them against all contenders years ago.

The mayor was unanimously elected president of the organization.

"One of the first things for you young fellows to consider," said he, "is that you will have to take care of the regular newsies. You will have to see that they receive the regular returns from the sale of the papers. The surplus can be devoted to charity."

The suggestion met with the unanimous approval of the old timers.

"Just form a partnership with the youngsters," said one veteran. "There are many of us here that might not be quite as able to yell our papers as loud and as long as we used to. Then some assistance from a leather lunged youngster will come in handy."

"Mr. Mayor, I move that a suitable fine be placed on any member of the organization who fails to remain at his post the full ten hours of the day," said another.

"What about the assignment of corners," shouted one gray haired former "newsie." "There's no use having two or three of us on the same corner."

"Speaking for myself," said Joseph Grein, a restaurant keeper, "there isn't going to be any one but myself at La Salle and Randolph. I held that corner twenty years ago, and I guess I'll be able to hold it on Feb. 18."

McCulloch Made Secretary.

Louis E. Hamburg, an undertaker, suggested that all the old timers give their names and applications for certain corners to the secretary of the organization so that the day's efforts could be expended systematically. The mayor appointed as secretary Charles A. McCulloch, general manager of the Frank Parmelee Transfer company.

HAS KIND WORD FOR 'STRAPS'

Doctor Says Busbied Hangers Get Their Ribs Uncramped by Swinging from Car Loops.

At last appears some one holding no stock in the traction lines with a word in favor of straphanging. The word was said last night at a meeting of the Chicago Osteopathic association. The speaker was Dr. E. R. Proctor. He said he thought it likely that hanging to a strap might be beneficial for a man bent all day over a desk, because it would uncramp his ribs. But for women, Dr. Porter said, straphanging is dangerous, since they are not built to stand the straining, jarring, and twisting to which "standers" are subject.

SUFFRAGE UP TO NEW YORK VOTE

State Senate Passes Resolution for a Constitutional Amendment.

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 4.—[Special.]—The senate passed the woman suffrage constitutional amendment today. The concurrent resolution providing for it will go at once to the secretary of state for submission to the people at the November election.

Nobody except the few in the secret knew that the suffrage resolution was coming up today.

Bill Called Up Suddenly.

Just before the opening of the subject Senator Brown took aside Senator Robert F. Wagner, the minority leader, and let him into the secret at once. Wagner fell in with the plan and when the senate convened he moved that the assembly bill, introduced by Harold J. Hinman, majority leader, and duly passed yesterday by the lower house, be substituted for the senate bill on the same subject introduced by Senator Brown. This was done.

Senator Brown then moved the passage of the Hinman bill. The clerk droned through the roll call and the bill was passed. There was no debate and no demonstration.

Bill Passes in Bay State.

Boston, Mass., Feb. 4.—The bill calling for a referendum on a constitutional amendment allowing equal suffrage passed the senate this afternoon.

ILLINOIS HOUSE HOLDS DEADLOCK ON SPEAKERSHIP

Shanahan and Scholes Refuse to Be Elected with Help of Browne Democrats.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 4.—[Special.]—Nobody could be found today who was in sight of the speakership, who would stand for the votes of the Browne Democracy, and the deadlock went over until next Tuesday and into its sixth week.

David E. Shanahan of Chicago or Robert Scholes of Peoria, a moderate "wet," could have been elected today had either consented to have the roll call show that the Browne Democracy had voted for him.

Mr. Shanahan declined to be considered as a candidate, and Mr. Scholes, who had been named last night as one of four Republicans who could get the support of wet Republicans and wet Democrats, including the Browne Democracy, declined to have the speakership by any such combination.

Field Reduced to Two.

This reduced the field to two: Mr. Scanlan of La Salle and Mr. Fieldstack of Cook. Sixteen Hubbard-Huston dry Democrats and fifteen anti-Browne wet Democrats, largely from down state, now seem to hold the key to the situation. Efforts are being made to get them together.

Failure of the Republican caucus, including the regulars and the insurgent contingents, which sat together for the first time this session and balloted, has convinced nearly everybody that the Republicans cannot get together long enough to name a speaker.

Developments from now on will be along the line of perfecting a combination representing all parties, Democrat, Republican, Progressive, and Socialist, which can muster seventy-seven votes for a nonpartisan organization.

Many Ballots Without Result.

The Republican caucus took fifteen ballots. William J. Graham of Aledo had the first tryout. His vote went to sixty-two on the fourth ballot, but not an insurgent would support him. John D. Turnbaugh of Mount Carroll was tested out next. His high vote was fifty-six on the seventh ballot. Medill McCormick received twenty-eight votes on the ninth ballot. Simon E. Lantz of Congerville aggregated fifty-nine votes in the eleventh ballot. Rothschild of Cook had forty votes in the fourteenth and dropped to thirty-five on the next and final caucus ballot. The high vote for Scholes was twenty-three on the twelfth ballot.

On every ballot Emil A. Festerling of Rockford received sixteen votes, being those of all the insurgents present. Sixty-five ballots were necessary to nominate under the terms of the peace treaty.

Four ballots were taken in the house. Graham had the bulk of the Republican support in the morning, and Igoe of Cook had the combined Hubbard-Huston and anti-Browne Democratic support. Lee O'Neil Browne's vote remained stationary at thirty-two and thirty-three. On the last ballot, the fifty-third of the deadlock, Edward D. Shurtleff's vote went to twenty and he was the high Republican.

Applicants for secretary of the body were ordered to appear Feb. 18, when their credentials will be passed upon by the commission.

CATTLE KILLED OVER PROTEST

Farmer Refuses U. S. Voucher and Now May Get No Pay for 32 Head.

NEW PLAGUE ORDER OUT

The state and federal authorities yesterday for the first time killed cattle afflicted with foot and mouth disease without obtaining the consent of the owner. Federal inspectors from the bureau of animal industry, assisted by assistant state veterinarians, slaughtered thirty-two head on the farm of John Dworack near Barrington, Ill.

The case was explained by B. F. Shanley, chairman of the Illinois live stock commission last night as the start of a crusade to wipe out the hoof and mouth disease in Illinois.

"The Dworack case has been a source of spread of the foot and mouth disease for some time," said he. "The federal inspectors offered him a government voucher for half of the value of his cattle. The state also offered the usual promissory certificate based upon the contingency of an appropriation by the state legislature.

"Dworack refused to accept either. As I understand it Dworack will not receive any payment for his stock."

An order was issued in Washington modifying the quarantine on several sections in the central west.

Dr. S. E. Bennett, in charge of the federal bureau's work in Illinois, said the work of killing diseased animals would continue.

TERRE HAUTE QUARANTINED.

Terre Haute, Ind., Feb. 4.—The entire city of Terre Haute was placed today under drastic quarantine regulations by state authorities because of the discovery yesterday of the foot and mouth disease among cattle at a packing plant here and on a nearby farm.

CLUB WOMEN DENOUNCED BY 'MOTHER' JONES' TALK.

Labor Agitator Visits Place of Fashion in New York and Flays Those She Sees.

New York, Feb. 4.—"Mother" Jones has investigated New York's fashionable Colony club at Madison avenue and Thirtieth street. She went there last night at the invitation of Mrs. J. Borden Harriman, member of the Federal Commission on Industrial Relations. Today she was bubbling over with her experiences.

"I saw the biggest bunch of women parasites and scandal cats ever gotten together under one roof," she said. "Five hundred dollar hats, wonderfully feathered, adorned empty heads of women who know nothing of how the other half lives. Their flabby bodies were clothed in the richest of silks. And not a single one of these parasites knew anything useful.

"And outside there were men shoveling snow, their hands bare and their clothing thin. Yet there was not the slightest sympathy expressed anywhere for these men."

"'Come up to my club,' was what was said to me," said Mother Jones. "Now, what the h—— did I know about her club? Mother Jones in a gilded cage! I'd rather be throwing bricks in an alley in the Westmoreland district of West Virginia. I'd know how to act in a case like that."

BUSINESS MEN DECIDE AGAINST SHIP PURCHASE

Chamber of Commerce of U. S. Goes on Record as Opposing Wilson.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 4.—[Special.]—While the national chamber of commerce, representing business interests of the country, was recording its disapproval of President Wilson's ship purchase bill today the administration Democrats filibustered away another session of the senate in the effort to stave off defeat of the measure.

In spite of tremendous influences exerted by the administration upon the delegates, the convention of commercial organizations voted 161 to 90 in favor of condemning the pending bill and deferring to a referendum the chambers' alternative ship subsidy proposal. Under the bylaws, however, the affirmative vote was insufficient in numbers and the convention finally decided to refer both the president's ship bill and the subsidy proposition to a referendum.

Earlier in the day the delegates evinced overwhelming opposition to the measure during the debate between Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo, who argued the emergency need of ships, and Senator Burton, who pointed out the dangers of the proposed legislation.

Lewis Is with Wilson.

Both parties to the controversy in the senate brought reinforcements to the firing line during the day, but still the administration found itself outnumbered. The return of Senator Lewis of Illinois after his illness gave the supporters of the president a total of forty-six votes in favor of keeping the bill before the senate.

On the Republican side, however, the return of Senators Fall of New Mexico and Penrose of Pennsylvania brought the strength of the opposition, which is seeking to return the bill to the committee for burial, up to forty-eight votes.

With Senator Reed killing time in a prolix speech upholding the president's veto of the immigration bill the fight settled down to a Democratic filibuster, which it is the intention of the administration leaders to prolong until Monday, when Senator Newlands is expected back from California. They also hope that Senator Smith of South Carolina will be on hand to support the president by that time.

With Senators Newlands and Smith supporting the administration the vote would be 48 to 48 on the question of sidetracking the bill and Vice President Marshall would decide the issue by voting to keep it before the senate with modifications which the committee would be instructed to present. Then the opposition would have another inning in the filibustering game.

Bolters Are Standing Pat.

The seven Democratic bolters stood pat today and were counted among the forty-eight senators present and ready to vote to recommit the bill without instructions, an action that would permanently bury the measure, for the committee stands ten to seven against it.

The return of Senator Lewis and his announcement that he would support the bill cheered the administration considerably. A White House automobile met him at the station and bore him to the senate chamber where Senator Kern, the Democratic floor leader, informed him that it was up to Col. Lewis, as Democratic whip, to whip the recalcitrant party members back into line.

Lewis Explains His Stand.

Speaking of his own attitude toward the bill, Senator Lewis said:

"I have taken up the fight for the bill at the request of the administration forces, and shall do all I can to mend conditions and bring about the passage of the measure. There are many elements of this bill which do not meet my approval from a purely practical point of view.

"But the emergency created by the war justifies, in my opinion, a departure from strict political economy in order to accomplish relief to the country. I feel that within six months after the passage of the bill we shall be able to send the grain of the west, the cotton of the south, and the manufactures of our nation to the war ports of Europe and all ports of South America.

Can Change the Routing.

"At the close of the war the law can be promptly amended so as to convert the ships into cruisers for our navy and mail and commerce carriers between such ports as private capital shall not be serving.

"The danger of complications with the countries at war is the serious thing to consider. I felt that this would be avoided by the amendment which I introduced in the caucus prohibiting any purchase until the title of the ship should be certified as available from all points of view by the attorney general and the state department."

Senator Lewis said that Senator Fletcher, who is in charge of the bill, had promised to accept such an amendment.

No Boats for Goods.—Redfield.

Secretary Redfield in addressing the chamber of commerce in advocacy of the ship bill said:

"In my belief, gentlemen, it would be perfectly easy to add $100,000,000 a month to our foreign trade now if we could ship the stuff. I have personally seen within ten days on the wharves in Galveston and New Orleans tens of thousands of dollars' worth of American goods for which there exists no possible means of transportation at all.

"I tell you, gentlemen, without regard to the remedy, get out of the way of American opinion when it learns those facts. . . . God help the man in politics or business who says it shall be tolerated in this country that a steamship company shall cynically do that thing which would send a railroad man to jail.

"By what right, moral or lawful, does any steamship company say to me in my factory, when I offer them a shipment of goods, 'We will select from your shipment that which pays us the most; the rest we will not take'?

"That is what is happening in every American seaport. Goods are flatly refused to be carried at all at any price whatever. Telegrams quoting rates at night are declared in the morning void. A rate quoted at 9:30 is raised at 10, and the quoted words of the steamship company are worthless as soon as they are received."

get a fair trial irrespective of race or creed.

"The fact that no less than eight members of this jury are Masons is a certain refutation of rumors and charges that religious belief can interfere with the American sense of justice.

"The verdict shows the larger brotherhood of Chicago. It speaks significantly for the community.

"However, it was just such a verdict as was expected by all of those who knew Father Mullen and the circumstances. To one who knew the facts there could be no question but that the unfortunate occurrence was the result of the impulse of an insane mind."

Prosecutor's Plea.

Marvin E. Barnhart in making the final address for the state demanded the priest's conviction without making a suggestion as to punishment.

"He believed Patterson to be one of the men who had thrown him out of Cotugno's saloon some time before. Don't you suppose for one minute that if Simoini, who went with him to Hillside, thought he was crazy he would have taken care of him and not let him out of his sight? Would you leave a man alone if you knew he was crazy?"

Plea of Defense.

Attorney Barasa and Leroy Hackett of counsel made the final plea for the life and liberty of the priest. They reviewed the evidence given by the witnesses for the state and the defense and asked where it had been proved that their client was under the influence of liquor at the time of the tragedy.

"You have heard from the lips of the priest himself," said Mr. Hackett, "that he was a moderate drinker, but there is not a scintilla of evidence given by any of the men who served him with drinks to show that he was intoxicated."

be found in saloons, theaters, laundries, and otherwise loafing on their posts. Steps should first be taken to improve the general efficiency of the patrolmen we now have."

Ald. Thomas D. Nash objected to accepting that part of the report presenting Mr. Dannenberg's conclusions, alleging they might be prejudiced on account of his previous relations with the police department. Mr. Dannenberg resigned from the position of morals inspector because of differences with Second Deputy Funkhouser. No action was taken on Ald. Nash's protest.

Chief Gleason said he would investigate the charges.

"A few weeks ago when the sergeants had a meeting," the chief said, "I told them to keep strict watch of the men.

"If the commission presents the charges to me or the police trial board I will prosecute them. Every charge of that kind that has been called to my attention has been prosecuted by me."

PRESIDENT MAY COME HERE.

Says He Would Like to Speak to Newly Naturalized Citizens, but Cannot Do So on Feb. 21.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 4.—[Special.]—Judge Clarence N. Goodwin of Chicago called on the president today and invited him to address a massmeeting of newly naturalized citizens in that city on Feb. 21 or some other time if more convenient to Mr. Wilson.

The president said that nothing would give him greater pleasure than addressing a body of new citizens, but that he deems it impossible to leave Washington before the adjournment of congress.

He intimated that he might find it possible to deliver an address in Chicago on his way either to or from the San Francisco exposition after the adjournment of congress.

Unlicensed Plumber Warned.

ASSAILS LIQUOR; IS FOR SUFFRAGE

Bryan Would Read Saloon Men Out of Politics; Defends Ship Bill.

TALK AT INDIANAPOLIS.

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 4.—Declaring that the Democratic party cannot afford to stand with the brewer and saloonkeeper against woman's suffrage, Secretary of State Bryan, in a speech at the banquet of the Democratic editors here tonight, severely denounced the liquor traffic and also said that woman's suffrage was sure to come.

"I want to tell you Democratic editors," Secretary Bryan said, "that the Democratic party cannot afford to stand with the brewer and saloonkeeper as against woman's suffrage.

Would Drive Out Saloon.

"A man is known by the company he keeps, and I want to tell you now that the man who prefers the saloonkeeper's company to that of his wife will not be in the Democratic party long.

"If we are going to favor woman's suffrage we might as well go the whole hog and drive the saloon out of politics."

Secretary Bryan referred to the majority vote in congress for a national prohibition amendment to the constitution, and expressed the hope that Indiana Democrats will be found leading in the movement.

Defends Shipping Bill.

After leaving the banquet Col. Bryan addressed a public meeting at the German house, where a large crowd heard him strongly defend the president on the shipping question.

In referring to the seven Democratic senators who have broken away from the president Mr. Bryan said:

"I think I know and I think you know what the country will think of a Democrat who takes the Republican side on the shipping question."

"There is not a single thing about the president's conduct in this terrible conflict that can be criticized from the American citizen's standpoint," he continued. "And no criticism in Great Britain or in Germany will prevent him from doing exactly what he knows ought to be done in order to act on every question according to our neutrality."

Kitchener's New Army Is Ready for Campaign Across the Channel.

ARGYLE AND SUTHERLAND HIGHLANDERS PRACTICING THE CHARGE AT BEDFORD—Harry Lauder's son is shown at the front of his company, of which he is lieutenant. These men are reported to be ready to start for the front now. At the close of his father's recent engagement in the west, the brilliant Scotch comedian bid his audience good-by, saying he was anxious to return home and see his boy before he left for the battle front in France.

TYPES OF KITCHENER'S NEW FIGHTERS—Here is the finished product in K's million and a half of reinforcements for the British contingent in Belgium and France. They belong to the City of London battalion, and are reported as making a fine showing during the months of preparatory training. The manner in which the raw material has been whipped into shape has surprised most of the military critics of the English volunteers. The open air and hard gruelling drill have toughened the city bred young Londoners into real fighting men.

Kitchener's Army Seen in Review at Epsom.

BY FREDERIC WILLIAM WILE.

[London Correspondent of The Tribune.]

LONDON, Jan. 22.—Today on Epsom Downs, the classic race course where Lord Rosebery, "Dick" Croker, and other immortals have won the Derby, I had the privilege of attending a review of Kitchener's army. It was a more or less private affair, and not advertised in advance, as the show was held in the special honor of M. Millerand, the French minister of war, whom the British war office invited to come over and inspect a typical contingent of Kitchener's great volunteer organization.

It was my first look at any considerable body of the new army in field kit, and I want to say at once that the appearance of the men justified to the hilt the excellent impression one gets from seeing individual specimens about town in the restaurants, streets, and shops, or marching in companies or battalions. There is no doubt in one's mind, after meeting 25,000 of Kitchener's khaki troops in war paint, that they are recruited from the very best stock Old England has. They are a red cheeked, well groomed, splendidly set up lot, averaging, I should say, between 25 and 30 years of age, with tall, trim figures, largely in the ascendant. There is hardly a stupid face among them.

The officers—also volunteers—are unmistakably drawn from the upper middle or upper classes. The men are apparently all of the better middle class type. They look like fellows who in civilian life are bank clerks, embryo lawyers, insurance men, salesmen, or skilled artisans—just such a crowd of clear eyed, keen witted young men as I have met streaming through La Salle street, or anywhere else within the loop at the rush hour in Chicago.

These volunteer fighting men of England may lack the thoroughgoing routine of the drill which is hammered into a soldier in the barrack yards of Germany, but in what the Germans call Menschenmaterial John Bull is every whit as rich as the kaiser. Almost every young Englishman is familiar with the use of the rifle, and the muscles of nine out of ten of them have been hardened in sport. That is a combination, plus a high degree of average intelligence, which makes Kitchener's army worthy of the steel of the legions of the enemy.

Today's review took place under unexpectedly "warlike" conditions—that is to say, the downs were mantled with snow, the first England has had this winter, and the troops stood shoulder to shoulder in battalions in four or five inches of slushy white. Epsom looks like anything but a racecourse these days. The great Jockey club and grandstand, familiar to so many thousands of Derby day visitors from our side, are now a big military hospital.

From out the windows leaned dozens of wounded Tommies, with bandaged heads or arms in slings, usually in a framework of doting nurses—the picture of Mars and Venus witnessed everywhere throughout the limitless area of the war. The long lines of brown stretched across the snow almost farther than the eye could reach. The men were good humor personified. Tommy Atkins is always a happy-go-lucky fellow, but this lot of him was radiant with joy, for probably before these lines are printed they will be in the trenches in Flanders or France.

While their officers kept the troops marking time to prevent cold feet on the wet ground, the troops whistled and sang like a pack of schoolboys on a holiday lark. He is growing very cosmopolitan, is Mr. Atkins, in what he calls "these parley-voo days," and so he whistled the "Marseillaise" today. That, of course, was for M. Millerand's benefit. He can hardly ever have heard the stirring hymn of the republic better or more correctly rendered. The rear rank seemed to be all alto, and the "barber shop" effect was highly artistic. When they weren't whistling the "Marseillaise" Kitchener's men sang "We're Here Because We're Here," "Here We Are Again," "Are We Downhearted? No!" and other popular army lullabies. As the inspection was a standstill review and not a parade, "Tipperary" was not on the program. Mr. Atkins sings only England's new American made national anthem when he's marching.

Lord Kitchener, a sturdy and particularly soldierlike figure in a khaki army ulster, escorted M. Millerand down the long line at the head of a suite of British and French staff officers. All the Frenchmen were in uniform except the Socialist war minister himself, who, in broad brimmed black slouch hat and long overcoat belted tightly around his dumpy body, looked more like a rural priest than the very able military administrator the radical Parisian lawyer is. Millerand must have been tired of khaki by the time he reached the end of the line, where I happened to be stationed, for he was then busier talking and gesticulating to Kitchener than he was in examining the troops.

Both he and "K." seemed thoroughly pleased with their morning's work—Kitchener with the goods he had to display, and Millerand with the samples shown him. The British war minister is not handicapped, as many British officers fighting alongside the French are, by the ignorance of the latter's language, for Kitchener is fighting Germany for the second time, having been a volunteer in the French army of 1870. Before leaving France he became a fluent French scholar.

* *

My party at the review included a distinguished French journalist and his American wife. They agreed with me that the whole scene and setting were peculiarly British in the absence of anything bordering on excitement or enthusiasm. There were no bands, no flags, no cheers—just snow and chilling silence. A distinguished English peer to whom madame and I expressed our transatlantic surprise at the want of the festive note, said:

"You Americans simply can't understand the English. We never make any noise about anything. We're fighting this war on the same lines—no fuss, no feathers, just going about the business that has to be done, slowly, stubbornly, silently, but, as you would say, sawing wood all the time and getting there just the same!"

POLICE SHAKEUPS.

Police "shakeups" have a strange tendency to occur in political campaigns. If this were the result of stimulated sense of public responsibility we could accept its temporary benefits complacently, half a loaf, even when doled out at long intervals, being better than no bread.

Unhappily the campaign police shakeup seems to arise from a source less pure than "the good of the service."

For example, it is reported that Capt. Zimmer leaves Chicago avenue because he has clashed with the political satrap of that province and "the heir apparent, Prince Arthur."

From the standpoint of the good of the service, provided we are visionary enough to conceive of the police service as public rather than political service, the reason for Capt. Zimmer's transfer would seem to be exactly the reason why he should be kept where he was, and firmly supported there. In such case probably he would not have desired a change.

Another interesting report is that Ed Brennan, the Democratic boss of the Sixth ward, will procure the transfer of Capt. Alcock because the captain is said to belong to a different faction of his party, and it is further rumored that the seismic disturbances of Friday are only a forerunner.

Perhaps it is Utopian to hope that this sort of political jugglery with the police to gain partisan or factional advantage, to pay political grudges or debts, will be ended in Chicago this side of the millennium, although cities like London and Berlin do not suffer it. Certainly there seems to be no effective public opinion against it at this time, in spite of recent exposures of corruption and inefficiency and the fact that several high police officials are under criminal indictment. For if there were such awakened opinion the mayoralty candidates would be making an issue of police reform, whereas this subject is noticeable chiefly for its absence from the campaign.

VILLA "IN CHARGE."

Villa has been driven by necessities, which were getting clearer and more mandatory every day, to define his position declaring himself to be in charge of the presidency. This is not a regency, protectorate, dictatorship, or tyranny. It is an office we shall understand by likening it to the superintendency of an asylum for the insane. It is both custodial and curative.

Francisco does not make the mistake of declaring himself in charge of the president. That would presuppose a degree of propinquity which Villa does not undertake to maintain. He never knows where the president is going to be or who the president is going to be, or how many presidents there are likely to be from time to time.

He commits the president or presidents to the vagaries and high winds of Mexican evolutionary and revolutionary politics. They may blow where they please, like the dead leaves of last year. Villa will not even try to rake them up.

It contents him and satisfies the real revolution that he should be in charge of the presidency, which is an abstraction, and can be moved under the hat as condition suggests or exigency commands. In other words, wherever Villa is there is the presidency. He is not the embodiment of it, but the custodian of it.

It is idealized and fleshless, a conception of noble minds, a wholly spiritualized patriotism. Villa always has been controlled by a sense of his own unfitness for the presidency, and his sincerity is attested by the fact that now he does not take the office, but merely charge of it.

It is true that when he puts his hat on the president is bonneted, but the distinction between corporality and spirituality is not too fine for general comprehension.

Now, if the gentleman in charge of the presidency can put the presidency in charge of Mexico something will have been accomplished at last.

MORGAN'S TESTIMONY.

J. P. Morgan went before the federal commission on industrial relations and comported himself as a baronet. If he had been monocled and had hawed he could not have given a more complete semblance of indifference to his attitude.

He may have contempt for the method by which industrialism is being investigated and no regard for its possibilities of discovery and remedy. He may have merely wished to avoid being led into the expression of opinions which he considered as too much founded on sentiment and too little on knowledge to be of use in such an inquiry. He may have had it in mind to avoid sententiousness and dogmatic statement and generalization, which, if he made it emphatic and vigorous enough, would get him a dose of journalistic treatment.

To give him the benefit of a doubt his intent may have been praiseworthy, but, whatever the motive behind his testimony, the foolishness of its matter and manner became apparent.

J. P. Morgan represents, popularly, the house of that name. If he does not represent it to the degree and in the measure that his father did he nevertheless stands in the popular imagination and estimation as the director of capital. Even if his power and influence be small, he represents a name, and that name is associated with control of finance.

What he did was to indicate that the power and influence he has or is supposed to have was entirely indifferent to and unacquainted with the questions which capital and labor have at issue. He confirmed the opinion of many people that capital is even now, after years of controversy, callous.

He had no information. He had no opinions. He had not heard. He did not know. He was aloof. The questions did not concern him. Thus, in general, his attitude.

It was unwise and tactless. It was calculated to make men, already conscious of injustice, conclude that they had not yet gained the ear of capital. That this is a conclusion highly exaggerated does not matter. Young Rockefeller, with his amiable concessions and his amiable evasions, indicated a willingness to have justice done. His was a far more tactful performance, to say nothing more of it.

If young Rockefeller were a hypocrite one might admire Morgan's greater frankness. Morgan may think Rockefeller a hypocrite and he may have decided to have no Sunday school color in his testimony. But when he combined indifference with a pretense of ignorance he made a bad impression on the public mind.

NEUTRALS AND CONTRABAND.

The question of contraband, always productive of friction and contention, is assuming just now a particularly acute character. The declaration of the Swiss minister at Rome that his country is prepared "to fight for its food" and will consider serious interference with food supplies a casus belli may seem startling, but it is undoubtedly the first of a series of similar declarations. War is war, but neutrals will not permit belligerents to starve innocent populations, and other neutrals that have food to sell and export will not acquiesce in indefinite stretching of the vague doctrine of contraband. As readers of THE TRIBUNE have made inquiries concerning the treatment of food as contraband, a few words of explanation are in order.

One thing should be made clear at the outset. In any complaint against or attempted justification of any new contraband order, the appeal must be made to the general body of international law. There is no other binding convention or declaration. There is no Hague treaty governing contraband, and the London declaration is not in force, since changes therein and qualifications thereof have been made or suggested and no ratification of it has taken place. Our government has withdrawn its early suggestion that the London convention be made the basis of naval operations and seizures during the present war. All, therefore, have to fall back on what is called the law of nations.

Unfortunately, that law is vague, fluid, and elastic. No nation is without sin in the matter of contraband policies. Our own record is not free from criticism, as the state department has had to admit. "As a neutral this government has stood for a restricted list of absolute and conditional contraband; as a belligerent we have contended for a liberal list, according to our conception of the necessities of the case." Other governments have been even less consistent or reasonable. Short instead of long views have been taken by all of them, and supposed emergencies have obscured larger and permanent national interests.

Again, there never has been an agreement between nations touching the articles that are properly to be treated as contraband. Certainty and due notice have been insisted on, but the practice has been for any belligerent simply to give warning as to the articles it will treat as contraband—absolute or conditional.

These facts show how difficult and knotty the contraband question is. Yet, to repeat, there are certain limits beyond which neutrals will not permit belligerents to go. The position of neutrals as to food is fortified by notable judicial decisions. During our civil war controversies arose and the Supreme court held, for example, that "groceries, dry goods, and medicines" for the inhabitants along the Mississippi were not contraband "by the law of nations." Another decision by the same tribunal was that provisions were not deemed contraband by international law unless destined for the use of the enemy's military forces.

England's rumored intent to class food as contraband because of Germany's action in seizing and arbitrarily regulating the distribution of cereals is, we understand, being carefully studied by our state department. The precedents and rulings that make up that indefinite quantity of uncertain quality, "international law," will furnish some guidance; but necessity and intelligent self-interest will furnish more motive power. The London Economist, for instance, recently reminded the British government that to stretch the doctrines of contraband at this time is to run risks and invite retaliation and trouble in the future. It said:

"Our greatest interest is peace. Free trade is the basis of our commercial power. We must, therefore, be careful by our actions in this war not to prejudice our policy in the future. If, for example—to take two improbable hypotheses—a war broke out between the United States and Germany, or between the United States and Russia, all our shipping and commercial interests would insist upon our right to trade freely with both belligerents, and there would be a loud outcry if one or the other nation obtained the supremacy of the seas and used it to establish something like a blockade of its enemy and contiguous neutral ports."

Hard pressed belligerents are driven or urged by many excitable persons to act as apparent and temporary advantage dictates. But wiser statesmen and citizens will think of the good will of neutrals, of the permanent interests of commerce and trade, of the danger that hasty, ill considered action may come to plague them at other times. Some neutrals—like Switzerland—may be forced to fight for bread, and this cannot fail to operate as a deterrent and check.

Editorial of the Day.

THE JONESES AND POETRY.

[From the Rochester, N. Y., Herald.]

There must be something in a name, for a dramatic critic who discussed recently a play by Henry Arthur Jones has pointed out that, while there have been "Thomsons and Taylors and Crabbes and Cowpers" in poetry, there has never been a Jones. "There is something about Jones," he says, "so staid, grave, serious, substantial, responsible, that it condemns even an elfish possessor to affect the mien of a strong but conservative moralist, a steady craftsman, a man of robust common sense."

We had never thought of it before, but it would appear that the critic is right. Who ever heard of a Jones who was a poet—a real poet, we mean? Great Britain has a great many Joneses to her credit, splendid men, but none of them is a poet. There is Sir Alfred Jones, a fine specimen of the commercial man, and there is Sir Henry Jones, the Hegelian, one of the ablest philosophical writers of our time, and an admirable professor at the University of Glasgow, but the name of Jones does not lend itself to poetry. There have been poetical Smiths—there was Alexander Smith, for example—and there have been poetical Robinsons, for we have Edwin Arlington Robinson, whom not a few regard as America's greatest living poet, but one must shake his head sadly when trying to recall a poetical Jones. But, then, we have all known Joneses who were so wholesome in every way that Wordsworth might have written poems about them quite equal to the one he wrote on "Mr. Wilkinson's Spade."

A LINE-O'-TYPE OR TWO.

TIPPERARY.

(If Mr. Yeats had written it.)

I WILL arise and go now, and go to Tipperary;
The roads are unending, 'tis a long, long way to go.
A cloud-pale maid I'll find there, a glimmering, glamouring fairy,
And life will be one grand purple glow.

I will arise and go now, and go to Tipperary;
Long, long is the way there, and the roads in bad repair.
But midnight here is martial, and noon is military,
And evening filled with the trumpet's blare.

I will arise and go now, the nights are getting chilly;
The wind weeps in the sedge by the curlew-haunted shore.
No curlews are in Leicester, no sedge in Piccadilly,
Only the fife and the deep drum corps.

OUR distress over the thousands of unemployed in New York is tempered by the news that the street cleaning department cannot get enough men to remove the recent fall of snow. A professionally unemployed person's notion of work is carrying a banner in a parade.

WAGONS on the car tracks increase the difficulties of the traction company, no doubt; but if the company should put on more cars there would be less room for the wagons.

LET THAT GO DOUBLE.

Sir: Thank goodness you do not write a column on Sunday. A. GERMAN.

THE New York Sun has agreed to eliminate the adjectives "society," "wealthy," and "prominent" from its columns, and we hope its example will be followed by all other papers except those owned by Mr. Hearst, who could not keep house without "prominent," "wealthy," and "society."

ONE MIGHT HOLD UP THE QUARTER.

Sir: A friend suggests that if you would tip the motorman a quarter whenever he stops at your signal, it might improve conditions. There may be something in this. A thirty cent ride is better than walking, and it's cheaper than a taxi. But I don't see how the motorman could tell that a waiting passenger believed in the tipping system. OSCAPUT.

THE compositor who set up the Yale club's invitation for its 49th annual banquet made it "to be held in the dinning room of the Blackstone," and the proofreader, being a good sport, didn't change it.

So Much for Chadwick!

[Poultney Bigelow in the New York Evening Post.]

Sir: My illustrious and gallant friend, Admiral Chadwick, has not been himself since the outbreak of Germany from her normal boundaries, for he has gone so far as to assert that England has stolen "even" her national anthem from Germany. Permit me to point out to the historian of the Spanish war that the standard German student "Kommersbuch" of Silcher and Lahr credits the music of "God Save the King" to "H. Carey, 1743," and the German text to a Dane named Harries, who published the words in a Flensburg newspaper on January 27, 1790. Peters' "Liederschatz" confirms the "Kommersbuch," and adds that the music is that of the "englische Nationallied, 'God Save the King'"—also that it was first sung in Berlin in 1793—a difference of half a century in favor of the allies! So much for the claim that England stole her anthem from the devastators of Rheims and Louvain.

THE dictionary mentions the abhorred adjective "bloody," but calls it "[low]." The definition given is "desperately," "exceedingly." Swift wrote to Stella: "It was bloody hot walking today." Perhaps the word wasn't so low in his day.

The advertisers kick about position;
Subscribers kick because of many ads;
The clergy say we're headed for perdition;
Baseball fans say we have too many fads.
Machine men swear when setting up our verses;
The pressman howls because the form's not level;
The foreman's voice is raised in curious curses,
And all fall on the Editor and Devil.
Yet some amenities the craft possesses,
Or one could not endure the heavy strain;
God chastens sometimes, but He also blesses,
And pleasure often rises out of pain.
We're thankful for the sweet appreciation
Most readers tender when they pay their dues;
It cheers our wearied hearts—with new elation
We put more spice into the local news.
Then there's the wit and humor of exchanges,
The sprightly comments on what has been said;
Philosophy that very deftly ranges
The compass of all things, both quick and dead.

KANSAS HEALTH ALMANAC.

BENJAMIN FRANKLIN goes marching on. Various state boards of health attest the wisdom of America's first philosopher by issuing almanacs fashioned after that of "Poor Richard." The Kansas board, in issuing its third almanac, asserts that every statement made therein can be relied upon as tested, tried, and true. It advises that in each school in the state the daily event and one health epigram be read aloud each day.

For each month there is a brief lecture appropriate to the season. The lecture for February is on pneumonia. To avoid this disease it gives the following ten rules:

1. Do not drink alcoholic liquors.
2. Dress warmly, but not too thickly.
3. Do not needlessly expose yourself.
4. Have abundant fresh air in your living and sleeping rooms.
5. Do not have your rooms too hot and then go into the open air unprotected by wraps.
6. If exposed to extreme or rough weather and wet or numb, undress in a warm room, rub off with rough towels until the skin glows, then go to bed and stay there for several hours.
7. Avoid overeating and keep the bowels open.
8. Keep your feet warm and your head cool.
9. A moderate amount of brisk exercise in the outdoor air daily.
10. Avoid dust and other irritating substances of the upper air passages.

Among the daily health lessons are the following:

Feb.

1. The unventilated gas stove is a menace to health.
3. Adenoids prevent normal mental and physical growth.
4. Smallpox raging among unvaccinated Kaw Indians, 1860.
7. Air your home thoroughly daily.
8. Beware of the wolves—the quack doctors.
11. The best nerve restorer—keeping sweet.
13. Food left on the teeth ferments and causes decay.
16. The best weapon against pneumonia—high body resistance.
18. The most valuable asset of a city—wholesome water.
21. The only bad night air is last night's air.
24. Have you tested your cow for tuberculosis?
26. Keep your feet warm and your head cool.

Among the slogans for February are these:

An open window is better than an open grave.

Warm rooms have killed more people than ever froze to death.

A stiff drink makes the stomach warm but the skin cold.

A stitch in the underwear may save a stitch in the side.

Avoid patent medicines as you would a pestilence.

Thinly clad feet make for heavy colds.

BOOKS ON NUTRITION.

H. M. S. writes: "In order for a person to arrange to have a right proportioned mixture of protein, carbohydrate, and fat food, how is he to know how much of one kind goes with the other, so as to neutralize it and not have an overdose of any one? Is it the protein food alone which on decomposition poisons the system? Is sluggishness of the bowels caused mainly by lack of indigestible food taken so as to cause peristaltic contractions, or is some other thing the main cause? What vegetables contain most cellulose?"

REPLY.

1. Instinct is a good guide. Custom is also a fairly dependable guide. Good books are "Nutrition and Diet," by Conley, and "Fundamental Basis of Nutrition," by Lusk.
2. No.
3. Lack of fiber in the food is the main chance.
4. Bran, coarse breads, oatmeal, lettuce, spinach, cabbage, Brussels sprouts, celery, rhubarb, prunes, figs, apples, peaches, and berries.

ABDOMINAL PTOSIS TREATMENT.

M. E. F. W. writes: "Will you please describe the symptoms of ptosis? In case of ptosis is it harmful to drink hot salt water the first thing in the morning?"

REPLY.

1. I am sure that by ptosis you mean ptosis of the abdominal organs. Several groups of people develop sagging of the abdominal organs. One group has weak, flabby muscles. Another is slim bodied, the result of poor development. Another group is swaybacked. The procedure in proper cases is persistently to exercise the muscles of the trunk, especially the abdominal muscles. Massage, bandages, corsets are of service in those whose organs are a good deal out of place and whose muscles are stretched and very flabby.
2. It may help wash out a pouched stomach; otherwise it "has nothing to do with the case."

FORGET YOUR HEART.

L. F. writes: "I have been troubled with a slight pressure in the region of my heart for the last month. Is this a case of angina pectoris and will it prove fatal in the near future? These attacks come when my stomach is a little disordered. I am 20 years of age."

REPLY.

I judge not. Against it are your youth, the associated stomach disorder, and the nature of your discomfort. A slight pressure in the region of the heart would be suspicious in an older person.

Do you smoke; or eat imprudently; or spend your time thinking about yourself? Why not regulate your habits, live more normally, and forget your heart?

LA MARQUISE DE FONTENOY.

[Copyright: 1915: By the Brentwood Co.]

WERE it not for the fact that the war is monopolizing public interest, the appearance of the Earl of Londesborough's sister, Lady Ida Sitwell, in the prisoner's dock at the Marlborough street police court in London alongside of a singularly disreputable ex-convict of the name of Julian Field on a charge of criminal conspiracy and of fraud in swindling an old maiden lady of the name of Frances Dobbs out of a sum of $30,000 would undoubtedly attract much attention.

Lady Ida has occupied a place in the front rank of society, both through her birth and marriage, and was up to the time of King Edward's accession to the throne one of the smartest and most conspicuous members of what was then known as the Marlborough house set.

Here in America an impression prevails that justice in England moves quickly. But it has been singularly lagging in the case of Lady Ida.

For several years past she has been figuring in the civil courts in connection with suits brought against her by Miss Dobbs and also by money lenders in connection with her transactions with Miss Dobbs.

In these proceedings, which resulted in numerous civil judgments against her, she was repeatedly held up to obloquy by the presiding judges and denounced from the bench in the most scathing terms—terms which seemed to demand the immediate intervention on the part of the public prosecutor, since the transactions were stigmatized by the judges as "horrible and disgraceful frauds." But no move towards a criminal prosecution was made against her.

Last November, however, a civil suit against a man of the name of Julian Field in the London courts had the effect of in a measure clearing Lady Ida. It was shown in the proceedings against Field that, finding herself in difficulties some few years ago, Lady Ida was recommended to place herself in communication with him as a monetary agent who would discreetly assist her to raise the funds to pay off debts which she had incurred.

An interview followed, and from that time forth the unfortunate Lady Ida was the dupe of this plausible tongued rogue, who represented himself as a person of independent position and means, and a university man, who would be glad to help her out of her difficulties.

The story of the transactions in which Lady Ida became involved is too complicated to relate here in detail. But, after having obtained her power of attorney, Field secured from money lenders and from Miss Dobbs sums amounting to some $60,000, of which she never received more than $1,000, but for all of which she was held responsible.

In connection with these transactions, Field induced Lady Ida to write a number of letters which she was compelled to admit in court contained statements which she knew to be false, and which were written with the object of deceiving the persons to whom they were addressed, notably Miss Dobbs.

It was only when too late that Lady Ida discovered that Field had not devoted a cent of the money which he had obtained in her name to the settlement of the liabilities about which she had appealed to him in the first place, and it was probably not until the civil proceedings against him in last November that she learned for the first time of his antecedents, which were then brought to light.

They were antecedents which showed that he had been bankrupted at least a dozen times, that he was convicted of forgery at the Central Criminal court in London in 1901, and that he had perpetrated several other frauds by raising loans on forged contracts between himself and one of the great publishing houses in London.

He was so brilliant a pupil at Harrow in his boyhood and so successful as a short story writer after he had attained manhood that he might have earned at any rate a comfortable competence, had it not been for his extravagance, which drove him to crime as far back as in 1898.

His real name is Julian Field, among his many aliases having been those of Ralph Ellis and Ralph Vivian.

Lady Ida fondly imagined that this exposure of Field in November had virtually cleared her of crime, though leaving her condemned of having been a foolish and credulous woman. But the public prosecutor at length decided to move, after refraining from taking any action in 1912, 1913, and 1914, when she was being so roundly denounced from the bench.

Ten days ago he caused her arrest on the criminal charge of conspiracy and fraud, and she is now appearing in the prisoner's docket along with Julian Field and one of his associates, Oliver Herbert, at the Marlborough police court.

The public prosecutor obviously has in mind her admissions with regard to the falsity of the statements and to her intent to deceive in the letters which she was induced by Field to write to Miss Dobbs. But it probably will go lightly with her in view of the fact that she derived no benefit from the fraud, but actually became one of the victims thereof.

With all that, Lady Ida, who has shown herself so utterly irresponsible in money matters, is a gifted woman. She is an adept in the art of turning ivory and wood, has written a number of clever magazine and review articles, while her collection of wild birds' eggs is one of the most celebrated in the United Kingdom.

She is renowned all along the Yorkshire coast as a cliff climber of extraordinary skill and courage, an art acquired in the search for the eggs of sea birds that nest along the face of the dizzy cliffs of the northern coast of England.

Lady Ida seems to enjoy the danger of swinging on the perpendicular face of a cliff at the end of a 200 foot length of rope, with perhaps another 300 or 400 feet of space between her and the storm beaten rocks below.

Sir George Sitwell, her husband, is the owner of the Scarborough Post, one of the most influential organs of the provincial press. After sitting in five parliaments and fighting seven costly elections in behalf of the Conservatives, he became so exasperated by the views adopted by that party on the subject of tariff that he resigned his membership of the Carlton club, severed his connection with the Tory associations, and joined the Liberals.

He is not only a well known sporting man but also a student, a familiar figure in the British Museum library, and the author of several works of research, notably "A Feudal History of Derbyshire."

His baronetcy was created a hundred years ago or more in favor of Sir Sitwell Sitwell, and one of his direct ancestors, Sir Robert Sitwell of Renishaw, is on historic record as having been one of the chief subscribers to the defense of England against the Spanish armada in the reign of Queen Elizabeth.

LEGAL CHARGE FOR GAS.

Chicago, Feb. 1.—[To the Friend of the People.]—Kindly say what the legal charge is for 1,000 cubic feet of gas in the city of Chicago, as regulated by the city and state public utilities commission of Illinois.

GEO. H. BRYANT,
1055 Old Colony building.

The price of gas is now a matter of litigation. If it is decided in favor of the city the company will probably have to refund all money in excess of 70 cents for gas consumed. The company is now billing under an order of the Circuit court of Cook county of Aug. 2, 1911. This reads as follows: "It is ordered that until final action by the court ordering the Peoples Gas Light and Coke company shall charge, collect, and receive for gas, except natural gas, supplied from and after the 7th day of August, 1911, pending a final determination of the court, not to exceed 80 cents a thousand cubic feet; provided, however, that the said Peoples Gas Light and Coke company may charge, demand, and collect an additional sum of 10 cents for each 1,000 cubic feet of gas consumed or used for fuel, illuminating, or power purposes if the consumer fails to pay for the gas consumed or used within ten days after delivery or presentation of bill for gas so consumed or used."

ELLIS AVENUE SIDEWAL

Chicago, Jan. 31.—[To the Friend of the People.]—Last spring the owners of property along Ellis avenue, between Fifty-third and Sixty-fifth streets were notified that the sidewalks should be raised before July 6. Only a few of the owners complied, and, as a result, the sidewalks are uneven, and are dangerous to walk upon in this weather. Kindly see why this order was not enforced.

M. TOOMBS, 6342 Ellis avenue.

The date mentioned in the communication was given to comply with the terms of the local improvement act, which provides that property owner shall have forty days after passage of an ordinance in which to construct his walk by private contract before the city could file a petition for the levying of an assessment. The assessment roll in the above proceeding has not as yet been confirmed by the court, and for that reason there was no work done. The expectation is that the work will be done during the coming summer.

EXTENSION OF WEST DIVIS STREET LINE.

Chicago, Jan. 31.—[To the Friend of the People.]—Kindly inform me how soon the West Division street car line will be completed from North Cicero avenue to North Sixtieth or Austin avenue?

M. MATTOS,
1212 North Menard avenue.

The ordinance covering the extension of West Division street from Cicero avenue to Austin avenue was passed by the city council to permit construction during the calendar year 1914. It is understood that the transportation committee of the council has the question of the period within which this construction shall be done under consideration in connection with the 1915 program.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE.

MR. BRAND AND NEUTRALITY.

Chicago, Jan. 31.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—I am one of the principal advocates of giving to the president the discretionary power to lay an embargo upon the exportation of weapons, ammunition, and munitions of war. I am also one of the principal advocates of a new international rule to be adopted and to be enacted into law by every civilized country, that the exportation of weapons, ammunition, and munitions of war be prohibited at all times, during peace as well as during war, to all points outside of the border of each country.

The United States should take the lead in this world movement and should take the lead at once!

The reason for taking that lead at once is to bring about an earlier peace. Irrespective of what belligerent nations may think, or how it may affect them. The reason we say "irrespective of what belligerent nations think or how it may affect them" is based upon grounds of morality, justice, and humanity.

For my inspiration, as well as for my guidance, I refer Mr. Gildart to Washington's farewell address and to Washington's proclamation of neutrality, the latter in 1793. These documents are fully American. We think they voice full American patriotism, consequently when we refer to them we believe we are taking the position of patriotic and loyal Americans, and not, as he seems to think, the position of disloyal Americans. If he will read the two articles by George Washington he will find it is stated therein that justice and humanity should guide the foreign policies of the United States without anything more being considered. These very words, "without anything more" are contained in Washington's farewell address.

It is very easy for individuals with pro-British feeling to vilify those other Americans like myself who stand for true American patriotism, but vilification is not argument.

I was born in Chicago. I have taken no oath of allegiance as he writes. I never attended any school excepting that it was located in the United States. I am a graduate of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Boston, Mass. I dare him to prove that his record equals mine in this respect. I studied political economy under President Walker, who in his time was considered the foremost known professor of political economy.

I think that my view of the welfare of this country for the future is sounder than Mr. Gildart's. I think that I am a truer American than he is, judging from his writing. I dare him to show in the writings of George Washington one single principle which is founded on the theory of making money over and above all other considerations.

The opponents to the resolution prohibiting exportation of weapons, ammunition, and munitions of war have but one argument, which they constantly use, and that is to prohibit as we request would be to deprive this country of $300,000,000 worth of orders for weapons, ammunition, and munitions of war. This argument is not truly American. It is not in harmony with George Washington's farewell address.

I dare him to prove from George Washington's wording any sound argument against our movement, which is to give to the president of the United States the legal right to lay an embargo upon the exportation from every point of the United States on weapons, ammunition and munitions of war, in whole or in part, to be later assembled, which can be used to kill human beings, and to make the absolute prohibition of exportation, at all times, of weapons, ammunition, and munitions of war, used to kill human beings a part of the law of nations.

MARKET STREET "L" STU

Chicago, Feb. 1.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—If the people who are demanding the abandoning of the "L" stub on Market street, which is in no way injuring the thoroughfare on which it is located, will but journey over to Madison street station on any evening between the hours of 5 and 6:15 p. m. and watch the hundreds of weary creatures who flock there from all directions, thus avoiding the trip around the loop, where a seat can always be procured and who would otherwise be compelled to stand up in an overcrowded loop train, they will not have to long question the great need of this Market street service. I, for one, walk six blocks each evening in order to obtain a comfortable seat.

If, on the other hand, these people who are advocating the abolishment of the trains can guarantee each of the users of the Market street trains a seat on the loop trains, then and only then will they be justified in taking away something which is such a great blessing to the public.

Chicago, Feb. 1.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—I understand on good authority that there is a good chance of passing the Palmer-Owen child labor bill at the present short session of congress if there is enough public opinion worked up in its favor to push it through and to keep it from being delayed. There is not time to delay in this matter, as action to do any good must be taken at once. We hope you will urge all your readers to use their influence, to write their senators and congressmen, to hold meetings if possible, and to interest the women's clubs, the Y. M. C. Literature, lantern slides, statistics, and all kinds of information can be obtained from the national child labor committee of New York City. THOMPSON ANGEL OF LORIMER CLAN, OLSON ASSERTS Fusion Republican Candidate Cites Chief Supporters of William Hale.

Judge Harry Olson, fusion candidate for mayor, last night formally opened his speaking campaign at a demonstration in the Seventh ward.

In his keynote speech he outlined the more important issues of the campaign as they appear to him and paid his respects to William Hale Thompson, so-called Lorimer Republican candidate.

Talks of Lorimerism.

Referring to Mr. Thompson's past affiliations in local politics Judge Olson said:

"One of my opponents, foreseeing the inevitable consequences of his past political associations, has forced upon me a discussion of ideals in public life which have come to be known as Lorimerism.

"Mr. Thompson has the support of most of the former leaders of the defunct Lorimer organization. These men have the right to prefer Thompson. He has the right to be their enthusiastic leader and angel.

"That he is not altogether proud of the leadership is apparent when he seeks to insinuate I did at one time pick up a crumb from their banquet table of spoils.

Got Job on Merits.

"I was once appointed assistant state's attorney. The appointment came not because I was a political factor but because I was thought to be industrious and capable.

"Some of his former political associates he is seeking to keep in the background. They were not permitted to be conspicuous in his great Auditorium meeting, for reasons one can guess.

"I have been told that Lundin hid behind the picture of Abraham Lincoln, Billy Cooke behind the bars of the American flag, and Gus Nohe was an eavesdropper upon that great gathering from the fire escape; while the Christmas tree on the stage, the emblem of good will, hung with bogus pledges, diverted the mind from what he has stood for in public life."

Here's His Platform.

Judge Olson summarized the platform on which he will make the race as follows:

A comprehensive correlation of all the city's resources.

The maximum of service of which the city's present transportation facilities are capable.

An efficiency survey of every department of the city's services.

Consolidation of the taxing bodies.

Small parks, playgrounds, swimming beaches, recreation piers and social centers.

Modern police stations and new firehouses.

Construction of public works so as to afford the maximum of employment during seasons of slack work.

Rehabilitation of the police force in public confidence.

The maximum use of the lake and the lake shore.

Consolidation of parks.

Home rule for Chicago.

Fostering of an aggressive community spirit to the end that "we all may work together for Chicago."

Interest in Each Other's Homes.

"Heretofore," continued Judge Olson, "we have each selfishly concerned ourselves only with our homes, but now, with the home in politics, we shall take an interest in the homes of each other."

Judge Olson foresees a greater and better Chicago because of the advent of women voters. He said their influence would force the public servants to establish a higher standard of efficiency and cleanliness in the art of muncipal government.

Speaking of the "home in politics," Judge Olson said:

"With the right of the women to participate in city government a new interest is invoked in the perplexing problems incident thereto. The husband will go with his wife to political meetings. The idea of civic responsibility has come. For the first time in the history of Chicago the home is in politics.

Hope Lies in Women.

"I confess to you I would not care to undertake the responsibility of leading the forces for more efficient government in Chicago if this were not so. The balance of power in this election may be held by the women of the city. As they vote so may go the election.

"Women will bring with them into public life the sense of economy that is developed in the management of a home. She will ask her husband what sort of a gang he is training with in public life. He cannot explain it away because she will know the truth.

Who's "Redlight" Candidate?

"Under these conditions no candidate with such versatile social proclivities that his candidacy arouses such enthusiasm and hope within the boundaries of the former red light district, that new oil be purchased for the lamps, the wicks are trimmed and red globes are polished awaiting his nomination and election, can evoke enthusiasm at the fireside in the homes of the people when grandma interrupts the evening study hour of the boys and girls to tell a story of long ago.

"No leader of a group of politicians who chose the name of martyred Lincoln for their organization, not so much because of any appreciation of his character as in the hope that the effulgence of his illumined name would so blind the public that they could not perceive the real purposes and ambitions of the members of the group, can hope to receive the votes of the fireside circle."

Judge Olson was introduced by David F. Matchett, chairman of the Republican county central committee. Ald. Merriam, Charles H. Sergel, former Gov. Charles S. Deneen, and Miss Harriet Vittum made speeches.

Only Woman to Run for a City Office.

Notes of Campaign for the Mayoralty

Judge Olson yesterday said that the attempt to involve his candidacy by preferring charges against him with the Chicago Bar association was supported by one lawyer he was forced to prosecute criminally at the time he, Olson, was an assistant state's attorney.

◆

The election commissioners, investigating suspect notices, have run across charges by the Sweitzer people that the registration of voters at the municipal lodging house was swelled considerably. The names of sixty-one lodgers, it appears, were turned in. The claim is made that only thirty-three were entitled to register.

◆

Mayor Harrison's campaign managers are out with the charge that all ousted police officials are organizing to boost the Sweitzer candidacy.

◆

State Grain Inspector John P. Gibbons and Representative Michael Igoe, two of Gov. Dunne's close political associates, called at the Harrison headquarters. They promised to carry the Sixth ward for the mayor.

◆

Parker H. Sercombe yesterday sent Mayor Harrison a letter informing the mayor that if he would adopt Coroner Hoffman's system of "safety first" propaganda Chicago could reduce in one year crimes and arrests by 12,000, fatal and nonfatal accidents by 3,000, sickness from contagious and noncontagious diseases by 6,000, deaths from wrong living by 2,000, and fires by 1,000.

SURPRISED SHE'S OUT FOR OFFICE, BUT WILL STICK

Only Woman Candidate for Alderman Says Her Friends Put Her in the Race.

Mrs. Barbara H. Smidl of 1412 West Eighteenth street is so far the only woman aspiring for political favors at the primaries. She expects to be alderman of the Tenth ward.

"I never was so surprised in my life to learn that I was a candidate," said Mrs. Smidl, optician, president of the Tenth Ward Woman's Progressive club, member of the Eastern Star, the Bohemian Benevolent society, the Pilsen Bohemian Athletic association, and contributor to the Demi Hlasatel, a Bohemian newspaper, on subjects of suffrage and women.

Friends Get Out Petition.

"My friends got out the petition for my candidacy and determined that I should run for alderman of the ward. I shall make the race, for I think that the women should make a few 'breaks' into politics if for only practice.

"I have been fifty-two years a citizen of Chicago and for thirty years a suffragist—although an active one for only twelve years.

"No housekeeping can be done by one sex—especially municipal housekeeping. It takes both sexes to make a success.

"When I am alderman I shall consider the right of the Bohemians to have direct transportation to visit their friends in Cicero and Crawford. As it is now, Eighteenth street is cut off at Leavitt when it should be continued to Cicero.

Jewish Playground Needed.

"The Jewish people in the north end of the ward have no playground. The only one in the ward is for the Bohemians and other Slavic peoples, the Dvorak park, between Fisk and May streets. The housing of these people is bad and the streets should be made cleaner and safer."

Mrs. Smidl emigrated from Bohemia when she was 2 years old. She talks Polish and other languages besides her own. She has been a widow for twenty years and is childless. She is a Progressive, but intends to make the race for alderman on the Republican ticket.

STREET CAR MEN'S HEAD INDORSES MAYOR HARRISON

President Mahon of Trolley Union Asserts Executive Is Opposed by Powerful Traction Interests.

Mayor Harrison yesterday made public two letters he received from W. D. Mahon, international president of the Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Railway Employés.

"I have always found you, while you were guarding the best interests of the community," read a letter dated Feb. 4, "ready to do what you could to improve and elevate the conditions of the street car men. I appreciate it and it seems to me our membership must appreciate the fact that you are opposed today by the same powerful traction interests that have always opposed the street car men of this city in their struggle for better wages and conditions; and I believe when the members go into the booth to cast their ballots they will not be unmindful of these facts and that they will cast their ballots for you as against powers that would love to defeat them."

Mr. Harrison said the letters were an answer to the statements of William Quinlan, president of the street car men's local union, that the organization was opposed to his reëlection.

Col. Alexander to Arrive Monday.

Col. Charles Alexander of Providence, R. I. steel magnate and wholesale grocer, is scheduled to arrive in Chicago Monday for arraignment on charges of violating the Mann act. District Attorney Clyne announced yesterday that he received information to this effect from William Hayes, counsel for the defendant.

'FIRE' MANAGER? SURE!--SWEITZER

"If He Brings City to Edge of Bankruptcy, Let Him Go."

AGAINST "LIFE-MAYOR"

Robert M. Sweitzer continued his attacks on Mayor Harrison in his stump speeches last night. At a meeting in Teutonia hall in the Twenty-ninth ward Mr. Sweitzer repeated his charge that Mayor Harrison's administration in the last year spent $1,400,000 more than the revenues.

"'Do you fire your managers and superintendents when they have had twelve years' experience?' inquires the gentleman who is seeking to convince you that the mayor of Chicago should hold his job for life.

"It was a pathetic plea, and the answer is going to be more pathetic, from that gentleman's point of view. That answer is: Yes, when he brings the institution he manages to the very edge of bankruptcy. Yes, if that manager so mismanaged the most important department of the institution, like the schools of Chicago, that it could not keep running for lack of money.

"What private concern would tolerate a manager whose outgo was $1,400,000 more than his income last year, and who, on top of that, proposes an outgo of $2,250,000 more than his income for this year?

"Suppose it were the business of that private institution to protect its stockholders from robbery and theft and holdups. And suppose that instead of protecting them those stockholders found that the number of holdups increased 50 per cent a year, and that burglaries increased 21½ per cent a year. Would that manager keep his job, just because he had had twelve years' experience?"

HEY CHALLENGES RIVALS TO MEET HIM IN DEBATE.

Alderman Asserts Voters Are Not Hearing the Real Issues Because of Personalities.

Ald. Jacob Hey, opening his speaking campaign for the mayoralty nomination last night, challenged his rivals in the battle to joint debates. He said that the reason for this was that, in his opinion, the voters were not getting the real issues, but personalities.

"There is grave danger, it seems to me," said Ald. Hey, "that sane and careful discussion of our pending civic problems will be sidetracked to permit a revival of 'Lorimerism' and 'Deneenism.'

"Let the people know where Judge Olson and Mr. Thompson stand, definitely and concretely, on the questions of subway and an adequate sewage system. Mr. Thompson plainly is dodging the question of subway construction, afraid to offend the warring interests. I am not afraid."

SWEITZER FALSE TRACTION CRITIC, HARRISON SAYS

"He Absolutely Misrepresents the Facts," Mayor Tells Audiences.

More heat was added to the Democratic primary battle last night when Mayor Harrison replied to criticisms of the manner in which the city's traction fund is handled.

"When Mr. Sweitzer criticizes the use to which the traction fund has been put," began the mayor, "he absolutely misrepresents the facts."

He told the history of the legislation permitting the city to buy its own tax warrants with its idle sinking and trust funds, which at that time were drawing only 2 per cent from the banks, although the banks charged the city 5 per cent for loans on its tax warrants.

"He Is Absolutely Ignorant."

"When Mr. Sweitzer criticizes the handling of the traction fund," the mayor continued, "he shows he is absolutely ignorant of even the fundamentals of city government. He shows he knows absolutely nothing about this important question. Or—and this is the only other horn of the dilemma—his criticisms mean that he would have the city return to the old method under which the banks would profit 3 per cent on the money borrowed from them on tax warrants.

"If you don't know it I can tell you without violating any confidence that the big corporations of Chicago are very much in favor of the candidacy of Bob Sweitzer. If you could get into the sanctum of the traction companies, through the doors of the elevated railroad companies, of the gas company, the Commonwealth Edison company, or any of the other great corporations that are enriching themselves at the expense of the public, you would find they are plotting today to put over Bob Sweitzer.

Banks Seek to Come Back?

"And I would not be surprised if some of the big banks were in the game and if they would like to return to the old order of doing business. That would mean that they would get 5 per cent for money loaned to the city, even though the city had money lying in the same banks on which it was receiving only 3 per cent—the price they now pay for money left in their hands for longer than ninety days."

Hodcarriers' hall at Harrison and Green streets was the scene of the mayor's first meeting. It was packed to the doors, the attendance being estimated at 1,500. The second meeting was at the Moose school, California and Wabansia avenues.

Verdict Against City Reversed.

The verdict for $9,000 Mary Geraldine Neville obtained against the city of Chicago was reversed yesterday and the case remanded for trial, which will be the third.

FIREMEN FILE A PETITION.

"Double Platoon" System Proposal, Giving Department Men More Leisure, May Get on Ballot.

A petition containing approximately 71,000 names and asking that the "double platoon" system for firemen be submitted to a referendum vote was filed with the election commissioners yesterday. Dennis J. Egan, chief clerk, said that unless objections are filed against it and upheld it will be placed on the small ballot at the April election.

George B. Hargan, president of the Firemen's Association of Chicago, filed the petition.

The "double platoon" system provides more leisure for the firemen.

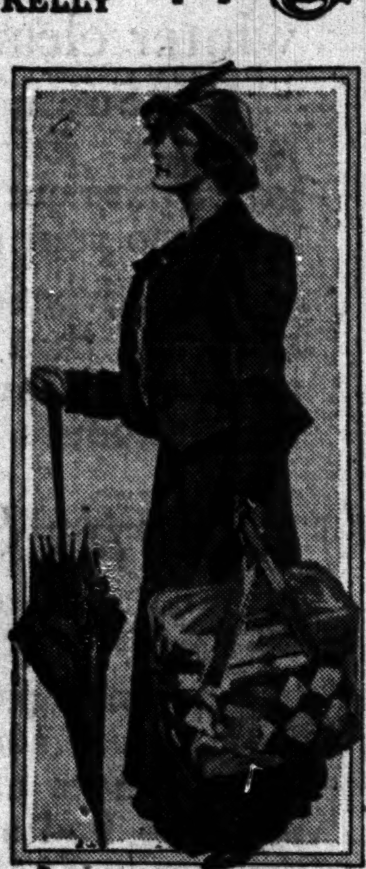
WHEN I have walked along busy Madison street, trying in transit to comprehend the gay illuminations hung outside of the moving picture theaters supposedly for the purpose of announcing the shows within, trying to "get" them without being knocked down or walked over or run into by less leisurely folk, I have wondered sometimes if the poster makers ever saw their product outside of the workshop where the color splashes and mile wide letterings are applied. I think not, else surely they would realize that thick fat letters stretching clear across the sheet of "paper" are far less easy to read and so much less effective than thin, slim letters that the eye can get in a single glance.

Really, to read the titles of pictures—which must be read, because unlike favorite players' names which can be caught in a glance, they are new to the mind, one must stop and peruse the flaming sheets, whereas smaller print could be caught "on the fly."

Somebody has sensed the impracticability and inartisticness of the garish sheet, however, and that somebody an artist of distinction sufficient to lend prestige to his ideas. The distinguishing thing, really, about the animated picturization of James Montgomery Flagg's "Adventures of Kitty Cobb" is the advertising material he has supplied in the shape of delightful posters and attractive heralds made from his own drawings. He has set a precedent that deserves widespread following. The illustration shows one of his poster concepts of his heroine.



FLAGG'S "KITTY COBB"

The picture is of its kind good, though not of a very superior kind. One feels rather that Mr. Flagg had expended most of his ideas on his posters.

Kitty, whom I suffer to call further the kicker, is a country maiden with a penchant for getting into tight places, being gagged and literally kicking free.

She gets dreadfully mixed up with the base villain, who tries to steal the plans her nice young man has drawn for the government and there is accumulated such a collection of "punches" in the ensuing fights, that one becomes quite as calloused to them as to being bumped in the street cars. Everything ends happily, however, and romance is again crowned king of life.

Something less melodramatic would be more attractive to my way of thinking, but there is no denying that this is brisk melodrama. The film is introduced by an attractive picture of James Montgomery Flagg, in artistic activity, revealing him as a very personable creature, much better looking than his cartoons of himself indicate.

"Your letter arrived in which you gave the address of Jane M. I am now sending her some articles which I hope she can use. To Miss S. I am forwarding the atlas of the world, and to Mr. H. I am giving the other book. MRS. J. B."

It is us from whom thanks are due, dear liberal soul. Your notelet is like a breath of fresh life giving air. Heaven bless and reward you richly!

Old and Deaf.

"Has some one an ear trumpet for the dearest old lady (widow), who is visiting me? She is 74 years old and deaf. She cannot afford to buy one and would not think of asking for one. But I know she would be happy to hear a sermon. She always goes to church, but hears little.

"MRS. A. B."

A second call for an ear trumpet—and one that appeals to us with force. Have you ever thought what it would be to hear once more a sermon and service if you had been deprived of the sacred privilege for months? Will not devout churchgoers see that the widow who is too proud to beg for the trumpet is no longer deprived of the privilege of the sanctuary she loves?

Inscription on a Coin.

"I have a coin and should like to know what the following stands for: 'S. Georgivs. Eqvitvm Patronvs. In Tempestate Secvritas. E. H."

A free translation of the inscription is: "St. George, protector [or guardian] of knights. Refuge in time of trouble." St. George is, you know, the patron saint of England. The coin probably belonged to a Knight of St. George, an ancient order.

Do a Man's Evenings Belong to His Wife?

"I have been married two years. I married a business man seven years my senior. The first two months of our married life were spent traveling, and there was no happier bride than I. Then we settled down in a nice little flat.

"My husband liked his home and stayed home evenings with me, if we did not go out together. He used to tell me how his evenings were spent before we were marrid. He said he always went to his club or other associations that he belonged to, and that he must start to attend them again, for no man could afford to drop them altogether, and run chances of losing some of his best friends. At this remark I would always plead and beg him not to go and leave me home all alone.

"As time went on, and he saw that I was foolish enough to expect him to give up all his friends, and not go out evenings unless I was with him, he simply did not come home for dinner, but would go after office hours to his club. Now I as a girl always said that when I got married I would not let my husband leave me alone evenings. So I showed my temper when my husband came home, and in my folly made married life unhappy for him, and the consequences were that I was left alone night after night.

"I was foolish and stubborn not to give my consent to his going out in the beginning, and now I was losing him altogether. We were never happy and I thought that he did not love me as he used to. He always appeared to be unhappy and our breakfast would be eaten in silence. At last one morning he said he was tired of married life and that I acted like a child instead of a sensible wife. This, of course, left me in hysterics, and when he banged the door shut and went out I got up and went home to my mother's.

"Dear old mother, how well she understood my feelings, when I fell sobbing into her arms and told her all. She waited until I had finished and then explained it all so clearly to me. I saw what a foolish and selfish wife I had been right along. I went back to my husband and told him that I would try to be more sensible in the future.

"We were very happy after that."

Doris Blake's Answers.

Thank Him for the Diamond?

"Dear Miss Blake: When a man proposes to a young lady and he gives her a diamond, should she thank him for the ring, or what should she say? C."

Of course the girl should thank the man for the ring. Surely the time and energy, let alone the expense, which the young man went to deserve some word of gratitude. You may thank him as sweetly as you wish.

She's Three Years Older.

"Dear Miss Blake: I am a young man of 20 and am going with a girl who I expect to marry. She is three years my senior. Do you think the difference in our ages would matter? E. C. A."

If you love one another the difference in your ages won't make the least difference in your happiness.

The TRIBUNE COOK BOOK

EDITED BY JANE EDDINGTON

All recipes have been scientifically tested by Miss Eddington with current market materials and are indorsed by her.

Rice "Riz Au Lait."

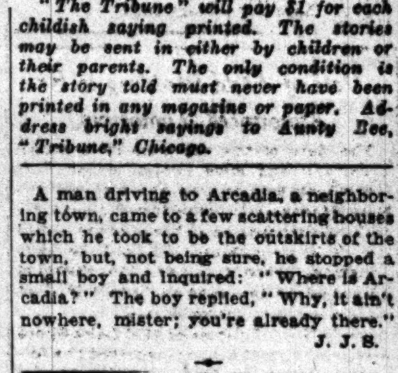
THREE years ago a lonely bachelor who had been eating at the same place for twenty-two years had had once a day during all that time a dish of rice boiled, or rather steamed, in milk. It would be interesting to know if the famous cook, a French woman, prepared this dish for him for a quarter of a century.

Rice so cooked can be eaten and enjoyed without any addition of sugar or sauce. The long cooking makes it the sweetest rice, without any addition of sugar, that can be cooked. It is what the French call "riz au lait" (they pronounce it like one word, "riolay"), and the Germans "milchreis." Both peoples consume it in enormous quantities. Of course, the French blanch the rice generally, as they blanch almost every vegetable and cereal before cooking it, but they have at least three, if not four, methods of preparing it. The Germans make more of a pudding-like thing of it by cooking it in a mold so that it will keep its form like any pudding so cooked. The following recipe is more German than French, and produces a handsome dish when successfully cooked. It may be served with an egg sauce and what is left over makes a good breakfast dish.

Rice in Milk.

Scald a half cup of picked over rice in three different waters, adding a pinch of soda to the last. Put into a buttered brown bread mold of the pint size, cover with a buttered cover, and set on a trivet in boiling water two-thirds of its height in a kettle which can be covered. Cook over a fire which will just keep the water boiling for two hours. Let the mold cool a bit before turning it over on a plate to turn out the rice for serving.

Bright Sayings of Children



Jack was invited to a children's party, but had forgotten to bring his part of the feast, which consisted of a cake. Arriving at the house, he confronted my mother at the door and, trying to excuse his error, piped this: "I forgot the cake, but I brought myself." R. B. JR.

"The Tribune" will pay $1 for each childish saying printed. The stories may be sent in either by children or their parents. The only condition is the story told must never have been printed in any magazine or paper. Address bright sayings to Aunty Bee, "Tribune," Chicago.

A man driving to Arcadia, a neighboring town, came to a few scattering houses which he took to be the outskirts of the town, but, not being sure, he stopped a small boy and inquired: "Where is Arcadia?" The boy replied, "Why, it ain't nowhere, mister; you're already there." J. J. S.

The family were discussing what to have for Christmas dinenr in meat. Some suggested duck, some turkey, some chicken. Then 4 year old Jean spoke up and said: "O, mamma, let's have swan." E. M. P.

Johnnie and his mother were walking through the Lincoln park zoo and when they reached the tiger cage one of the tigers was stretched out on the floor sleeping. As soon as Johnnie saw this he said: "O, mamma, there's a carpet just like ours, only its alive." G. J. N.

Limited Beauty.

Lillian Russell

[Copyright: 1915: By Lillian Russell.]

SOME of the girls I see seem to be devoting all their time to the development of a single line of beauty. Among them are girls who have beautiful complexions, but with unkempt hair and hands that are in a horrible condition. Others devote all their time to their hands and neglect their complexions. Sometimes the condition of the hair shows that it is receiving all the attention. Then, again, there is evidence that only poise and grace are neglected. In every case the effect is apparent. It takes more than one feather to make a beautiful bird. The rose with one petal perfectly developed and the rest withered is not a pretty flower. If a woman expects to be attractive she cannot give all of her attention to any particular feature. Woman's beauty is found in the perfectly developed woman with hands, hair, complexion, figure, and everything else in proper accord.

Lillian Russell's Answers.

Have you reduced your flesh? If so, write and tell me how you reduced and how many pounds you lost. "The Tribune" will pay [illegible] for every letter published. Address Lillian Russell, "Chicago Tribune," Chicago.

KATHERINE A.: I certainly do not advise you to do anything to reduce the size of your face. There is nothing so attractive as a round, plump, pretty face. You would be liable to make the flesh flabby and your cheeks would sag, thus making you look unattractive.

BEATRICE: Take enough pure peroxide of hydrogen to wet the hair; add a few drops of ammonia. This will bleach the hair so it will not be so conspicuous, and the ammonia will gradually kill the roots. If you will send a stamped, addressed envelope I shall be glad to send full instructions for removing superfluous hair.

ADELE: Don't be impatient. You can't expect your lashes and brows to grow in a day. It takes time. Melt some yellow vaseline and place it on the roots of the lashes with a tiny camel's hair brush. Do this every night for a couple of weeks, being careful not to get any in the eyes. It may take even longer than that to see any change. But persevere. The world was not made in a day, you know.

S. R. H.: I should like to answer you personally, but you did not send me a stamped, addressed envelope. If you will do this, I think I can help you overcome your difficulty.

Society and Entertainments

Scribblers See McGann Paintings.

THERE was an interesting gathering yesterday in the ballroom of Mrs. Robert McGann's home at 120 Pearson street when the Scribblers, that organization about which one hears so little, met to listen to a paper that Mrs. McGann had written and which she read on "Early Lake Forest."

Mrs. McGann had also asked her guests to witness a private exhibition of some of her paintings—outdoor canvases for the most part—and the ballroom served as a fitting background to the charming collection. There were few portraits, most of the paintings being those painted in California last year and in Lake Forest from time to time.

The afternoon was also given as a semi-farewell to Mrs. McGann's sister, Mrs. Hobart Chatfield-Taylor, who leaves today at noon to join Mr. Taylor at Augusta, Ga., where he has been for some weeks.

Another item of interest learned during the afternoon was that Mrs. McGann's portrait of Mrs. Ray Atherton, which won such praise at the recent exhibition at the Art institute, has gone to the Philadelphia exhibition with honors.

Mrs. McGann will leave one week from today for Santa Barbara, Cal., where she will spend the remainder of the season sketching with a group of artist friends there. Later Lawton Parker will join the gathering and perhaps direct it, as he did last year.

Mrs. Thomas Lindsay of Boston, who is the guest of Mrs. Bryan Lathrop of 15 Bellevue place, was the guest of honor last evening at a dinner given by Miss Edith Blair at the Casino club. The dinner to be given by Mrs. Stanley Field on Friday of next week for Mrs. Lindsay is to be given at the Casino also.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Howard of 1418 Lake Shore drive will give a small dinner next Thursday in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Remington of New York, who will be their guests. Mr. and Mrs. D. Mark Cummings will give a dinner-dance for Mr. and Mrs. Remington on Feb. 15 at the Casino club.

◆

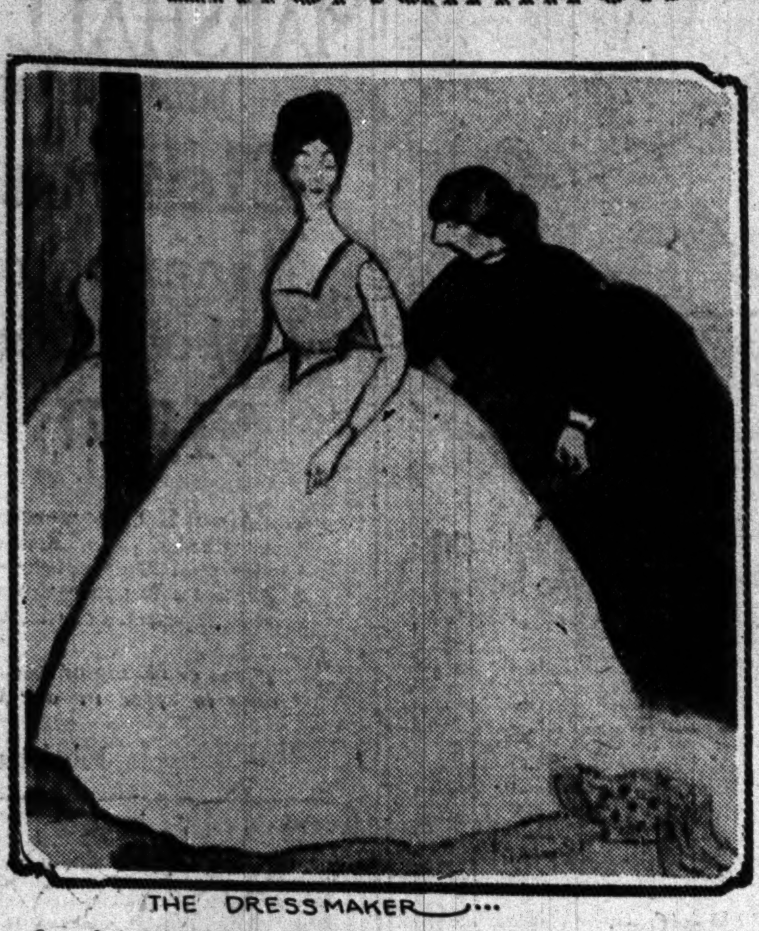
Mrs. J. Ogden Armour, who will entertain four guests at the Little theater tomorrow, gave a luncheon on Wednesday in honor of Lady Gregory at her residence, 3724 Michigan avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Secor Cunningham of 999 Lake Shore drive will entertain a party of sixteen at the Saddle and Cycle club tomorrow evening. Others entertaining at the club tomorrow include Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Adsit, Mr. and Mrs. Hampden Winston, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Shaw, Mr. and Mrs. John Towne, and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Prindiville.

Mrs. Levant Richardson of 803 Kenesaw terrace will open her home on the afternoon of Tuesday, Feb. 9, for a charity card party given by the repairs committee of the board of directors for the Chicago Home for Convalescent Women and Children, of which Mrs. John Maierre is chairman.

James L. Houghteling Jr. gave a dinner last evening for twelve at the Blackstone.

Arthur Wheeler had a party of six and Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Bryson had a small dinner company also at the Blackstone.



THE DRESSMAKER

One of the pictures which will be sold on Monday, the opening night of the fashion show at the First Regiment armory, will be "The Dressmaker," a painting by Mrs. John Alden Carpenter. Mrs. Carpenter is one of the judges who was appointed by Mrs. Lockwood Honoré. The proceeds of the sale will go to the Emerson House settlement, which will be the beneficiary from the first night of the show.

He Will Be Present at His Wedding.

HUNDREDS of invitations have been sent out by Mr. and Mrs. William R. Lynn for the wedding of their daughter, Dorothy Caroline, and Cyrus McCormick. The combined Linn and McCormick lists is a long one, needless to say.

Among the many invitations was one sent inadvertently to Mr. Cyrus McCormick Jr., 50 East Huron street, who with great promptness replied at once, formally accepting Mr. and Mrs. Linn's invitation to be present at his own wedding and the breakfast as well.

Which goes to show that the younger Cyrus has a sense of humor, even if he is an archæologist and has taken an Oxford degree.

The Linn-McCormick ceremony is to be on the north side, in the Fourth Presbyterian church, at noon on Saturday of next week, while the breakfast is to be on the south side at the Linns', which will mean a gay wedding cavalcade across the Chicago river. The wedding breakfast and dance will undoubtedly be one of the events of the season, and Mr. and Mrs. Linn are preparing for it by building a temporary ballroom to their Michigan avenue house.

In the meantime Mrs. Cyrus H. McCormick has been to Wichita, Kas., with her son and her daughter-to-be on a house hunting, house furnishing expedition. The young couple are to live in Kansas. Since their return they are frequently seen walking the snowy boulevards, he handsome and broad of shoulder, and she, a vision of slim grace in a leopard skin coat, a line of the much admired titian hair showing under a close capote adorned with wintry berries.

Lent almost here! The cards for Lenten lectures and sewing classes bring this fact home with the morning mail. One of the largest and most energetic of last year's classes met at the Wrenn's in Astor street, sewing for the social service of the Children's Memorial hospital. Miss Ethel Wrenn has the class again this year, Thursday afternoons, beginning Feb. 18. Miss H. H. Shearson is chairman of the committee and some of the women who will grind the sewing machines and cut and stitch infant apparel are Mrs. Bertrand Walker, Mrs. Mark Cummings, Mrs. Augustus Peabody, Mrs. E. I. Cudahy, Mrs. Harrison Musgrave, Mrs. Eugene R. Pike, Mrs. F. H. Rawson, Mrs. Volney Foster, Mrs. George H. Taylor, Mrs. David Cooke Jr., and Mrs. William P. Martin.

A tea party late in the afternoon rewards these benevolent ones.

Says Women Should Be Duets, Not Echoes

MILITANCY for suffrage is only psychology in action. Because the militants of England wished to put suffrage in the middle ground for the people's observance, they became destructive and obtrusive, according to Miss Christabel Pankhurst in explaining her "militancy" to the members of the Illinois Woman's Press club last night in the Stevens building.

"The greater number of people avoid thinking about anything," said Miss Pankhurst. "They only see things that are far from the extreme points—the middle ground only. So the militants took the extreme point of interest at one end, the anti-suffragists took the other extreme point, and this landed suffrage right in the middle. So suffrage got attention from the public.

"Men must have the help of women, and they have made a virtue of necessity by treating women very reverently in Illinois. I notice this from a different perspective—that of one from another continent. Women in Illinois appear very important. But to be really so they must not be echoes of the men in the government, but duets."

Miss Audrie Alspaugh, "Kitty Kelly" of THE TRIBUNE, gave some "flickerings" from the life of a moving picture editor.

Miss Marian Bowlan of the Journal told of the sighs of a society editor.

Mrs. W. A. Evans depicted the tribulations as the wife of "Old Doc Evans," the title of endearment she said was given to the health editor of THE TRIBUNE by his readers.

Miss Mary Eileen Ahern, editor of "Public Libraries," spoke.

Miss Ethel Colson of the Chicago Herald, president of the club, and Mrs. Charles S. Clark, chairman of the entertainment committee, directed the features from the platform. Dr. Julia Holmes Smith contributed an original poem.

Complain of a Principal.

A delegation of members of the parent-teacher society of the Holmes school appeared before Supt. Ella Flagg Young yesterday to file complaints against the principal of the school, James W. McGinnis. Among the complaints were that he is untruthful, that he forced children to remain in the rain one day, and that he will not coöperate with the parents. Some of the same persons appeared against the janitor of the school several weeks ago. The school management committee will hold a hearing on the case next Wednesday.

Members of the board of education addressed a meeting of teachers at the Agassiz school, Seminary avenue and George street. The meeting was called by the Teachers' federation for the purpose of hearing suggestions from the teachers that might aid the board in raising revenue to meet the automatic increases in teachers' salaries.

Harold Henry at Fine Arts Theater.

BY RONALD WEBSTER.

HAROLD HENRY is one of the Chicago pianists whom New York takes seriously. New York generally prefers not to acclaim middle western talent, but his welcome there was explained at his recital last night in the Fine Arts theater. It was the same program, I think, as that which he gave in the east.

One might have quarreled with him over his choice of compositions for the first part of the evening. In spite of the glorious names of the composers—Schumann, Brahms, Schubert, and Chopin—there didn't seem to be much in them. The Schumann sonata (Opus 22) seemed like a difficult piece for students. Mr. Henry got as much out of it as he could.

The Brahms intermezzo, which Mr. Henry did not "slay by sentimentality," the Schubert impromptu, which was monotonous, and the Chopin fantasie formed the second division.

Mr. Henry was thoroughly warmed up by that time, or he had become accustomed to his audience, for the reticence which begot a certain monotony in the former compositions, disappeared and he entered upon the Cesar Franck prelude, chorale, and fugue with more feeling. His performance of it explains the paradox of the New York attitude.

He not only played it but he made it a live thing. One was compelled to yield to it, to forget that it might be merely a succession of notes.

◆

Mr. Henry is not given to estheticism except in his music. He employs none of those devices which some musicians use.

North Side Jews to Build Lake Shore Club.

The Hampden club, an organization composed of north side Jews, is to build a new clubhouse on the shore of Lake Michigan. Among the features of the new building will be a glass inclosed winter pavilion extending over the lake, a roof observatory which will offer a view of miles of the lake shore, a private bathing beach, and accommodation for members' yachts.

The new clubhouse is to be located on the property on the north side of Buena avenue along the new shore line created by the Lincoln park board. It will have a frontage of 165 feet and a depth from the water line of 139 feet. The transfer of the property was effected by Willis & Frankenstein for the club and J. L. Beckwith for the seller, Mrs. Lina S. Waller, widow of Robert A. Waller, former city controller.

The property was sold for $150 a front foot, a total of $24,750 for the tract. The Chicago Title and Trust company was made trustee for the club.

"It is our intention to spare nothing to make the clubhouse one of the most beautiful in the city," said W. B. Frankenstein, the president of the club, after announcing the purchase yesterday. "We will try to utilize every advantage that the location along the lake will afford us."

The new clubhouse will take the place of rented quarters at 2732 Hampden court. The plans for the new building have not been completed.

Date of Field Wedding to Be Announced Tomorrow.

The date of the marriage of Marshall Field III. and Miss Evelyn Marshall of New York will be announced tomorrow. Miss Marshall is suffering from an attack of influenza, but her mother denied last night that this has caused the postponement of the marriage. She reiterated her previous assertion that the plans had not as yet been completed.

Mrs. Henry Dibblee of 1100 Lake Shore drive, Mr. Field's aunt, received the following telegram from him during the day:

"Wedding postponed on account of illness."

This led to the belief that the nuptials had been arranged for yesterday or possibly Saturday.

"There is no postponement," said Mrs. Marshall. "The date will be announced on Saturday. My daughter is suffering merely from a slight attack of influenza, but this has affected the plans in no way."

ADVERTISE IN THE TRIBUNE.

SEARCHLIGHT ON STRIKE CAUSE AT ROOSEVELT, N. J.

Industrial Board Hears Both Sides; Hillquit Calls Foundations "Business."

New York, Feb. 4.—An inquiry into the strike at the Chrome and Roosevelt, N. J., plants of the American Agricultural Chemical company, which resulted in the recent shooting and killing of strikers, today was inaugurated by the federal commission on industrial relations.

The commission had before it one of the strikers and one of the directors of the company.

The striker was Antoni Wialter, who testified he tried to support a wife and five children on a wage of $1.60 a day and failed. Even with additional money his wife was able to earn he could not pay for the bare necessaries of life, he said. So he ran into debt.

Never Visited Plants.

The director was A. Barton Hepburn, who also is chairman of the board of directors of the Chase National bank of New York City and one of the trustees of the Rockefeller Foundation.

Mr. Hepburn said he knew nothing about the condition of the employés of the chemical company and he had never visited the plants in New Jersey.

He first learned that strikers had been shot when he read it in the newspapers. He then called up an official of the company and was told that the men were on strike "for more wages and shorter working hours."

Figured on Breaking Strike.

The official also told him that he believed the strike would be of short duration, as there were many men looking for the places the strikers had vacated.

As a stockholder, the witness said, he did not consider himself responsible for the conditions at Roosevelt.

He defended the Rockefeller Foundation, its purposes and policies, and said he did not know that among the securities held by it were those of the American Agricultural Chemical company.

Calls Foundations "Business."

Morris Hillquit, a socialist writer, followed Mr. Hepburn. He assailed the philanthropic foundations as "at the bottom business enterprises," founded by capitalists "who do not seek to relieve their suffering fellow men, but to strengthen their own social and economic position."

"Hardly any part of the huge funds concentrated in the modern philanthropic trusts is applicable to the relief of the widespread poverty, misery, and distress of the American population," Mr. Hillquit said.

He cited the relief furnished to the Belgians as the only charitable work on a large scale undertaken by the Rockefeller foundation.

Work to Do at Home.

The foundation's activities in eradicating the hookworm disease in foreign countries, through the international health commission, Mr. Hillquitt declared, were based on Mr. Rockefeller's own admission upon "economic efficiency."

Mr. Hillquit said that while Egyptians and Malayans were being freed of the hookworm he could not forget how many thousands of American workers died annually of tuberculosis, "mostly victims of social and industrial surroundings."

Other witnesses today were George W. Kirchwey, professor of law at Columbia university, and John R. Lawson, executive board member of the United Mine Workers of America.

Prof. Kirchwey gave it as his opinion that there was some doubt that the charters of the Rockefeller and Carnegie foundations were constitutional, as they failed properly to define the scope and purposes of the institutions.

Dr. Healy Wins Psychopathic Post.

Dr. William Healy of Winnetka passed the examination for director of the Juvenile Psychopathic institute with the highest average, according to an announcement made at the county civil service commission office yesterday. The position pays a salary of $5,000 a year.

FIGHT ON BANK BEGUN BY LEWIS

Senator Demands That McAdoo Give Information on Directors.

PLANS TO HIT FORGAN.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 4.—[Special.]—Senator Lewis today opened his fight on the federal reserve board and particularly the directors of the Chicago Reserve bank, when he introduced a resolution in the senate calling upon Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo and members of the board to furnish congress with information concerning the selection of directors of the district reserve bank.

The introduction of the resolution is the result of a difference between Senator Lewis and Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo on one hand and Senator Lewis and George M. Reynolds and James B. Forgan, two of the class A Chicago directors, on the other.

All the senator would say today concerning his resolution was this:

"I intend to make the information which the secretary is asked for the basis of a speech on what I regard as the perversion of the whole federal reserve system."

James B. Forgan, president of the First National bank of Chicago, will be the direct object of Senator Lewis' attack during the speech.

MISS BOOTH HAS PERITONITIS

Salvation Army Commander Must Stay in Her Cincinnati Hotel for Thirty-six Hours.

GLENCOE'S FAMOUS SPRING PRODUCT OF VILLAGE MAINS.

Manager Tells of Discovery That Public Paid for Having Water Pumped to Run Away.

For many years Glencoe boasted a wonderful spring of pure water pushing from a bluff and running in crystalline beauty down to the lake. The spring was constant even in the dryest seasons. It always ran a generous, spirited stream, clear and cold. Then along came the village manager, a new official in the new order of things—H. H. Sherer, appointed to put the affairs of the suburb on a business basis.

In a curious moment Mr. Sherer shut off the water in the mains. Then he went back to the "spring" and awaited results. In forty minutes the perpetual spring ceased to flow.

Glencoe had been paying 7 cents a thousand gallons to pump the water that ran off into the lake night and day the year around.

The story of the spring was a part of Mr. Sherer's address last night before the Wilmette Civic association. He explained the work of village management as a business enterprise and told of important savings gained.

POLICE FORCE WILL SEEK JOBS FOR CITY'S IDLE

Gleason to Aid Industrial Body in Placing the Unemployed.

BLUE TICKET NEEDED.

BY HENRY M. HYDE.

The police force of Chicago has been enlisted in the campaign to find jobs for the unemployed. Chief Gleason has promised the coöperation of the department to Dr. Charles R. Henderson, chairman of the emergency industrial commission, appointed at the suggestion of THE TRIBUNE to see what could be done to relieve the present distressing situation.

In all parts of the city outside the downtown business district the policemen will call at factories and business houses on their beats and leave copies of the appeal issued by the commission.

The officers also will take orders for emergency work wherever it is possible to find them, and will telephone them to the department of the public welfare, 7707 Central, which will be able promptly to furnish any number of men desired. It is expected that at least 20,000 copies of the commission's appeal will be distributed in this way.

Mrs. Meder Will Help.

Commissioner Meder of the city department of public welfare also has thrown all the resources of her office to the aid of Chairman Henderson and his colleagues. She has furnished desk room and headquarters for the industrial commission, and will send out this week five or six men to canvass employers in the central business district for emergency jobs.

It should be emphasized that all the jobs received will be filled by men who are permanent citizens of Chicago. There will be no chance for strangers or visitors in the city to find work as a result of the work of the commission.

No man will be sent out to fill a job until he has secured one of the blue preferential employment tickets—suggested in THE TRIBUNE last November—which are issued by the department of public welfare, and which certifies that the owner is a resident of Chicago and has a family dependent on him for support.

Here Is the Appeal.

The appeal issued by the industrial commission, which will be distributed by the police, is as follows:

EMERGENCY INDUSTRIAL COMMISSION.

Charles R. Henderson, chairman; John E. Merrion, W. L. Park, Simon O'Donnell, R. T. Crane Jr., Edward Tilden, Edward Nockels, Julius Rosenwald, John Grunau, Louis B. Kuppenheimer.

GIVE US A JOB! DO IT NOW!

One hundred and seventy-five thousand men out of work. Many suffering in a land of plenty. Think of some way to help. Think hard. Think now. For the honor of Chicago.

WE WILL!

The situation among the unemployed is serious. Children go to school faint with hunger. Strong and honest men are in a desperate situation. Public order is threatened and the honor of our city is in peril. The best help to an able man is not charity but wages for useful work.

Can you not make a thorough study of your factory, mill, shop, or residence, and see if you can employ at least a few men, even if only a short time, at something which can be done now?

For example, some employers and householders by careful inspection have found they could employ some men at such things as:

Repairs on buildings, fences, bridges.

Cleaning up factories, offices, dwellings.

Overhauling and oiling trucks.

Painting stairways.

Cleaning and repairing furniture.

Scrubbing and cleaning floors.

Cutting paper and cleaning.

Clearing out cellars and whitewashing or painting.

Examining trees for larvæ of destructive moths.

Clearing snow and ice from sidewalks.

Removing garbage and waste from yards and alleys.

Can you keep more persons at work by employing a larger force on part time?

If you can employ a woman, inquire of the Woman's Club committee, Powers building, corner of Monroe street and Wabash avenue.

If you can employ male help, inquire by telephone of the nearest State Free employment Bureau (732 South Wabash avenue, 526 North Clark street, or Canal and Randolph streets; or the City Department of Public Welfare, eighth floor, City Hall Square building, 139 North Clark street; telephone Central 7707.)

See that each person employed has a blue ticket showing that he is a citizen of Chicago and bread earner for a family.

See that the man is not weak from hunger and suffering with cold before you set him to work.

150 Given Places

From members of the commission emergency jobs for 150 men already have been received and filled. The last of 1,300 letters appealing to the larger employers of labor to find emergency work for at least a few of the unemployed have just been sent out by the department of public welfare, and offers of employment already are beginning to come in, though very slowly. Perhaps fifty jobs have so far been filled. Yesterday afternoon the manager of a theatrical company appearing at a local theater applied at the department for twenty men to appear as supers in his performances and was promptly supplied.

Altogether the department has issued about 1,000 of the blue tickets, testifying that their owners are permanent residents of Chicago, that they are supporting families, and that, all other things being equal, they should be given preference in employment. Careful investigation is made in every case before a blue ticket is issued and references are required and consulted.

U. S. WILL HELP IDLE.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 4.—[Special.]—The house committee on labor today reported to the house with recommendations for immediate passage the measure introduced by Representative MacDonald of Michigan to provide for the establishment of a national employment bureau under the direction and supervision of the secretary of labor.

The bill proposes that a general office shall be located in Washington and that every postoffice throughout the United States shall be made a labor exchange, with the postmaster authorized as labor agent.

Employers desiring laborers are to apply to the offices nearest them, the postmasters of which will then furnish the supply. Likewise laborers are to file their applications for work with the exchanges, provided they do not have incomes at the time of filing exceeding $1 per day.

LABOR WITNESS ANGERS JUDGE

Makes False Charge Waitress Decree Was Held Up "Until After Election."

While the suit of George Knab and other restaurant men against the Waitresses' union was on hearing yesterday Judge Baldwin's attention was called to a labor magazine article stating "suspicion" concerning the attitude of the judge in the case first arose when the "mysterious wait" occurred before the signing of the injunction now in force. It was charged that the judge delayed signing the decree "until after election."

Fred Ebeling, author of the article, was on the stand.

"Until after what election?" demanded the judge.

"I don't know."

Insists There Was an Election.

"Don't you know that there wasn't any election then?"

"There was an election," Ebeling insisted, sullenly.

"I am on the bench and therefore have little to say, but I will say this," remarked Judge Baldwin, "during all my years of work in this city it has remained for this man to be the first to charge me with unfairness and corruption—for that is what it amounts to. Both sides are interested in this, and both lawyers, while they may disagree with me on the law, know that this charge is untrue, as does Miss Maloney, chairman of the Waitresses' union.

The Judge's Wish.

"I only wish I wasn't on the bench"—the judge laughed a bit—"and this man would need to get an injunction."

Judge Baldwin turned to Ebeling.

"You may go," he said.

Edward Nockels, secretary of the Chicago Federation of Labor, testified concerning the methods in relation to the "unfair list."

ALL "BROTHERS' KEEPERS," SOLUTION OF IDLE PROBLEM.

Federal Official Says Work of Employment Agencies Is Only Superficial Help.

All the machinery the nation, state and city might create to solve the problem of the unemployed would be only of superficial aid, in the opinion of Louis F. Post, assistant secretary of labor. He told the members of the City club yesterday that the evil will not be done away with until the public experiences a change of heart and every man becomes his "brother's keeper."

Mr. Post outlined the work of the department of labor in aiding the unemployed. He was followed by Miss Jane Addams, who mentioned the Halsted street riot two weeks ago when a procession of unemployed workers was dispersed by the police, and urged the business men of the city to take a larger part in eliminating unemployment.

"There is no possibility that any machinery of government may help to solve the problem in any but a superficial way," said Mr. Post, "until public opinion has advanced. But the machinery of government can ameliorate certain economic conditions. But why should there be any unemployed after all? As long as there are wants to be satisfied, there is need for work."

Mr. Post said that the division of information under the immigration bureau will soon be doing efficient work in distributing workmen about the country where they are needed. Blanks for applications for the positions will be furnished by the postmasters.

Bosch Body Twice Exhumed.

Coroner Hoffman yesterday twice exhumed the body of Henry Bosch from Calvary cemetery. The first time was to satisfy Henry Schmid and Andrew Thieson that Bosch's body was in the coffin. The earth was removed a second time when Schmidt said he had placed a palmleaf on top of the coffin at the time of the burial on Jan. 21. The leaf was found.

DIVORCES HER LEGAL ADVISER

Mrs. Marguerite McLaughlin Says Lawyer Husband Counseled Her Wrong.

Less than a year ago Mrs. Marguerite Ives Dilg obtained a divorce from Will H. Dilg, an advertising man. Yesterday Mrs. Marguerite Ives Dilg-McLaughlin filed a bill in the Superior court for an annulment of her marriage to Edward T. McLaughlin, a New York attorney.

Mrs. McLaughlin asked that the marriage bond contracted within a few months after her divorce be dissolved on the grounds that she was inveigled into the marriage through erroneous free legal advice given her by her lawyer husband.

Mrs. McLaughlin was 16 years old when she was married to Mr. Dilg, seventeen years her senior. They were divorced March 16, 1914.

Tells Her Law Is Void.

The following May Mrs. Dilg met McLaughlin, who, she says, proposed to her at that time. She says she told him there was a law in Illinois forbidding her from marrying within a year of divorce. Attorney McLaughlin assured her, she says, that if there had been such a law it was null and void. They were married on June 8 in Ludington, Mich.

In an answer to his wife's bill for divorce on grounds of cruelty, Samuel Stark filed a bill denying the charges. He says his wife, Mrs. Emily Stark, left him the day before Christmas and "separated the defendant from his bed, bedding, mattress, and towels, so that he was compelled to use a shirt he wore as a towel, his overcoat as a pillow, and the bare walls as his only companions in misery."

Signs Trixie Friganza's Decree.

Judge Foell in the Superior court signed the decree of divorce granted last October to Mrs. Trixie F. Goettler, who is Trixie Friganza on the stage, from Charles A. Goettler, a New York theatrical manager.

Mrs. Goettler testified that her husband treated her with extreme cruelty, "choking her so that she did not know whether she was standing up or sitting down." She testified that she had supported him since their marriage in March, 1912. Mrs. Goettler gave her address as 750 Bittersweet place.

Accuses an Attorney.

Charges made against Attorney E. J. Cook by Mrs. Clara Miller were referred by Judge Walker to the Bar association for investigation. An effort was being made to set the date of hearing of a divorce bill brought against Mrs. Miller by James Miller.

"Mr. Cook said we couldn't agree and that my husband wanted a divorce," Mrs. Miller said. "I told him to go ahead and get a divorce, but he said there was not enough evidence. He said he had brought a nice young fellow along to be sure there would be. He told me to put on my hat and coat and go with this young man anywhere he took me and that he would follow us."

"Swear the woman," ordered the court.

Mrs. Miller said she would repeat her statement under oath.

"I make a motion to have this case set for an early hearing," exclaimed Attorney Cook, leaping to his feet. "If Mrs. Miller can prove a single one of her accusations I will submit to any punishment the court may inflict."

VILLA ABOUT TO LOSE MONTEREY?

Carranzistas Claim They've Occupied an Important Point in City.

Brownsville, Tex., Feb. 4.—Carranza officials in Matamoros, across the border from here, tonight said they had official advices that fighting had been going on for six days at Monterey between attacking Carranza troops and Villa forces, which occupy the city. It was claimed the attacking forces had occupied an important point within the city.

Carranza has called upon the Spanish minister at Mexico City on threat of deportation to surrender within twenty-four hours Angel Del Caso, a Spaniard who claims to be an agent of the Spanish government but whom Carranza charges with being active in the service of Gen. Villa. This information was received today in private telegrams from Mexico City which state that Del Caso is supposed to be hiding in the Spanish legation.

WYDENS, B. A., M. A., PH. D., FORGES TO STUDY JAIL LIFE.

Penologist with String of College Degrees Sent to Asylum to Have Mental Rest.

Twelve jurors in the court of Circuit Judge John M. O'Connor yesterday passed sentence on a defendant who, they agreed, was one of the most highly educated men they ever met. They found him insane.

The defendant, L. F. Wydens, says he passed bad bank checks so he would be put in jail where he could take up practical study of criminology and penology.

When the court sentenced him to confinement in the Asylum for the Criminal Insane at Chester the prisoner expressed interest and the hope that he would be allowed to remain there until the completion of his researches.

Wyden amazed the courtroom with his flow of language. He said he was a protégé of C. A. Smith, the Minneapolis lumber millionaire, received his bachelor's degree in the University of Texas, a master's degree in the University of Nebraska, and Ph. D. in the University of Iowa. He speaks five languages, he asserted, and was connected with the Social Survey of New York.

Dr. William O. Krohn, alienist, testified Wyden was mentally confused on account of too much study.

Members of the family had been keeping a close watch, but Hamper eluded them, the police were told. Hamper, who was 54 years old, was a butcher.

BAN TUXEDO AS DANCING COAT

U. S. Tailors at Milwaukee Also Bar Angularity in Men's Attire.

Milwaukee, Wis., Feb. 4.—[Special.]—The most important action of the International Custom Cutters' Association of America convention here today was the adoption of the official report of the fashion committee, presented by Charles M. Taylor of New York, chairman, W. P. Walker of Peoria, and Jarvis S. Jennings of Detroit.

The report places a ban upon the wearing of the tuxedo in the presence of women or for dancing.

The sack will be considered a little less dressy than the business cutaway for business men, which will be advocated for the particular dresser.

Angularity to Be Avoided.

The committee's report follows:

"The sack coat is to be a little longer, with a shapely effect and all angularity and pointed effects are to be avoided. This avoidance of angularity applies to all coats. Cutaways shall be regarded as decidedly proper for formal and business wear, and in type should be decidedly shapely and close fitting, but not to the point of tightness. The business cutaway, however, will be slightly fuller in skirts and in front than the formal coat.

"Overcoats—This style should be discussed according to the material. The overcoat should be shapely and of moderate length, more shapely than the Chesterfield, to be vented in the waist line when made of coarse fabrics and either fly front or double breasted. For dark soft fabrics the overcoat should be Chesterfieldian, with silk facings, or when without silks with a velvet collar.

Vests to Have Collars.

"Waistcoats—They should be decidedly shapely, with a collar, and should define the figure sharply. All vests for dress as well as day wear to be with a very little pointed effect at the bottom.

"Trousers—Tightness in the legs of the proper trousers is to be avoided, and they should hang straight from the hips and just touch the boot.

"Outing clothes—There is a wide latitude for individual taste in the design and making of outing clothes. The Norfolk jacket in a modified form is recommended, but only to be used for outing purposes, never being proper for business wear.

"Evening dress—The evening dress coat should be short waisted, with a short lapel, cut to show plenty of linen in front. The Tuxedo is to be strictly a club or stag coat."

Dr. Alexander F. Stevenson, who is attending Mr. Taylor, said the crisis had not been passed. Mr. Taylor went home from his office ill last Saturday afternoon. Mrs. Taylor, it was said, is out of the city.

Not One Foot Wet as Ice Jam Sinks Lake Liner Iowa

Seventy-one Walk to Safety While Vessel Is Ground to Bits.

MANY SEE FINAL DIP

Seventy members of the crew of the lake steamer Iowa and one passenger stood on the ice four miles from the mouth of the Chicago river at 11 o'clock yesterday and watched the hull, rent by the pressure of tons of ice, heel over and sink.

The jam of a fourteen inch shore floe pried part of the deck of the steamer from the hull, letting the bottom fill with water. The pilot house and hurricane deck, in pieces, are resting on the ice a little more than three miles from the recreation pier at the end of East Grand avenue.

The crew, consisting of sixty-nine men and Miss Elizabeth Smith, the stewardess, walked to shore in safety, with occasional leaps over open spaces.

Frank Lowery, a fireman, suffered a broken collar bone when he scrambled from the ship to the ice at the command of the captain. He was the only member of the crew injured. Edward H. Hoover of Milwaukee was the passenger.

Watches Vessel Engulfed.

The all steel ship Racine, which had been leading the Iowa through the floe, did not reach the docks of the Northern Michigan Transportation company line until 8:30 last night.

"The Iowa was following behind me," said Capt. G. E. Johnson of the Racine. "I was breaking a way through the ice. It would have been all right if we could have kept moving, but we were stopped by an ice barrier.

"Then the ice began to run. The Iowa was caught in the narrowing streak of clear water. The ice began to press in. We heard the ship's side crack. Then it listed. As it went down the ice sliced through the hull from bow to stern.

"The lower part sank and the upper deck was left on top of the ice. About 1 o'clock in the afternoon the surface began to clear up—at least the ice stopped running—and with the aid of two tugs we came in. It took us almost eight hours to make the four miles."

Wreck Told by Wireless.

The Iowa was owned by the Goodrich Transit company and carried wireless equipment. At the company offices reports of the movement of the vessel came in every few minutes. At 10:10 o'clock Capt. Gerald E. Stufflebeam flashed this message to the wireless operator on the top of the Congress hotel:

"Send tug at once. Fast in ice. Is running hard. Starboard forward planking struck loose. Leaking badly. Racine stuck just ahead."

News of the plight of the Iowa was flashed to Capt. Charles Carland at the life saving station and fire tugs were dispatched to the aid of the sinking steamer. None could plow through the ice pack to the boat, however. Spectators and police, unable to give aid, watched the hull turn over to starboard, and, with a rumble and cracking of ice, disappear. Capt. Carland meantime had walked out to the vessel.

Battled for Hours.

The steamer sank after battling for several hours. In the office of the Goodrich company, where he came after walking in with the crew on the ice, Capt. Stufflebeam told the story of the night of fighting waves and floes from Racine, Wis., to the position where the boat sank—"about four miles north by northeast" of the river.

"We left Racine at midnight last night," Capt. Stufflebeam said. "It was heavy ice, but we were following the Racine, which was breaking through the lane made by the Alabama, when it fought its way through to open water early in the morning. This lane had frozen over sufficiently to keep the ice on either side of the lane from blowing together.

"The Iowa was about 150 feet behind the Racine. Then came a shock when our vessel stuck. The heavy wind was driving the ice meanwhile and we found we were locked fast in it. At that time we were less than five miles north by northeast of the government pier.

Deck Lifted from Hull

"Then ice piled up forward of the Iowa's starboard gangway and lifted the hurricane deck from the hull. I felt it lifting and walked from the pilot house to the ice below. The deck had been lifted two feet from the hull and water was fast filling the hull. I ordered Otto Grimm, the first mate, to call all the crew and get them off the boat to the ice.

"That was at 10:20. The crew had time to get all their clothes and most of them filled their suit cases. We stood by until 11 o'clock, when the hull went down and the hurricane deck rested on the ice."

Capt. Stufflebeam had been in charge of the Iowa about a year. He took command of the boat after it was rebuilt following sinking in the Chicago river after it had been rammed by the Sheboygan. The steamer cost $150,000 and carried a cargo of merchandise from Milwaukee valued at from $50,000 to $75,000.

Another Goodrich boat, the Arizona, is standing out for the clear water. Her orders are to stay there until the wind changes and drives the ice out. The weather forecast is for a southwest wind, which is favorable.

WHO IS TRYING TO CORNER MAY WHEAT MART?

U. S. on Trail of Mysterious Buyer Bent on a "Killing."

EXPECTS $2 PRICES.

Who is the man of wealth who entered the wheat market yesterday bent on making a big "killing" by creating a corner in May wheat?

Like a shadow floating over a sun kissed grain field the mysterious buyer moved in silent pursuit of 10,000,000 bushels of wheat to form the nucleus of a grain monopoly unparalleled since the days of Joseph and Pharaoh.

The information reached District Attorney Charles F. Clyne during the course of the government's investigation of aviating wheat and flour prices. Mr. Clyne immediately began an inquiry to learn the identity of the stranger and whether he is allied with a combination of speculators.

Anticipate $2 Wheat.

His entrance into the market at the present level indicates that he and his backers, if he has any, anticipate the coming of $2 wheat. The anticipation seemingly is nurtured by the steadily rising prices of wheat and flour and the increasing scarcity of food in Europe, due to the world war.

With a corner on wheat bought at even the present high level of $1.64¼, the closing price yesterday, the profit on $2 wheat would run into many millions of dollars. Not since James A. Patten cornered the wheat market in 1909 and ran wheat up to $1.35¾ a bushel, according to Mr. Clyne's information, has such a big deal been contemplated. Patten and his associates got control of about 40,000,000 bushels.

The present mysterious buyer will have to extend his purchases into many parts of the country before he can hope to gain control. Chicago elevators hold at present less than 1,500,000 bushels of wheat, according to District Attorney Clyne's information.

Switch to Bread Quiz

The government's investigation of food prices will be diverted today to the bread situation. District Attorney Clyne announced that he will confer with the leading bakers in an endeavor to learn the causes back of the increase from 5 to 6 cents in the price of the small loaves of bread.

Officials of the Ward, Schulze, Piper and other big baking companies offered voluntarily to come in and discuss the matter with the federal prosecutor. Mr. Clyne said he wanted to know how much flour the bakers have in stock and what quantity there is on hand in Chicago.

Charges have been made to the government that most of the big bakers have a large supply of flour on hand bought several months ago at the lower prices then prevailing. The bakers will be asked to show their books in order that the government may obtain correct figures on this subject.

Mr. Clyne Busy.

Mr. Clyne also is trying to determine the relation the storing of 15,000,000 bushels of wheat in Milwaukee and 17,000,000 bushels in Minneapolis, as compared with the much smaller quantity in Chicago, has to the subject of increased bread prices. There are also about 75,000,000 bushels stored in seaboard elevators, according to information obtained by the government.

BURGLAR STICKS IN TRANSOM

Fat Marauder Becomes So Tightly Wedged He Loses Coat When He Wriggles Out.

A fat burglar became wedged in the transom over the kitchen door of the apartment of Herbert H. Embry at 5049 Sheridan road yesterday. The janitor of the building saw a pair of pudgy legs flopping about in midair and being uncertain as to whether the burglar was going in or coming out shouted "Police!" The burglar, alarmed, managed to wriggle outside, but so tightly had he become wedged that his coat was left in the transome. He fled in his shirtsleeves. The police have the coat. As it turned out, the burglar was trying to crawl in when the janitor saw him.

LOCAL FEDERAL CLUB ADOPTS NICKNAME OF 'WHALES'

TITLE CHOSEN AFTER REVIEW OF 289 NAMES

D. J. Eichoff, Lucky Fan, Awarded Season Pass to Local Games.

NO K. C. TRANSFER YET

BY JAMES CRUSINBERRY.

Exit Chifeds, enter Whales.

Hereafter the local Federal league ball team will be known as "Whales." After much deliberation President Weeghman selected that name from a list of 289 submitted by the fans. The lucky fan who suggested the title is D. J. Eichoff, 1451 Hood avenue, and he will be presented with a season pass for himself and family as a prize for his aid.

The decision of the Whales' president wavered for a long time. He had the list cut down to three or four names. "Tots," "Chix," "Bandits," and "Imperials" or "Imps" for short, were given worthy consideration along with the "Whales." Finally Mr. Weeghman decided that the latter carried a suggestion of athletic prowess and power and at the same time was absolutely unique as a nickname for a ball team.

"Tribune" Informs Mr. Eichoff.

Mr. Eichoff, who suggested the name, was located by telephone last night. He hadn't been officially informed by Mr. Weeghman of his success and was most agreeably surprised when told by THE TRIBUNE that he had won the prize.

"Are you a Federal league fan?" was asked of him.

"I have been one of the regulars on the north side all the time," was his ready reply. "Why, before Mr. Weeghman had anything to do with the Federal league and when it was only a minor affair playing down on the De Paul university field Mrs. Eichoff and I were regular attendants. We used to go there and sit out in the sun to watch the games. Last year after the Feds expanded and got the new park we went as often as it was possible.

"I certainly am delighted to learn that my title was adopted. I think it will become a popular name with the fans, too, and I'll be out there rooting harder than ever now."

Also Submits Whale Design.

Along with his suggestion Mr. Eichoff submitted a design for a monogram, a drawing of a whale with its tail flopped high just as if it had destroyed an enemy. He also said that whales are found in the north, suggesting the north side.

It is the intention of President Weeghman to order the new uniforms for his players within a week or so, and he intends to have them properly trimmed to fit the new name. Just what the trimming will be he was unable to say.

There was a report that the Feds were holding a secret meeting here yesterday with the idea of transferring the Kansas City club to New York or Newark, but such a meeting didn't take place, according to the officials, although the transfer of the Kansas City franchise is likely to take place soon. Pat Powers, former president of the National Association of Minor Leagues, was in Chicago, and it was said he was here representing capital to finance the Feds in New York.

Mr. Powers denied that, saying he had come to see the finish of the six day bicycle race, in which he was interested, and also to attend to some business in the moving picture line.

"Boosters" for the Whales.

There was a meeting held in Mr. Weeghman's office in the afternoon, but it was simply a visit by a delegation from the Fed Boosters' club, calling formally on the Whales' president to inform him of some of their plans for the coming season. Henry Runkel, president of the boosters, which now is to be known as the "Federal Fans' club," was present with several of his members. They purpose to give a monster dinner at a north side restaurant on March 4 two days before the departure of the Whales for the spring training trip. They want as many of the players as possible to be there to meet the rooters of the organization.

Manager Bresnahan of the Cubs will be in Chicago today to consult with President Thomas on another probable trade which they will attempt to put through at the meeting of the National league in New York next week.

The Cub boss announced that Art Bues, the young third baseman tried last fall, had been sent back to Jersey City and would not be on the training trip with the west siders. The addition of "Polly" McLarry, last year with Louisville, satisfied Manager Bresnahan on the second base problem, which means that Heine Zim will go back to third.

Wants Waiver Rule Change.

President Thomas declared he would try to have the National league club owners make a change in the waiver rule, making it necessary for a club to take a player if it refuses to waive claim on him, or at least to remove its claim within a period of three or five days. "We asked waivers on one of our players early in the winter," said Thomas, "and one of the clubs claimed him. That club waited a month, then decided it didn't want him.

"In the meantime we had two different opportunities to use that player in a trade, but couldn't under the conditions. When the club finally did waive claim, our chances to trade the man had disappeared. The fact of the matter was the other club put in a claim, then spent a month trying to work up a deal to trade that player for some one it wanted and when it couldn't make the deal it waived claim."

CHENEY, SAIER, AND SMITH OF CUBS ARRIVE IN CITY.

Three members of the Cubs appeared in Chicago yesterday, although it is three weeks yet before time to start the training trip. The three were Larry Cheney, Vic Saier, and Charley Smith.

Cheney traveled all the way from Florida, where he has a ranch only a few miles from Tampa, where the Cubs will work. He admitted he didn't come all the way up here simply to ride back there with the players, but that he had come up to look into some investments.

Both Cheney and Saier, along with Jimmy Archer, invested in an automobile business last fall and it was this business which drew Cheney and Saier to Chicago at this time. They may remain until the squad leaves on Feb. 28.

Charley Smith came from Cleveland and will depart in a few days for Hot Springs to do a bit of advance training. It had been hinted that he was one of the bunch which is to be released this year unless he shows unusually well at the start, so Charley thought it advisable to get down to hard training at once. He will spend about two weeks climbing the hills of Arkansas, then join the squad in Tampa.

HIGH AND PIPP TO YANKS.

New York, Feb. 4.—Formal transfer of Players High and Pipp of the Detroit club to the New York Yankees was effected this afternoon. These are two of the five players involved in a deal which was swung in connection with the sale of the New York Yankees.

Promoters Also Expect to Hold Six Day Grind Late Next November.

BY SAM WELLER.

Promoters of the six day bicycle race yesterday asserted that the venture cost them approximately $3,200, but that they were satisfied because they expected to recuperate their loss and add materially to their bank rolls next summer, when a series of sprints will be held on a new outdoor track to be built at Riverview park.

The long grind was merely a feeler to test the attitude of Chicago toward the cycling game. It was the Riverview backers that put up the money, and after the enthusiasm displayed in the closing hours of the race they decided to go ahead with their scheme for outdoor races.

Plan First Meet May 15.

It is planned to have the new track ready so that the first meet may be held about May 15. Two meets will be held each week, weather permitting. The course will be built on the ground now used as a siding by the street car company. The cost will be in the neighborhood of $80,000. The track will be eight laps to the mile and will be constructed of cedar wood, so as to eliminate the splinters which are responsible for many of the accidents in the bike game. Before the six day race it was figured that accommodations for 18,000 spectators would be sufficient. After the wild finish the backers changed their plans and now expect to arrange to seat 20,000 or 25,000 fans.

Under an agreement with the Cycle Racing association, a corporation which controls five outdoor tracks in the east, many of the star professionals will be brought here for big races. The crack amateurs of the east will be sent along to compete against the best Chicago can offer.

Hope to Interest Amateurs.

Only by reviving interest in the amateur end of the sports can the venture be certain of success, and the promoters are considering various schemes to stir up competition among local amateur riders. Most of the "pro" stars who were listed for the six day race will perform here, among them Oscar Egg, Frank Kramer, Iver Lawson, Reggy McNamara, and "Piggy" Moran.

Far from being discouraged with the loss which they assert they sustained in their venture, the cycle men already are framing plans for another race this year. It will be held during Thanksgiving week and will be the first of the annual series in America. The New York and Boston grinds will follow in order. The local week-through entertainment probably will be staged at the International amphitheater again, as there is no suitable building available nearer the loop.

After a hasty review of their books, the promoters figured that they had taken in a total of $14,500 at the gate during the six day "revival." Another $3,500 for the concessions, including the program, made their total receipts about $18,000. It cost something like $21,200 to stage the race, so the men behind the money declared.

Weather Hurts Receipts.

Adverse weather in the early stages of the grind was all that kept them from realizing a profit, so they claimed. They reached the conclusion that Chicago will be a fertile field for the bike game, not by the size of the crowds that turned out, but by the enthusiasm displayed by those who did appear.

One might suppose that after going six days without a really comfortable sleep the riders would stay "in the hay" as long as possible after the strain was over, but such was far from the case. After the finish Wednesday night all the contestants hurried to turkish baths and turned in after a good boiling out, but most of them were up at 6 o'clock yesterday morning.

The majority started back to New York last night on the two special cars belonging to the eastern promoters to whom they are under contract. Egg and Verri, the winners, remained behind, expecting to secure a vaudeville engagement of a couple of weeks in this vicinity. Iver Lawson and "Grassy" Ryan started for Salt Lake City, their home town, and Worth Mitten went home to renew old acquaintances at Davenport, Ia.

MAROONS TO MEET GOPHERS.

Coach Page made his final cut of University of Chicago basketball candidates yesterday, announcing that he would take only seven men on the trip to Minnesota to engage the Gophers tomorrow night. The men who will be taken on the trip are Capt. Stevenson, Stegeman, Townley, Des Jardien, Kixmiller, Schafer, and George.

Pugilistic Pointers.

JACK BLACKBURN, the Philadelphia negro fighter who a few years ago was one of the topnotchers in the game and who at present is making good in a "comeback" trick, arrived in the city yesterday. Blackburn's visit is for the express purpose of meeting any one who cares to battle him. Before coming west Blackburn fought four battles in five weeks and declares he is in good shape and ready to go into action at any time. He announced his weight at 150 pounds.

Mike Snyder, the local lightweight, is peeved because Promoter Ben Steindel of Milwaukee has given "Goats" Doig the match with Ad Wolgast on Feb. 15. Snyder has beaten Doig and thinks that the promoter should have given him the chance at the "Bearcat." Snyder is training at O'Connell's for a match with Johnny Tillman, which may be clinched today for a Minneapolis club.

The second batch of preliminary trials to select the team which will represent Chicago in the intercity amateur tourney with Milwaukee will be staged at Forbes' gymnasium tomorrow afternoon. The winners of these bouts will meet the boys who won in the previous tryouts Monday night. A special bout between Joe Weber and Charley Grant, who fought to a draw last Monday, will be held. They are 125 pounders. Two of the heavyweights who will appear are Tony Melchor and Joe Robinson. The bouts are open to any boxer under 18 years old, regardless of club affiliation.

OFFER BILL FOR INDIANA RACING

Measure in Senate Would Permit Bets on Pari-Mutuel Machines.

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 4.—[Special.]—A bill introduced in the senate today by Senator Hirsch would permit the selling of pools at racetracks through the form of gambling known as pari-mutuel machines. There are laws similar to the one contemplated by this bill in several states.

Thomas E. Knotts of Gary and A. F. Knotts of Hammond are the backers of the bill, and they say it also has the support of the breeders of the state.

The passage of the measure would open the way for the return of racing at the Porter racetrack, which last summer was closed by the militia on orders from the governor. The principal patronage at the Porter races came from Chicago.

Commission to Govern.

The bill would create a state racing commission, which would have full authority over all horse races held in the state and which would license and control such races.

The members of the first commission are named in the bill and would be Charles R. Duffin of Terre Haute, Charles H. Anthony of Muncie, and Sterling R. Holt of Indianapolis, all of whom are prominent horsemen. When any of these members would retire the governor would appoint his successor. The bill provides that the members of the commission receive a salary of not more than $600 a year, to be paid out of the money received by the commission for issuing licenses. A secretary would be appointed, who would receive $1,200 a year.

Would Change License Fees.

The bill provides that the commission may charge a fee of from $1 to $50 a day for issuing permits for race meets, the fee to be at the discretion of the board, according to the size of the meet, its patronage, etc.

RACING BILL PASSES HOUSE.

Little Rock, Ark., Feb. 4.—A bill to allow horse racing in Arkansas under control of a state commission and to permit the pari-mutuel system of betting was passed by the house today and was sent to the senate. Supporters of the bill admit that its purpose is to restore horse racing at Hot Springs.

GIBBONS AND M'GOORTY FIGHT AT HUDSON MARCH 2.

St. Paul, Minn., Feb. 4.—Mike Gibbons of St. Paul and Eddie McGoorty of Oshkosh, middleweights, were matched today to meet in a ten round bout at Hudson, Wis., on March 2. This was announced tonight by Promoter M. E. Collins, who said the men would weigh 158 pounds at 3 o'clock. Gibbons is guaranteed $5,000 for his end, while McGoorty will receive $4,500 with a privilege.

RITCHIE SIGNS FOR WELSH.

Los Angeles, Cal., Feb. 4.—Willie Ritchie, former lightweight champion, signed articles today to meet Freddie Welsh, the present titleholder, at Madison Square garden, New York, March 11, in a ten round bout. The men are to weigh 135 pounds at 2 o'clock. No referee has been named. Ritchie has agreed to post $1,000 for weight and appearance. He will go into training at New York about two weeks before the fight.

NOTES OF THE PUGILISTS.

Bay City, Mich., Feb. 4.—[Special.]—Jimmy Brady of Michigan and "Young Spike" Kelly of Chicago, featherweights, fought ten rounds tonight with honors in favor of Brady. Both were fresh at the finish.

Jackson, Mich., Feb. 4.—[Special.]—Hal Stewart of Fort Wayne outpointed Jimmy Murphy of Chicago in every round of a ten round bout tonight. Stewart's margin was cleancut and decisive. Stewart outboxed and outhit Murphy and piled up a big point lead while his clever defense baffled the Chicagoan.

BY J. G. DAVIS.

Putting all their previous performances into eclipse, Harry Hebner, Perry McGillivray, and Michael McDermott, the great trinity of Illinois Athletic club swimmers, last night were the main factors in the greatest night of swimming Chicago ever has seen.

Competing in the Central A. A. U. championship events at the Illinois Athletic club, these three men set four new world's records and smashed about fifteen American marks.

McDermott, in retaining the 200 yard breast stroke title, set a world's mark of 1:13 2-5 for 100 yards, and for the 200 yards made a new world's record of 2:38 2-5, cliping two seconds off his own record. The best previous for 100 yards was 1:14 3-5, held by Holman of England.

Two Marks to McGillivray.

McGillivray, in defending the 300 yard open swim title, set a new world's mark of 2:50 1-5 for the 250 yards and created one of 3:26 1-5 for the 300 yards. The old world's records were 2:51 for 250 yards and 3:26 2-5 for 300, both being held by J. G. Hatfield of England. The best previous American mark was 2:52 3-5, held by McGillivray.

Hebner, in the 880 yards, broke no less than ten American records, starting with the 330 yard mark and passing all the records for intervening distances up to 880, at which point his time was 11:14 1-5, the best previous record being 11:29 1-5. All the old marks were held by Daniels of New York.

Hebner Also Sets Marks.

The 880 yard race is not a regulation event in other countries, so Hebner's marks are considered as world's figures. Apart from the wonderful performances of the tricolor champions there was nothing to thrill the spectators, as all three men won with many yards to spare.

Hebner's only opponent in the 880 yard swim was young Clement Browne of the Hamilton club. The champion took the lead at the start and at the end of six lengths was half a length ahead. Swimming in beautiful form he continued to draw away and at the end of 440 yards Browne withdrew, being 1½ lengths behind. Hebner kept going and one by one the marks previously held by Daniels were gathered in.

Mike McDermott and the other four swimmers in the 200 yard breast stroke got away to a fine start, but the champion, fairly pulling himself through the water, soon had the race well in hand. At the end of six lengths he was six yards ahead of S. B. Taylor of the C. A. A. and Chapman of Illinois, who were close together. McDermott won a length and three-quarters, Taylor finishing second and E. F. Vacin of the I. A. C. third.

Vosburgh Fails at Finish.

The open 300 yard swim gave promise of the best contest of the night as W. R. Vosburgh of the I. A. C. kept neck and neck with McGillivray. The former's spurt proved a flash in the pan and he slowed up at the end of the fourth turn. Two more lengths gave McGillivray a lead of half a length and he won by 2¼ lengths.

MEDAL GOLF PRIZE GOES TO W. W. SCHOFF OF HYDE PARK.

W. W. Schoff of Hyde Park High school led a field of fifty players in the one day medal tournament yesterday at Rothschild's indoor course. The south side school boy was the last to start, but came home with a card of 16. Second place went to Steve Ryan of Garfield Park after a tie with William Rautenbusch, city champion; Lester Mason of Jackson Park, and Robert Bone of Hyde Park. They had cards of 18. Leading scores were: W. S. Eagle, Hyde Park, 19; W. F. Wilcox, Jackson Park, 19; T. A. Ballantyne, 19; G. C. Clifford, Jackson Park, 19; D. F. Webber, Skokie, 19; E. Devaney, 19; A. Heisen, Skokie, 19; Arthur Sullivan, Evanston, 20; Vernon Thomas, Hyde Park, 20; Ivan Webster, Jackson Park, 20; E. Taylor, Windsor, 20.

William Rautenbusch and Norman Faunce will play Charles Evans Jr. and Carl Devol in a four ball match tomorrow noon.

NEW BERTH FOR TOM KELLEY

St. Louis, Mo., Feb. 4.—Thomas Kelley, football coach of the Rolla School of Mines, has been offered the position of director of athletics at the University of Alabama and will accept formally within a few days. Kelley last season developed the gridiron champions of this state. For three years Kelley played tackle on the University of Chicago eleven. In 1910 he was assistant to Coach Stagg.

SKATERS TO GO TO AURORA.

By invitation of business men of Aurora, the Northwest Skating club of Chicago will hold its weekly ice skating races on the Fox river Sunday afternoon to demonstrate to the Business Men's association of Aurora that an ice carnival would be desirable for Feb. 14. President Schridde has made arrangements to take out the best local skaters. Harry Kaad will skate against time.

NOTES OF THE WRESTLERS.

John Meyers threw Frank Knitter and Jack Harmons each twice in their wrestling match at the Oak theater last night. He won from Knitter in 19:15 and 8:10 and from Harmons in 21:46 and 13:55.

Charles Cutler will meet Wladek Zbyszko in Polish Union hall tonight, Augusta and Milwaukee avenue. The other bouts are between John Meyers, welterweight, and Jim Pornon, the Greek; Kid Pouviaski and Bohnni, the Bohemian light heavyweight.

In the Wake of the News

By RING W. LARDNER.

THE ANCIENT MARINER MOURNETH.

"GOD save thee, Ancient Mariner,
From the fiends that give thee chase!—
Why griev'st thou so?"
"Because, O Bo,
I missed the six-day race."

In the six day race, as we get it, you and your partner alternately circle the track for 143 hours; then you sprint for an hour. What you accomplish in the first 143 hours doesn't count; its purpose is merely to weary you so that you can't sprint your best during the 144th hour; or, perhaps, the preliminary 143 hours' dash is to warm you up or make you familiar with the track on which you're to sprint.

Amateur six day racing is undoubtedly refreshing exercise and just the thing to spruce up the tired business man. But in order to earn a living at it you must go and get yourself a funny name.

Mr. Eckersall's pugilistic and football assignments will probably be a deadly bore after his week of thrills at the International amphitheater.

To take up room, we might say it was lucky Verri was riding for his team in the third sprint, when there was a collision and a spill. Otherwise Egg would have been scrambled.

It is said that Mayor Harrison examined the wheels used by the cyclists, probably in the hope of finding a solution for the traction problem.

PARTICULARLY WHEN IT'S RAINING.

Which reminds us of our little kick against the street car company. Why is it that an east bound car waits at the Union station suburban exit until the passengers discharged from a train make their appearance at the turnstiles leading into the street, and then resumes its eastward way before any of said passengers has a chance to get aboard, leaving said passengers to walk or wait a couple of days for the next car?

HELPING THE YANKS.

Jennings and Carrigan having come so nobly to the rescue of the New York Americans with High, Pipp, and Rehg, why doesn't Connie Mack loosen up and give them Harry Davis? And why doesn't Comiskey slip Bodie to them instead of wishing him on San Francisco?

THE PATHS OF GOLFING LEAD BUT TO—

J. McDermott, who twice won the nation's open golf championship, has been for four weeks in a private sanitarium trying to recover his mind.

NAMING THE FEDS.

Mr. Weeghman is trying to find an appropriate and catchy nickname for his "Chifeds." They need it, and we wish him luck. But his undertaking is a tough one. Ere this immortal paragraph appears in print he may have announced the result of his prize contest and chosen one from the hundreds of names suggested by the willing bugs. But the odds are against it. Ourself ran a similar contest nearly a year ago and doubtless the same fans responded, but not one of them came through with a name that promised to stick. Some day, and may it be soon, a reporter or a fan will have a sudden hunch and the north side club will no longer be nameless. But it isn't likely that any one is going to sit down to the task and figure out a sobriquet that will hit the bull's-eye. Hours or days of pondering are usually a waste of time; a second of inspiration does the business.

When Napoleon Lajoie was released from Cleveland to Philadelphia, the Cleveland baseball writers, agreeing that "Naps" was no longer fit, got together and "officially named" Somers' club "Indians." But you'll notice that the fans and scribes outside of Cleveland are calling 'em Naps, because "Indians" doesn't strike one as appropriate in any way.

The St. Louis Americans are still commonly known as the Browns, although there is nothing like that in their color scheme, except possibly the hair and whiskers of some of their so-called players. "Browns" was suitable once, and it will continue to be their nickname until as good a one is found, and it will be found right there in plain sight, without the trouble of searching.

Mr. Weeghman will have to endure the agony of "Chifeds," than whom only "Sloufeds" is whomer, until somebody wakes up some morning with a made-to-order title for Tinker's team which will need no explanation.

BOWLERS GATHER HUGE AVERAGES

Some big individual scores were turned in by the bowlers last night with Abe Johnson of the Lichtensteins in the Holter league leading the town with an average of 237 flat. Jake Hansen proved the second highest man of the night with a 233 series, but he piled up a 289 game as part of it that proved the highest single game in weeks. Hansen got his big scores on his own team in the Jefferson league. The No. 9 stuck in the first frame and the No. 4 in the last, all his other hits being strikes. Scores:

All Right! We're for Rule!

BOSTON, Mass., Feb. 2.—[Sporting Editor Tribune.]—May I point out through your columns to the tennis and sport lovers of Chicago that whereas Newport is essentially a neutral ground for the national tennis championship, the West Side club of New York has more and will probably continue to have more aspirants for the championship than any other club in the country? If in spite of this the clubs of the country feel that it is no longer advantageous to hold the championship at Newport, it seems only right that a rule should be passed preventing any one club from holding the event more than once in three years. This would give other tennis centers, such as Chicago, Philadelphia, and Boston, a chance to boom the game in their vicinity occasionally.

GARY BOWLERS ROLL 3,106.

SEARS-ROEBUCK COMMON LOWER; STATUS FIGURED

Price of Stock Is Influenced by What It Will Sell For Ex-Dividend.

Sears-Roebuck common stock has quieted down on the local exchange and the trading was unusually small yesterday. The price declined to a close at 202, against a high price last Monday of 215. The market at the moment appears to be influenced by consideration of what the shares will sell at with the 50 per cent stock dividend off. At a price of 202 the rights are figured at about $67.50 per share, which works out a quotation of a little better than 134½ with the rights off.

Swift & Co. stock continues to hold well. Union Carbide had a further advance to 165, but closed two points lower. The market is influenced by various rumors, none of which can be traced to an authoritative source. There is no denial, however, that the earnings are good.

Montgomery Ward preferred ruled steady. Pneumatic Tool again worked lower, closing at 45½, a decline of 1½ points for the day. The selling is due to the showing made in the annual report.

In the bond department City Railway 5s were fairly active and firm at 98¾. Chicago Railways 5s sold at 97.

Great Lakes Dredge Dividend.

The Great Lakes Dredge and Dock company yesterday declared an 8 per cent cash dividend on the $6,000,000 capitalization of the company, amounting to $480,000, payable Feb. 15.

The directors also decided to place the stock on a regular 8 per cent annual basis, payable in quarterly installments of 2 per cent. The latter payments are expected to begin in either March or May.

Kuhn-Loeb in Missouri Pacific.

The annual meeting of stockholders of the Missouri Pacific railroad will be held on March 9. It is reported that sufficient proxies have been received by the committee of which A. J. Hemphill is chairman to make changes in the board of directors sufficient to put into effect a financial readjustment plan incorporating the ideas of Kuhn, Loeb & Co.

United Cigars' Year.

The United Cigar Manufacturers' company and subsidiary companies report for the year ended Dec. 31, 1914, as follows:

Milwaukee Railway and Light.

The state railroad commission of Wisconsin has handed down a decision rescinding its order of Aug. 23, 1912, providing for the sale by the Milwaukee Railway and Electric Light company of thirteen tickets for 50 cents. The rate charged by the company prior to Aug. 23, 1912, was 6 tickets for a quarter. The commission estimates that the effect of its recent order will be the restoration to the company of operating revenues amounting annually to between $130,000 and $140,000.

Railway Supply Business.

A. H. Mulliken, president of the Pettibone-Mulliken company, railway supplies, said yesterday:

"Since Jan. 1, some of the railroads have placed orders for cars and rails, and as soon as net earnings increase they undoubtedly will place additional orders.

"As a further encouragement to the steel men, it is an interesting fact that at the present time all of the shipbuilding yards on the Atlantic coast are running at full capacity and have business ahead practically for the next two years. This shows that private capital is ready and willing to enter the shipbuilding and foreign trade carrying in the United States.

"I look forward to a gradual improvement in general business during the year, which will be reflected in the net earnings of the railways, which in turn will bring general buying and an improvement in the situation as a whole. The Baltimore and Ohio, the Pennsylvania lines, the New York Central and Santa Fé railroads, four of the large systems of the country, have entered the steel and car markets already. These are concrete signs of confidence."

MIXED TRADING IN N. Y. STOCKS

Renewal of Liquidation Affects Several of the High Priced Rail Issues.

POOLING ALSO FACTOR.

New York, Feb. 4.—Renewal of liquidation in several of the high priced dividend paying railway shares and continuance of the recent pool manipulation in certain of the specialties, notably the automobile issues, were productive of some mixed price movements in today's stock market. Canadian Pacific and Southern Pacific, as well as Reading and part of the granger group, were under pressure, which seemed to result more from liquidation than short selling.

Rumor attributed the selling of Canadian Pacific and some other favorites to the foreign account, but international brokers reported little liquidation for Europe. United States Steel and the coppers were sympathetically affected, the one notable exception being Bethlehem Steel.

Bethlehem Steel Most Active.

Bethlehem Steel was the most active feature of the morning session, with a rise of almost three points, which it maintained despite another authoritative denial of the rumor that the stock is soon to be placed on a dividend basis.

American Sugar was exceptionally weak among the issues of its kind, losing four points on persistent selling, while Beet Sugar declined a point. United States Realty, one of the dormant specialties, dropped eight points to 40, its minimum. In the final hour prices underwent readjustment, some stocks making partial recovery, while other fell back again.

In addition to the $5,000,000 Manitoba loan taken by local banking interests, a syndicate made up mainly of New York bankers was awarded the $8,000,000 Baltimore bond issue.

Rail Earnings Show Decline.

Among the adverse railroad returns for December submitted today were Missouri Pacific, with a net loss of $200,000, Rock Island $328,000, and St. Louis, Iron Mountain and Southern $536,000.

The new Pennsylvania 4½s were the principal feature of the irregular bond market, with heavy selling under their recent best. Total sales (par value) were $2,220,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call.

IN FOREIGN STOCK MARKETS.

LONDON, Feb. 4.—The call for £20,000,000 on account of the war loan was easily met, but discounts hardened on the Bank of England statement issued today. The stock market was only moderately active, and only a few home rails, colonial stocks, Russian bonds, and Russian mining shares and Kaffirs were traded in at steady prices. The American section opened dull and varied little throughout the session. The closing was uninteresting.

Forty Ways to Reach Panama Fair.

There are forty ways to get from Chicago to the Panama exposition, according to a route map got up by the passenger department of the Chicago and Northwestern railroad. The Madison street terminal is taken as a starting point in each instance and every conceivable possibility is exhausted in the way of connections between Chicago and the western coast in the map book.

Great Northern and Atchison.

A. C. R.—The stock of the Great Northern railway is a more conservative investment than Atchison common. The Atchison system has approximately $29,-000 funded debt and $10,500 preferred stock per mile underlying the common, which is outstanding to the amount of $17,900 a mile. The Great Northern has $20,700 bonded debt per mile and about $33,400 of stock. The net earnings per mile of the Great Northern are much larger than those of the Atchison, being approximately $4,190, while the Atchison earned only $3,450 a mile in the year ended June 30, 1914. Of the net earnings of the Atchison more than 45 per cent go for interest and taxes and about 15 per cent for preferred dividend, leaving less than 40 per cent for common stock and surplus. The Great Northern pays approximately 40 per cent of its net earnings for fixed charges, leaving 60 per cent for dividends, betterments, and surplus. The operating expenses and taxes of the Atchison are 71.10 per cent of its gross earnings, while the Great Northern has an operating ratio of only 61.67 per cent.

Chicago real estate bonds usually pay 6 per cent and they can always be had in $100 denominations. Sound corporation bonds yield from 5 to 6 per cent. Sometimes they can be had in $100 size.

National Life.

G. E. R.—The National Life Insurance company of Montpelier, Vt., has had a steady growth during the sixty-five years it has been in business. On June 30 last it had $194,612,471 of insurance in force. Its assets reported in the annual statement for 1913 were $58,941,984 and its surplus above reserve and all other liabilities $2,754,926. The company's mortality rate has been rather low. Of its assets 47.6 per cent are invested in mortgage loans yielding 5.4 per cent interest; 31 per cent in bonds yielding 4.2 per cent, and 13 per cent in policy loans yielding 5.9 per cent. The rate of interest on the bonds and mortgages indicates that they are conservative. Policy loans, of course, are secure.

Two Bond Issues.

R. A.—The funded debt of the Middle West Utilities company is in the form of collateral notes, not bonds. The latest reports indicate that the company is in good condition. Such notes are a less conservative investment than mortgage bonds. The bonds of an ice company are dependent for security chiefly on the prosperity of the company's business and the business is subject to rather severe fluctuations. Such bonds are less conservative than the best mortgage bonds on public utilities.

Brief Answers to Correspondents.

H. O. V.—American Can common is speculative. There will be no dividends on the common till the 8¾ per cent accumulated dividends on preferred are paid, and it is not expected any of this amount will be paid this year, and probably none next year. The company earned 3.59 per cent on common in 1914, compared with 2.64 in 1913.

S. F. S.—The best first mortgage bonds on Chicago apartment buildings are sound investments. The firm you ask about has a good reputation.

$6,925,000 BONDS OF THIS ISSUE LISTED ON THE NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE, AND APPLICATION WILL BE MADE TO LIST THE REMAINDER.

For complete information reference is made to a letter of Mr. Horace E. Andrews, President of the New York State Railways, copies of which will be sent upon request, and which is briefly summarized as follows:

The New York State Railways owns or controls, and operates extensive street railway and interurban electric lines, serving a prosperous and thickly populated section of New York State, including the cities of Rochester, Syracuse and Utica. The company operates 587 miles of single track equivalent, and in addition owns a half interest in the stock of the Schenectady Railway Company (138 miles of track), and operates that property jointly with the Delaware and Hudson Company. The population tributary to the lines of the Company is conservatively estimated at 900,000.

(Year ended December 31, 1914)

Gross earnings	$7,760,468.55
Operating expenses, taxes, depreciation, rentals, amortization, etc.	5,297,302.69
Net earnings available for bond interest	$2,463,165.86
Annual bond interest (including interest on divisional bonds)	1,125,820.00
Surplus after bond interest	$1,337,345.86

NET EARNINGS OVER TWICE BOND INTEREST

The New York State Railways during 1914 paid dividends at the rate of 5% on $3,862,500 Preferred Stock and dividends aggregating the same rate on $19,947,000 Common Stock.

These bonds are secured, in the opinion of counsel, by a direct first mortgage on approximately 102 miles of track (which will shortly be increased to 114 miles of track by cancellation of an existing mortgage), and by a direct mortgage on all the remaining physical property, rights and franchises of the New York State Railways, subject to the divisional bonds. They are further secured by the ownership and deposit of the stocks of certain subsidiary companies.

The franchises of the Company, with relatively few minor exceptions, are, in the opinion of counsel, unlimited in point of time.

WHEAT SHORTS CAUSE ADVANCE

Prices Rally Quickly; President's Speech Is Factor; Cash Sales Large.

COARSE GRAINS REACT.

The wheat market again developed strength yesterday, net gains for the day being 3¼c to 4½c higher, the May again having the wider fluctuations. The speech of President Wilson before the delegates to the National Chamber of Commerce was reassuring to the trade, indicating complete realization on the part of the president of the unprecedented situation which has caused high prices. It led to the belief that there would be no embargo on grain and that the investigation into the high price of wheat would result in the same sort of conclusions the president has arrived at.

The small decline at Liverpool, where spot wheat was 2d off, was regarded as strong indication, in view of the big decline on this side on Wednesday. At the opening there was unexpectedly light pressure and buying by shorts and commission houses lifted prices immediately. Last prices of the day were at only moderate recessions from the top level. Outside markets were strong.

Cable News Is Bullish.

It was impossible to read the cable news from abroad and not to realize the extraordinary need for wheat supplies abroad. Consequently traders were inclined to take stock in reports from the seaboard saying export sales so far this week had aggregated 4,000,000 bu, most of which went to Italy. In addition to the European demand, Australia has bought a number of cargoes on the Pacific coast and it is estimated that country will have to buy 6,000,000 bu, part of which probably will be obtained from Argentina. Local sales yesterday were 250,000 bu to exporters, and Kansas City sold 300,000 bu.

Local houses bought 1,250,000 bu No. 1 northern at Minneapolis to come here, the spring wheat being relatively cheap with quite liberal stocks as yet in that quarter. At Kansas City stocks decreased 500,000 bu for three days. Country offerings have not increased materially. Receipts at primary points were 661,000 bu against 631,000 bu a year ago. Spring wheat offerings are light as a rule. A good export business in flour was reported at Minneapolis and there was a fair amount sold from here.

Flour Exporters Busy.

Flour exporters report a scarcity of clear flours for immediate shipment for export. Most of the mills are sold ahead. Cash prices here were relatively steady, except for lightweight spring wheats, which are meeting with a slow demand. Plate shipments for the week were estimated at 1,600,000 bu, compared to actual shipments of 1,808,000 bu a year ago. Argentine freights continue high and Liverpool advices said they would still have to depend on American shipments for some time to come.

Receipts here were 159 cars, with 57 cars inspected yesterday. Primary receipts were a little larger than a year ago and at northwestern markets receipts were 295 cars, or 77 cars more than a year ago. Winnipeg had 193 cars, against 20 cars last year. Clearances for the day were 752,000 bu.

Corn Active and Higher.

Corn was active and higher, recovering most of the losses of the previous day. Last quotations showed gains of 1¼@1⅜c. Cash prices were unchanged to ½c lower for sales. Offerings from the country were light and there was a fair demand, with sales from here of 265,000 bu. Chicago shipments continue heavy, being 481,000 bu, against receipts of 366,000 bu. Arrivals at primary points were 1,057,000 bu, or 310,000 bu more than a year ago. Cars inspected yesterday were 260, showing quite a falling off.

Advices from the northern part of the belt indicate an unusually large percentage of the crop has been marketed, but there were advices from Iowa indicating continued free marketings. Cables were unchanged to 1d off on spot corn. Shipments from Argentina for the week were liberal, being estimated at 3,400,000 bu.

Oats Have Big Rally.

The oats market was again a favorite with local traders, who bought freely and helped cause advances for the day of 1@1¼c. Commission houses led by Barrell, Lamson, Van Ness, Hulburd-Warren-Chandler, and Slaughter, also were good buyers. The market reacted quickly from the overselling of the previous day. There were reports of big sales for export at the seaboard, but, on the other hand, some of the seaboard houses said there was a slow demand.

Cash prices were steady to ½c higher and there were sales of 135,000 bu. Country offerings were light. The inspection yesterday showed 150 cars in and primary arrivals were 606,000 bu, against 523,000 bu a year ago.

Hog Products Prices Steady.

The feature of the provisions trade was the continued buying of pork by outsiders. This demand offset the free local selling as well as the selling credited to packers. The lard and ribs were helped by the pork demand, and prices closed about steady.

Hog prices were steady to 5c off and receipts were 26,000, with 23,000 for today. Western receipts were 122,200, against 70,800 a year ago. Cash lard at Liverpool was 1s lower and hams were 6d off. Receipts of products were 24 cars and shipments were 72 cars.

Rye Quiet and Steady.

Rye was quiet and steady at $1.30 for No. 2 and No. 3. Receipts were 3 cars.

Barley was steady to a shade easier, with sales of malting at 84@88½c; feed 80@83½c, and screenings, 78@81c. Receipts, 20 cars.

Timothy seed was dull and easy at $7.40 bid for March and $5.75@7.50 for cash. Cloverseed was firm at $10.00@15.00 for cash.

Duluth flax closed ⅜c higher at $1.90¼ for May. Receipts, 9 cars. Winnipeg closed ½c lower for May, $1.88¼, and 1¼c lower for July at $1.89. Receipts, 18 cars.

NEWS AND GOSSIP OF BOARD OF TRADE.

Bullish reports were received from the east in regard to cash wheat sales. Offerings were said to have been all taken. One New York news bureau forwarded reports to the effect about 4,000,000 bu wheat had been sold abroad so far this week, mostly to Italy, municipalities in that country buying wheat which they will sell at cost. One report from Kansas City said export sales late on Wednesday and yesterday were about as large as at any time on the crop. Local exporters did a good business late on Wednesday, and there were fair sales yesterday. Local sales were 250,000 bu, and Kansas City reported 300,000 bu taken, No. 2 hard there selling at the highest price on the crop. So far as could be learned there was no increase in country sales, but 1,250,000 bu No. 1 northern was reported bought at Minneapolis to come to Chicago. Minneapolis still has a good stock of wheat which is selling at comparatively low prices compared to Chicago wheat.

Figures showing the farm reserve stocks of oats, together with the amount in country elevators, are said to be extremely bullish. There has been an unusually heavy movement of oats, and the primary receipts are still running ahead of the big movement of last year. In the west and southwest stocks are light. The enormous primary movement has resulted in big accumulations of stocks at the leading market centers, and especially at Chicago. Early in the fall there were daily reports of big export sales, but clearances so far have failed to fulfill the promise of a big export movement at that time. Many speculators and investors are of that opinion, as the buying demand is broadening for both corn and oats.

Cash corn sales were at the same quotations to ½c lower than the sales of the previous day, and oats prices were unchanged to ½c higher. The eastern reports were confusing, some of the messages indicating enormous sales had been made, while other reports were directly to the contrary. The corn demand was moderate both for export and domestic account. Local houses reported moderate offerings of corn, as a rule, from the country, and oats purchases also were light. Kansas City reports said that grain men back from the northwest said 65 per cent of the corn in the northern part of the belt had been marketed. Local sales were 265,000 bu corn and 135,000 bu oats.

Bartlett-Frazier's Liverpool correspondent wrote under date of Jan. 20: "There has been a little freer offering of Argentine wheat, but as shipment by March 15 costs 5 6-9 for Rosafe wheat weighing 62 lbs, and all March shipment 5 6-6, it cannot be said that Plate wheat is at all competing with America. World's shipments continue well under requirements and our stocks are decreasing. As there will be no volume of Argentine wheat arriving here before April at the earliest we are entirely dependent meanwhile upon America for supplies."

McKenna-Rodgers had a New York message saying rains were threatened again in Argentina and that it was feared the wheat crop would suffer materially from the continued wet weather, as corn did last year. The facilities for country storage in Argentina are inadequate, as a rule, and recent reports from Buenos Aires have indicated the wheat was grading poorly.

A Liverpool cable was received by a Boston grain export house saying oats were unsalable. Broomhall's early cable said the demand continued heavy, with prices advancing sharply. Argentine surplus is about half as large as estimated early, and most of the American shipments have gone to the continent.

Argentine shipments for the week were estimated at 1,600,000 bu wheat and 3,400,000 bu corn. For the corresponding week last year shipments were 1,808,000 bu wheat and 1,890,000 bu corn.

"The 7c hog refuses to be neutral or to capitulate, and he looks permanent," said E. W. Wagner. "All this short food supply uproar from Europe can only mean that provisions are an investment."

Theodore Sedlmayr made application for membership on the board of trade and memberships were posted for transfer by Irving D. Updike, Charles H. Wacker, and Arthur J. Stevens.

Bulls on oats call attention to the fact the world's oats crop of 1914 was 400,000,000 to 500,000,000 bu short of recent averages, and that Russia's huge surplus is still unavailable.

England, France, and Italy have taken about 80 per cent of the wheat and flour exports from July 1 to Feb. 1, the total being 315,000,000 bu, against 392,000,000 bu a year ago.

Commission houses again were big buyers of May and July pork, and this commodity appears to be again becoming a speculative favorite.

Several cargoes of Pacific coast wheat have been bought for Australia. It is estimated upwards of 6,000,000 bu will be needed by that country.

A board of trade membership sold yesterday at $2,900 net to the buyer, and one sold Wednesday at $2,850.

Estimated receipts for today: Wheat, 57 cars; corn, 260 cars; oats, 150 cars; rye, 3 cars; barley, 20 cars; hogs, 23,000 head.

IN BOSTON STOCK MARKET.

BOSTON, Mass., Feb. 4.—The Boston market offered more features today than did the New York market. Mohawk, Quincy, Osceola, and Old Dominion were in excellent demand and strong. Mohawk rose to 60, a gain of 4½ points. Quincy was marked up three points to 56, and Osceola and Old Dominion rose 1⅝ and 2⅜ points, respectively. Allouez, North Butte, and Copper Range made a good showing on moderate dealings. Butte and Superior went above 48, establishing a new high record. Pronounced weakness developed in United Fruit, which fell three points to 116. New Haven and Boston and Maine dropped more than a point each. The changes in other New England railroad issues were small. Elevated was up a fraction. Call money ruled at 3@3½ per cent; time loans, short dates, 3¾@4¼ per cent; time loans, six months, 4@4½ per cent; time loans, one year, 4¼@4½ per cent.

NEW INTERESTS IN REALTY MART

Two Wealthy Novices in Real Estate Back of Big Subdivision Deal.

FORTY ACRES INVOLVED

An important acre deal, together with several large and medium sized apartment house deals, a notable sale of vacant in Barry avenue, and a particularly interesting transaction in vacant on the nort side of Buena avenue extending east to the lake featured yesterday's real estate market developments. The Buena avenue deal, which was negotiated by J. L. Beckwith and Willis & Frankenstein, covers 165 feet front and 139 along the water line, and includes the construction of a high class private club building to cost $100,000.

The acre deal comprises a tract of 40 acres, fronting 1,774.6 feet on West North avenue and 1,886 feet east and west front on Ridgeland avenue, and it was sold by Agnes E. Ducey and Mary A. McMillen to Mark F. Madden, trustee, for a reported consideration of $68,000, which is at the rate of $1,700 an acre.

An important and significant feature of the transaction is the fact that Mr. Madden is said to have taken title for two Chicago business men of large means who heretofore have not been in the real estate market as investors.

Will Be Subdivided.

The property, which is intersected by Ridgeland avenue north and south, is to be subdivided and placed on the market. The figure at which the property sold would have been considered high a short time ago, and its sale now indicates the growing activity in acres, for which a rather slow market was had during the greater part of last year, following the opening of the European war. Madden Bros. were the brokers in the deal and will have charge of the subdividing and marketing of the property.

A large north side transaction in high grade apartment house property was the sale by William H. Barry to Eugene Garey of the eighteen apartment building on a lot 100x125 feet at the southwest corner of Beacon street and Sunnyside avenue.

The consideration is withheld, but the sale is subject to an incumbrance of $56,250. Mr. Barry took in part payment a farm of 640 acres in Kimball county, Neb., clear. Krause, Beak & Co. represented Mr. Garey and O. P. Curran Jr. represented Mr. Barry.

Big Flat Building Sold.

A big stove heated apartment building on Sedgwick street figured in the day's market news. It comprises the five story building at 859-863 Sedgwick street on 75x125 feet of land, and it contains forty apartments, having a gross annual rent of $6,200. It has been sold by C. O. Lindquist to Dr. Charles E. Boynton for an indicated consideration of $55,000, made up of $35,000 incumbrance and $20,000 paid for the equity. Mr. Lindquist took in part payment several small parcels. Holmgren & Lindquist were the brokers.

A big south side deal covers the property on Woodlawn avenue at the southeast corner of Fifty-second street, lot 86x150 feet, with apartment house improvements, which was sold by Wheaton Augur to Milton Davis. A consideration of $10 appears in the transfer, but an incumbrance of $37,500 and $42,500 paid for the equity indicates a consideration of $80,000.

New North Side Residence.

The North Shore Land syndicate has sold to William R. Stirling eighty feet north frontage, with a depth of 165 feet, on Barry avenue, between Sheridan road and the Lake Shore drive, in the new exclusive north side residence district. The consideration is withheld, but it is reported to have been in the neighborhood of $25,000. It is stated that Mr. Stirling plans to improve with an attractive residence. Callistus S. Ennis & Co. were the brokers.

The six apartment building at 5730-32 Winthrop avenue has been sold by Harvey C. Clover to William E. Lehmann at a reported consideration of $30,000. Mr. Lehmann gave in part payment a four apartment building at 1842 Rowe street and two two apartment buildings at 1957-59 Howe street, which have been resold. E. M. Du Vall of Ballard, Rowe & Whitman were the brokers.

Forty-fourth Street Deal.

The six flat building on Forty-fourth street, 186 feet west of St. Lawrence avenue, with 50x113 feet of ground, north front, was sold by Michael Conlon to Oscar E. Chase for an expressed consideration of $18,000 subject to an incumbrance of $13,000. The property subsequently was sold by Mr. Chase to Gustav A. Kley for an indicated consideration of $24,000. Ballard, Rowe & Whitman were the brokers.

Charles A. Nichols has purchased from William Pickel the property in Malden avenue 119 feet south of Sunnyside avenue, lot 59x150 feet, east front, with flat improvements, for an indicated consideration of $26,900, there being an incumbrance of $21,900.

Harry Weinberg has sold to Abraham L. Levinson the property at 5613-15 South boulevard, Austin, for a reported consideration of $22,000, subject to an incumbrance of $12,000. S. H. Newman represented both parties.

La Salle Street Sale.

The property at 1244-46 North La Salle street, east front, 44x162 feet, improved with two three story buildings containing six flats, has been sold by James P. Casey to Emanuel Provov for a reported consideration of $20,000, subject to an incumbrance of $17,000. C. A. Crowe Jr. of Crowe Bros. & Co. was the broker.

The six apartment building at 6029-31 Champlain avenue has been sold by P. A. Johnson to Henry C. Stirn and Robert F. Schenck for a reported consideration of $20,000, the seller taking in part payment the three flat building at 1020 East Forty-sixth street, valued at $10,000. Edgar R. Wolfe of R. W. Wolfe & Co. was the broker.

H. G. Howard & Co. have sold for Dr. W. C. Faust to Timothy Collins the three flat building at 4428 Prairie avenue, lot 33x165 feet, for $17,000, subject to $11,000, property on Greenwood avenue valued at $8,000 being given in part payment.

TEXAS OUSTS CRANE FIRM.

Austin, Tex., Feb. 4.—The Crane company, one of the largest plumbing supply houses in the country, has agreed to pay a $75,000 fine and withdraw from business in Texas, it was announced today. This is a compromise of a state suit for several million dollars' penalties against the Crane company for alleged violation of Texas anti-trust laws. The company's Texas headquarters are at Dallas.

ASHLAND-TWELFTH BANK DEPOSITORS SUFFERING.

Murmurs of indignation at the delay in winding up the affairs of the Ashland-Twelfth State bank, one of the chain that was closed with the failure of the La Salle Street bank last summer, are again being heard.

Destitution and suffering which has been caused by the tieup of the savings accounts of many of the poor people of the neighborhood has caused a meeting of depositors to be called for tonight at Netherwood hall, Taylor street and South Marshfield avenue. It is hoped that a representative of the attorney general's office will be on hand to explain why there has not been speedier action on the petition for a receiver.

Hiram T. Gilbert, attorney for the receiver of the La Salle Street bank, blames the delay in the Ashland-Twelfth case on the difficulty of serving summonses on the stockholders, some of whom, he said, could not be found. He predicted that the case would be up next month.

PLEASURE TRAVEL PICKS UP.

Railroad managers of lines touching Florida and gulf winter resorts assert the upturn in business conditions is evidenced by the heavy increases in pleasure travel in the southern states. December records showed considerable improvement and the increases in January were even more marked.

The Southern railroad and connecting lines recently have been obliged to operate nine extra sections of regular trains, sixty-two extra Pullman cars, and seven extra coaches.

J. V. FARWELL CO. REVIEW.

The John V. Farwell company weekly review of the wholesale dry goods trade says:

"The market on staple cotton goods continues strong, with an advancing tendency. The leading line of New England cotton blankets are sold up by the mill to September and withdrawn from sale. Other New England makes are closely sold up. All wool blankets are being offered to the trade at near last year's prices.

"Retailers now in the market are buying with confidence, showing that the time of low price of wool dress goods is past and that they are now facing a strong and steadily advancing market. All manufacturers of wool dress goods have made their prices and booked large orders with practically no foreign competition. Broadcloths for fall are selling well at advanced prices.

"This seems to be a season of quick changes in ideas regarding styles of wool dress fabrics. Beginning with a steady demand for piece dyed staple colors, then followed coverts, putty and sand shades in plain and checked fabrics, and now comes the call for striking black and white effects. The consequent sharp demand for black and white fabrics shows that the trade looks with favor upon the last departure from staple colors. This popularity for black and white is also being reflected in increased demand for embroideries, black and white laces, linweave, and other white spring fabrics. Higher grade printed draperies, such as cretonnes and dimities, are having a ready for spring sale. Baby bonnets, children's hats, and parasols are selling well."

Hog prices at Chicago yesterday declined 5@10c under receipts of 24,000 head, but packers took hold with vim and the market closed with a strong upward tendency. The bulk of the supply cleared at $7.05@7.15, with many loads in the late trade selling at $7.20, the day's best price. The Anglo-American company led the buying, with purchases of 5,500 head, while other packers combined took 17,200, cleaning up all offerings.

The market for heavy beef steers had a bad collapse, sales being made at a decline of 25@30c from Wednesday's best prices. Lighter weight steers sold at a reduction of 15@25c and even yearlings had to be cashed at reduced figures. The best of the latter went over the scales at $9.00@9.10. Cows and heifers were unchanged and calves made strong rates, topping at $12.00.

Sheep and yearlings advanced 10@15c to new high levels for the season, topping at $7.25 for wethers, $8.50 for yearlings, and $6.50@6.60 for western ewes. Lambs held on a steady basis and topped at $9.35 for prime western offerings. Receipts of 3,000 head were well taken.
